CAPTURED ROBBER ON 'MOST WANTED' LIST; POLICE FIND GANG'S TWO CARS

He Is Fred W. Bowerman, 60, With 20-Year Record — Oldsmobiles Parked on South Side—Hunt on for Fugitive.

One of two bank robbers shot and wounded seriously yesterday in the dramatic gun battle when police interrupted an attempted holdup of the Southwest Bank was identified today as Fred W. Bowerman, whose name was added last month to the Federal Bureau of Investigation list of "10 most wanted men." He was admitted to City Hospital as John W. Frederick.

Bowerman, a "specialist" in armed robbery, is wanted in the $53,000 holdup of a South Bend, (Ind.) bank last September 19 in which an employe was shot and wounded. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which made the identification throught fingerprints, said Bowerman is 60 years old and has a criminal record dating back more than 20 years. He served two terms in Illinois penitentiaries for robberies and once admitted commuting between his home in Niles, Mich., and Chicago to commit robberies.

Two Autos Recovered.

Police and Federal agents today intensified their search for the fourth member of the robber gang after recovering two automobiles which the robbers planned to use in their get-away.

A stolen green Oldsmobile, in which the missing robber drove away from the gun battle, was found early today on a parking lot on Northrup avenue, about six blocks from the bank. The machine had been reported stolen last Wednesday by Joseph Deckley, 8350 Fairbanks Drive, Berkeley. It was equipped with an Illinois license plate, stolen from an East Side garage.

The second machine, also an Oldsmobile, was recovered by Lynch Street District police parked beside an industrial plant on Lemp avenue, near Shenandoah avenue. An Illinois license found underneath a seat had been issued to Frank B. Vito, Chicago hijacker and former convict, who shot and killed himself when police closed in on the robbers in the bank, at Kingshighway and Southwest avenue at 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

A stolen Missouri license tag was displayed on the machine, which contained clothing apparently belonging to Vito.

Vito, 25 years old, who had served two prison terms and was at liberty on bond in a $40,000 liquor theft last September, was heard to shout, "I won't take a pinch." As several of the terrified employes and customers of the bank watched, he fired a bullet into his head, and was dead when police entered the bank.

In City hospital is Police Cpl. Robert Heitz, 41 years old, one of the first policemen to respond to the holdup alarm. He was struck in the head and neck by shotgun slugs fired by Bowerman. The third robber, shot in the back as police prevented the gang from making off with $141,000 in currency scooped up from cashiers' cages, is William Scholl, 28 years old. He also is in City hospital.

Also in hospitals are Miss Eva Hamilton, a secretary, 5528 Pershing avenue, who was used as a shield by Bowerman in his attempt to escape through police bullets, and Patrolman Robert E. Richter, Magnolia Avenue District.

Miss Hamilton fractured both wrists as she fell to the sidewalk in front of the bank as Bowerman was shot at close range by Patrolman Melburn Stein.

—United Press Telephoto.

Surpasses Feats of La-Follette and Long in Dramatizing His Opposition to Bill.

(Text of Eisenhower Letter on Page 2A.)

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) — Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.), Oregon, ended a 22-hour 26-minute speech at 10:06 a.m. today, having talked steadily for a longer period than any other Senator in history.

Morse spoke at the great length to dramatize his opposition to a bill declaring states have title to oil-bearing offshore lands within their historic boundries.

His record far surpassed the almost legendary feats of Robert M. (Fighting Bob) LaFollette and Huey P. (The Kingfish) Long.

Opponents of the bill scored a temporary victory when Majority Leader Taft (Rep.), Ohio, reversing his previous stand, moved to lay aside the bill for not to exceed an hour. This was to permit the Senate to pass a bill extending rent controls due to expire Thursday.

Lift for Opponents.

Actually the respite was only 36 minutes and the Senate went back to the submerged lands measure. But it gave a lift to the opponents when Taft yielded to his oft-repeated assertion that he would not agree to set aside the bill for any other legislation.

Earlier President Eisenhower had given a boost to supporters of the bill with a request for prompt action and an expression of deep concern over the delay of his legislative program in the Senate.

After action on the rent control extension, Senator Murray (Dem.), Montana, took the floor for another speech against the state ownership of off-shore oil lands within their historic boundaries.

Senator Morse thanked his colleagues for sticking with him through the night. Few did, but he was grateful to them.

Vice President Nixon and most Senators stayed away. Nixon arrived at 8:25 a.m. to relieve Senator Carlson (Rep.), Kansas, who had presided. Morse greeted the Vice President with a "Good Morning."

Morse Sips Tea.

At 9:40 a.m., Morse, who had been talking for 22 hours, sipped tea brought in by an administrative assistant.

LaFollette's Stint.

LaFollette, Wisconsin Progressive, held the Senate floor for 18 hours, 23 minutes in 1908 in a battle over a currency bill, but numerous time-consuming quorum calls cut several hours off his speaking time.

The late Huey Long set a mark of 15 hours 35 minutes in 1935 with a debate over a national industrial recovery extension bill.

There was some dispute over whether Long's speech had been interrupted by one quorum call,

CHURCH PERMITS STRAPLESS GOWNS, PASTOR RESIGNS

OXFORD, N.C., April 25 (AP) —A controversy over strapless evening gowns at church weddings has led to the resignation of the pastor of the West Oxford Baptist Church.

A. D. Dillehay, chairman of the church's board of deacons, said yesterday the Rev. Homer Nichols resigned after his congregation had voted to permit a wedding at the church May 17 at which the bride, Miss Ruth Hedgepeth, had planned for her attendants to be attired in strapless gowns.

Dillehay said the pastor had notified Miss Hedgepeth, a public school teacher who will marry Morris Ray Blackwell, that the gowns were against church policy. The matter was referred to a congregational meeting Sunday and the congregation, informed that it was too late for the bride to change the costumes, voted approval. The pastor's resignation followed, Dillehay added.

WASHINGTON LINGO DEFINED FOR THOSE WHO SPEAK ENGLISH

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) —Visitors from back home have had so much difficulty with government language that Representative Hunter (Rep.), California, today sent out a newsletter with these definitions:

Co-ordinator—"A chap who has a desk between two expediters."

To expedite — "To compound confusion with commotion."

Consultant — "Anyone more than 50 miles away from home."

Implement a program — "To hire more people and expand the office."

WILSON FORGETS NATO PASS, RULE BROKEN TO LET HIM IN

PARIS, April 25 (AP)—Unusually tight security measures were relaxed a wee bit this morning at the meeting of NATO ministers when Charles E. Wilson, United States Secretary of Defense arriving just in time for the final day's meeting, found he had forgotton his identity card.

After a brief consultation, the red-faced Wilson was let into the conference room, despite a strict rule that even the top-ranking ministers must show their passes before they are allowed to enter.

FIRE CAPTAIN ANSWERS CALL, CAN'T SAVE FATHER'S HOME

WARWICK, Va., April 25 (AP) — A sickening feeling gripped fire Capt. J. R. Bateman as his fire vehicle neared a flaming structure yesterday. He recalled that seven years ago when he answered an alarm on the particular street, it was his father's house afire.

Yesterday, just as on that cold morning in February 1946, his father's home was ablaze—and burned to the ground this time.

Daylight Time Starts Tomorrow; Clocks to Be Set Ahead an Hour

At 2 a.m. tomorrow morning it will be 3 a.m. as daylight saving time comes into effect in St. Louis and across the nation.

Speaking in terms of daylight saving time, taverns in St. Louis will be permitted to serve drinks until 2:30 a.m. on weekdays and until 1 a.m. on Sundays.

Airlines operating from Lambert-St. Louis Field will issue schedules based on daylight saving time. Bus and train schedules, however, will remain on standard time. Radio stations and Post-Dispatch Station KSD-TV will operate on daylight time and newspaper schedules will be printed accordingly.

Those who retire early tonight should set their clocks one hour ahead when they go to bed in order to wake at the right time Sunday. St. Louis will return to standard time Sept. 27.

SENATE APPROVES BILL TO EXTEND RENT CONTROLS UNTIL JULY 31

Eisenhower Expected to Sign Measure Promptly — 5,600,000 Units Affected, Including Those in City.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) —The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill to extend rent controls to July 31 in areas which now have them. Present authority for rent controls ends next Thursday.

About 5,600,000 dwelling units are affected. Of these, about 4,300,000 are in communities which voted last year to continue the controls under federal legislation. Another 1,300,000 are in areas designated as critical because of the growth of defense activities. In these tightly-defined "critical defense" areas rent ceilings will remain in effect until April 30, 1954.

The House had passed the measure on Thursday.

The Senate action by voice vote came after leaders agreed to lay aside temporarily a submerged lands ownership bill which has been under debate for more than three weeks.

Republicans and Democrats agreed to the suspension, which Republicans leaders had said earlier they would not grant for anything. The measure was approved with only half an hour of debate.

Capehart Comments.

Chairman Homer E. Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, of the Banking Committee said he was informed today by the White House that the three-month extension "substantially complies" with President Eisenhower's wishes. The President had asked a five-month extension to give state and local governments a chance to pass their own rent control regulations.

The President is expected to sign the rent bill promptly.

Senator Bush (Rep.), Connecticut, started to offer an amendment to change the House bill to a five-month extension, but he withheld it at the urging of two strong control supporters, Senators Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, and Lehman (Dem.), New York.

Douglas said three months "is the best we can get because if we insist on more, the House, which is rural dominated, may not give us anything." Any change by the Senate would have sent the bill back to the House.

Lehman said it was "not worth-while to make the fight for the extra two months" and risk having controls expire entirely.

Provisions of Bill.

As sent to the White House, the bill would:

1. Continue present federal ceilings through July 31 in 1300 communities. They include 31 cities of more than 100,000. Some of the cities are St. Louis, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cleveland, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Cincinnati and Memphis. About 4,260,000 of the federal ceilings are covered.

2. Continue controls through April 30, 1954 in "critical defense areas" as defined by new and tighter requirements. Controls would end July 31 in present critical defense areas which do not meet the new definition of "critical." The new definition would include only communities where the Defense Department or the Atomic Energy Commission have growing installations. Defense business carried on by private companies no longer would help a community qualify as critical.

3. End controls immediately on all dwellings built or converted after Feb. 1, 1947, in critical defense areas. Such new housing is already exempt in other communities.

4. Abolish the office of rent stabilization July 31. The President would give some other federal agency authority to administer the remaining controls in critical defense areas.

SERVES ON JURY 3 DAYS, ADMITS HE'S JUST A 'VOLUNTEER'

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 25 (AP) — A man who served on a jury for three days startled criminal court officials yesterday with the admission that he was merely a court-room spectator who "volunteered for duty."

Asked how he got in the jury box, Robert Samples, a 43-year-old electric company employe, told Deputy Clery Winona Morgan:

"I thought Judge (L. D.) Miller was looking for volunteers, and since he seemed to be having such a hard time getting people to serve 'without prejudice' — I just volunteered."

Judge Miller commented that he was sure Samples was an honest man and that it was an honest mistake. But, he added, "It's a matter that might become a serious question on a motion for a new trial."

NATO AIR, GROUND BUILDUP REPORTED

Council Says Russia Has Not Yet Shown a Basic Change in Its Threat to the Security of Free World.

PARIS, April 25 (AP)—The 14 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization told Soviet Russia today that it has not yet displayed any fundamental change in Communism's threat to the security of the free world.

In their final communique on the Atlantic Council sessions here, the ministers of the NATO members said they would welcome "genuine efforts to reduce international tension."

They said the Communist attack on Laos in French Indochina was only the latest example of policies responsible for aggressive warfare in several parts of the world.

Boost in Strength Reported.

The communique was issued at the conclusion of a three-day session at which, it was reliably reported, the Atlantic Council voted to boost NATO's air strength by 2700 planes and its ground forces by 10 divisions.

The new plane program will boost NATO's air strength to a total of 5600 planes by the end of 1954. The additional aircraft will include trainers as well as jet and all-weather fighters.

The 10 new divisions, four of them intended to be ready to fight and six of them in reserve, will increase NATO's land forces to 60 divisions.

However, among the six reserve divisions may be a number of regimental combat teams which would be attached to existing first line divisions.

The communique, coming only a few hours after a lengthy statement of Russian views in Pravda, appeared to challenge the Soviets to substitute performance for peace hints in settling cold war issues.

The communique said the NATO nations were fully agreed in their appraisal of the current international situation.

"This agreement," said the communique, "included their estimate of the recent Soviet moves and gestures. To the extent that these moves and gestures are proved by events to be genuine efforts to reduce international tension, they will be welcomed by member governments, whose policy has always been to seek every opportunity for world peace.

"Nevertheless, the council found that there had not yet in fact been any change in the fundamental threat to the security of free peoples.

Red Might Is Noted.

"The most striking evidence of this continuing threat is the huge and constantly strengthened military force maintained by those nations whose policies have been responsible for the present tension, and who are still promoting aggressive war in several parts of the world.

"The most recent example is the extension of hostilities in Laos (Indochina). This serious development has increased the burden of France in the struggle against aggression and has given rise to deep concern on the part of other member governments."

For this reason, said the council announcement, the NATO members found their policy of collective defense, "fully justified," and stated their confidence that "this policy, continued with firmness and patience, will create a basis for a just settlement of unresolved international problems."

On NATO plans for the future, the communique stated:

"The council agreed on long and short programs for NATO and established a firm military program for 1953 and a provisional program for 1954.

"In addition to the forces which Greece and Turkey are contributing, there will be a notable increase in the size of the forces being assigned to the NATO supreme commander and considerable improvement in their effectiveness."

Agreement on Financing.

Proceeding to the question of financing and the economic impact of the NATO program on its member nations, the communique said:

"An agreement was reached not only on common financing . . . but also on a cost-sharing formula which will cover future programs to be submitted by supreme commanders for a three-year period beginning in 1954, involving the expenditure of up to £250,000,000 ($5,200,000,000).

"These programs will include a wide range of projects such as airfields, telecommunications, naval bases, port facilities, pipelines and radar installations.

"The council gave most of its attention to the various economic and financial factors affecting defense efforts. It was agreed the development of sound national

PRESIDENT PREFERS ACTION BY SOVIETS TO EDITORIAL

Welcomes 'Milder Tone' of Pravda Comment but Doesn't Regard It as Substitute for Official Approach.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) —The White House said today Russia's new peace statement may be a "first step toward something concrete" in settling cold war problems but that the free world will continue to wait for the definite steps that must be made if the Soviet leaders are sincerely interested in a co-operative solution to world problems."

The statement was read to reporters by press secretary James C. Hagerty as a comment on today's declaration in the Communist newspaper Pravda.

"I have talked with the President about the Pravda editorial," Hagerty said. "Its milder tone is a welcome change from the usual vituperation against the United States and the free world.

"It is also significant that the world-wide interest in the President's (April 16) peace speech caused the Soviet leaders to reprint it in full for the Russian people.

"Of course the Pravda editorial cannot be considered a substitute for an official action by the Soviet leaders.

"Maybe this editorial is a first step toward something concrete. If so the free world will continue to wait for the definite steps that must be made if the Soviet leaders are sincerely interested in a co-operative solution to world problems.

"If the Soviet leaders take such steps they will find the United States and the other free nations, as always, ready to work unceasingly for peace."

Hagerty issued the statement after conferring with some of the top policy making officials of the Eisenhower Administration.

A representative of Tass, the Soviet news agency, was among the correspondents present when the statement was given out.

CITY'S A-BOMB DEFENSE TEST CALLED SUCCESS

Some Rough Spots Should Be Corrected, Says Brig. Gen. Hardaway, Exercise Chief.

"Operation Wake Up," the civil defense exercise involving a paper atomic attack on St. Louis yesterday, generally was successful, but revealed some rough spots which should be corrected, Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway, acting civil defense director, said today.

"There was some weakness in the handling of messages and in other procedures," Gen. Hardaway said. "Reports from the field will be analyzed and a critique will be held next Friday, attended by representatives of the participating agencies, for discussion of the exercises."

He added that monthly drills are to be held from now on at the control center in the old mounted police station in Forest Park and that after installation of air raid sirens, scheduled for June, a practice air raid would be held with public participation.

Yesterday's exercise went unnoticed as far as the man on the street was concerned, with about 2000 representatives of 13 operating agencies active in the exercise. In addition, children in most public and parochial schools went through air raid drills.

At 2:15 p.m. Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, former civil defense director, who was at the control center, announced that the "bomb" had struck. Civil defense, police and fire squads swung into action.

As a matter of fact, the three Air Force planes playing the part of the bombers actually had passed over the city 15 minutes earlier, but this miscalculation was disregarded.

A realistic part of the exercise was played at Union Market, Broadway and Delmar boulevard, where water, electric power, steam, gas and ammonia refrigeration actually were cut off for a few minutes by pre-arrangement with tenants. The building is occupied by markets, a garage, bus terminal and restaurant.

Squads of the city utilities departments and of the public utilities hurried to the building and put the various services back into operation.

DUBLIN, April 25 (AP)—Sinn Fein, militant Irish nationalist group, today called on Irish cinema workers to bar the film of Queen Eliazbeth's coronation on June 2 from Irish movie theaters.

100 MORE ALLIES FREED, REDS TOP ORIGINAL QUOTA

Communist to Return 84, Including 13 G.I.s, Tomorrow as Full Truce Talks Resume.

PANMUNJOM, April 25 (AP)—Another 100 Allied prisoners—including a bonus number of Americans, British and Turks—were freed today as the Communists kept their promise to continue the exchange of sick and wounded captives beyond the original limit.

The Reds said they would free 13 more Americans and 71 disabled South Koreans tomorrow as truce negotiators return to this neutral zone for the first full dress armistice talks since last Oct. 8.

17 Americans.

Seventeen Americans, four British, four Turks and 75 South Koreans came back today, bringing the total to the 600 the Reds said they would exchange in six days. But of the total:

136 were Americans—16 more than promised.

32 were British—12 more than promised.

15 were Turks—equal to the number of non-Koreans the Reds said they would exchange aside from British and Americans.

17 others included men from Colombia, Australia, Canada, South Africa, Greece, the Philippines and The Netherlands.

400 were South Koreans.

Both sides have said they would continue the exchange beyond the 600 originally pledged by the Reds and the 5800 promised by the United Nations Command.

Neither side has said how many more it will trade, but some observers have speculated the exchange could go on indefinitely.

The U.N. command proposed Friday that sick and wounded be exchanged continuously while hostilities continue. The Reds have not replied.

A South Korean lieutenant freed Saturday said the Communists hold "more than a thousand seriously sick and wounded South Korean prisoners," near Manpo in North Korea.

No Litter Cases.

There were no litter cases among the Americans, British and Turks exchanged Saturday. Some limped slightly, but otherwise all appeared to be in fairly good physical condition.

The Americans included a Navy fighter pilot, an Air Force enlisted man, four Marines and 11 soldiers.

The Navy flyer, Ens. Marvin S. Broomhead of Salt Lake City, was married six days before leaving for Korea in 1952. He said he crash-landed after his plane was

Mouse Bites Rattler to Death And Upsets Plans for a Movie

PASADENA, Calif., April 25 (AP)—Myrtle, a retiring rodent in the bacteriology laboratory at John Muir Junior College, is now known as Myrtle, the mighty mouse, because she bit a rattlesnake to death.

An instructor, Norman H. Wakeman, placed her in a cage as the intended meal of a four-foot diamond-back rattlesnake. Wakeman was fattening up the snake for the starring role in a movie short.

Myrtle took over the starring role and ruined Wakeman's movie —unless he rewrites the script and makes Myrtle the star. As the rattler coiled slowly, Myrtle reacted swiftly.

She put her best teeth forward, and right behind the rattler's head. The snake was dead in an instant and Myrtle went back to join the rest of the mice in another cage.

RUSSIANS REPLY TO EISENHOWER, WON'T BACK DOWN ON FOREIGN POLICY

By EDDY GILMORE.

MOSCOW, April 25 (AP)—The official newspaper of the Communist party declared today that Russia is ready to enter into "business like" discussions with the West to end great world controversies but made it clear the Soviet Union is not retreating anywhere along the line of foreign policy.

The Russian reply to President Eisenhower's April 16 foreign policy speech was made in a statement spread across the entire front page of Pravda. At the same time the text of the President's speech was printed on an inside page.

The whole tone of the Russian reply was sharp and argumentative. But it was not vituperative or belligerent.

Takes Issue With President.

It took issue with the President on several points and vigorously criticized Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. It definitely reaffirmed previous Soviet positions on many issues that have created tension with the West, and it took exception to certain principles of American policy.

But it declared:

"The Soviet Government will welcome any step of the American Government or any other government if it is directed at the friendly settlement of difficult questions," and added:

"This is evidence of the readiness of the Soviet side for serious business-like discussions of outstanding problems."

The statement particularly rejected what it said were pre-conditions laid down by Eisenhower for such discussions. It declared Russia was laying down no such pre-conditions, and was ready for discussion, but indicated it would have conditions to advance later on.

Points in Editorial.

While the statement closed no door to negotiations, and in fact appeared to seek to open the door a little wider, it made these points:

Korea. "The Soviet people invariably supported all steps directed toward concluding a just truce in Korea." The editorial held out Korea as the No. 1 example of deeds, not words, in favor of peace.

Germany. The Russians did not appear to move an inch from their original position.

Eastern Europe. "It would be queer to expect the Soviet Union to intervene in favor of the restoration of the reactionary regimes overthrown by these people" (in the satellites).

China. The statement made much of the fact that the President did not mention China. It said a policy which tried to turn back "steadily developing events" was doomed to failure, in other words declaring that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was finished. It said Communist China should be in the United Nations.

Aid for Poor Nations.

The Russians did not appear to take very seriously the President's suggestions that vast savings from rearmament, once peace is assured, could be turned to helping underdeveloped nations.

"A more pompous name for such a fund is not enough," said the statement, intimating that they considered his suggestion was for a new version of the Marshall Plan.

Although it was unsigned and entitled solely "on the address of President Eisenhower," it seemed clear from the wording that it was correct to call the article a statement by the leadership of the Soviet Union.

Answer to Eisenhower.

It was clearly and definitely an answer to President Eisenhower's April 16 speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

In that address, the President challenged the new Soviet Government to prove its peace overtures by agreeing to global disarmament and taking concrete steps to end the tensions that threaten World War, III.

Eisenhower said the first step toward peace must be the establishment of an honorable armistice in Korea, followed by political discussions leading to free elections in a United Korea. He also called for an end to Red aggression in Indochina and Malaya, an Austrian peace treaty, unification of Germany and independence for the East European satellites of Russia.

He challenged the new Soviet regime to end the cold war, join in a worldwide disarmament move and to spend the savings in a joint crusade against human poverty and need.

Eisenhower said the alterna-

ECONOMIC AID CUT FOR EUROPE, MORE FOR ORIENT URGED BY BUSINESS MEN

End of MSA, Granting Full Control of Programs to State Department Suggested After On-the-Spot Survey.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—A team of 55 American business men has advised the Eisenhower Administration to slash economic assistance to Western Europe and increase it to the Communist-threatened Far East.

The business leaders also have urged that the State Department be given complete control over all foreign aid programs and that the existing Mutual Security Agency be abolished.

These views were given to Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen as part of a 4000-word report based on an on-the-spot survey of foreign aid operations in 14 countries.

The report, still classified as secret, concludes that American aid has accomplished its purpose of bettering economic conditions in Europe. A substantial cut-back is recommended for nearly all European countries, except West Berlin and divided Austria.

Funds for West Europe.

Congress appropriated $1,282,000,000 for "defense support" assistance to Western European nations in the fiscal year ending June 30. This money is used to buy machinery, raw material, food, fuel and other supplies to help dollar-short governments increase their military budgets.

The stepped-up economic aid to the Far East presumably would go to Formosa, the Philippines and the three Indochina states now battling against Communist-led rebel armies.

These were the only Far East areas visited by the business executives. In Europe, they toured Denmark, France, Western Germany, Greece, The Netherlands, Belgium, Italy, Turkey and Britain.

Informed officials said it appeared unlikely the Eisenhower Administration will heed the advice to turn over all aid duties to the State Department. Plans are reported under way, they said, to merge the Mutual Security Agency and the Technical Co-Operation Administration (Point IV) to consolidate foreign aid supervision.

Aim of Dulles.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is reported opposed to taking on the foreign aid duties now. His main aim, officials said, is to shed subsidiary operations, rather than to add to them, and leave the State Department to deal only with policy matters.

The business survey strongly recommends that separate foreign aid missions abroad be eliminated and that the United States ambassador in each country be given complete authority in carrying out American policy.

In this connection, the business men criticized the maintenance of four Americans with the rank of ambassador in Paris—one the regular envoy and the other three dealing with economic issues.

It is understood the business leaders urge steps to encourage the flow of private American capital overseas to replace Government grants.

Some of the business men are expected here May 7 to hear Stassen's report on what, if anything, is being done to implement their recommendations.

TRUMAN HOPES LIGHT IS PIERCING REDS' IRON CURTAIN

HONOLULU, April 25 (AP)—Former President Truman told a University of Hawaii audience yesterday he hoped "a ray of light" was piercing the Iron Curtain which might bring peace to the world.

The vacationing former Chief Executive made a plea for peace in an address after accepting an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from University President Gregg M. Sinclair.

In an apparent reference to recent Russian peace moves, he said:

"The free world wants only peace and happiness for all mankind. We hope that there is a ray of light penetrating the Iron Curtain, the slave curtain, so that we may have world peace . . . and world freedom."

Overnight Miracle Can't End Cold War, Says Eisenhower

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER exchanges a pleasant word with MRS. RICHARD NIXON, wife of the Vice President, as he appears at Republican women's conference which he addressed in Washington yesterday.

President Tells Republican Women Truth Must Be Held Up Patiently Before the World.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower said yesterday the cold war cannot be ended by any "miraculous overnight accomplishment."

The President added—in a remark which the White House later struck out of the official transcript of his talk—that it probably is a good thing there won't be any such spectacular development.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters he deleted President Eisenhower's ad lib comment because it had no particular significance and might be confusing.

Apparently the President's meaning was that there can be no durable peace until firm foundations have been established.

President Eisenhower spoke extemporaneously to 1200 Republican women at a luncheon winding up their two-day conference, held to organize party leaders for the 1954 congressional election.

The President said his policy is to establish "an America strong and unafraid, but nevertheless, conciliatory and friendly, and firm in this one belief: That all people want peace."

Asserting that "no miraculous overnight accomplishment can be expected," the President added: "Nor, indeed, would it probably be a good thing."

He went on to say that "trends must be set up, doctrines must be officially instilled, truth must be help up patiently before the world" until it is generally understood that decency and justice are more important than greed and power backed by military strength.

President Eisenhower said the general desire for peace is opposed only by "misguided governments" which believe that "only when they are surrounded by enemies may they keep their positions of power, or governments who because of their lack of understanding believe that every other government shares their own thirst for power."

"What we are trying to do," the President said, "is to show that America wants nothing from anyone else except the decency, the respect, the consideration that America herself is ready to accord to every other nation in full measure."

The Fifth Air Force, in its weekly summary, said two Allied planes — an F-84 Thunderjet and an L-6 light observation craft —were lost to ground fire during the week ending Friday night.

American Sabres destroyed one Red MIG, probably destroyed another, and damaged five others during that period, the Air Force said.

GUATEMALA SAYS 4 NEIGHBORS BACKED REVOLT THAT FAILED

GUATEMALA CITY, April 25 (AP)—The government charged at a trial here today that a thwarted military coup last month had the support of four neighboring Central American governments—El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic.

Introduced as evidence were purported confessions by a group of persons charged with leading the plot, which centered in Salama, Verapaz province, on March 29. A part of the town was seized by rebellious army cadets and the provincial governor was held for several hours until the Guatemalan army moved in. Two persons were killed in restoring order.

The prosecution said the accused rebels had confessed receiving aid from abroad. The defendants claimed the government had forced them to confess. They refused to acknowledge the statements.

Guatemala recently withdrew from the Organization of Central American States, charging her neighbors with forming an "agressive block" against her.

DAZED JET PILOT TALKED DOWN TO GROUND IN KOREA

SEOUL, April 25 (UP)—An American Thunderjet rocketed uncontrolled through North Korean skies for nearly an hour before its dazed pilot was talked down to a safe landing, the Fifth Air Force disclosed today.

The pilot, First Lt. Richard L. Spaulding of Ionia, Mich., was semi-conscious because of a defect in his oxygen supply. He could exert only partial control over the free-wheeling jet loaded with bombs.

Spaulding was en route to a bombing mission March 26 when he got lost from his flight. Without realizing it, he slipped into a "twilight zone" of consciousness.

Bell directed Spaulding to a target area in North Korea and instructed him to drop his bombs there before guiding the faltering pilot to a friendly field. Spaulding said he had no recollection of landing.

"It was as though I was in a dream," he said afterward.

NATO AIRPOWER AND GROUND FORCE BUILDUP REPORTED

economies and the increase of military forces should be pursued concurrently.

"In certain fields the establishment of long-term joint programs appeared to be the least costly and most efficient solution.

"It was on these lines that member governments and the international staff developed a method for preparing a correlated production.

Move for Effective Output.

"The object is both to insure that defense production undertaken by European countries within their own budgets is on the most effective lines and to make defense production in Europe most effective . . . NATO also is studying means of developing production in Europe of spare parts for maintenance."

The ministers also arranged to meet again in October.

In writing the communique, the ministers have several accomplishments to record.

Building, Aircraft Funds.

They voted approval of an $885,000,000 budget to finance military construction in the next four years. They approved contracts for building some $550,000,000 worth of aircraft in Europe. The United States will put up about half the money for the planes, spurring the aircraft procurement program and pumping needed dollars into the European economy.

The ministers agreed to put up a solid front of watchful waiting toward the current Russian peace mobilization. The NATO chiefs do not want to discourage any further gestures but they still do not feel that Russian moves up to now warrant any relaxation of the NATO posture of defense.

They agreed to give all possible encouragement to the European army treaty nations to get that organization finally approved and in operation as soon as possible. The ministers declared in a formal resolution that the pact must be ratified by its six member states as the best means of bringing key German troops into Western defense.

Joseph Bech, Luxembourg Foreign Minister, said he and the other five ministers who have signed the European army treaty will meet here May 12 to begin their study of the proposed six-nation political authority.

No Pessimism Expressed.

Yesterday's action of the West German Bundestrat (upper house) led to lots of discussion here, but there were almost no public expressions of pessimism.

Bundestrat voted, 20 to 18, to defer action on the proposed army treaty until the high court has passed on it. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer then said he would submit the treaty to the President of the republic for signing anyway because it has been approved by the lower house.

American, British and French foreign ministers, meanwhile scheduled a "Big Three" session in the French Foreign Ministry tonight, when all world problems confronting the West will come up for review. These include the situation in Indochina and how to handle a possible Russian call for a four-power meeting on Germany.

U.S. ROUTS ATTACK BY 500 REDS IN CENTRAL KOREA

200 Communsits Reported Killed or Wounded — 1370 Sorties Flown by Allies in Day.

SEOUL, April 25 (AP)—United States infantrymen, using bayonets, rifle butts and hand grenades, cut down about one-third of a 500- to 750-man Communist force that smashed against Allied lines in central Korea today.

Fifty Chinese attackers who jumped into the American trenches were wiped out. In all, nearly 200 Reds were killed or wounded in three hours of fighting, the Eighth Army said.

The rest of the Red attack force scurried for cover under withering fire from the United States Third Infantry Division.

The Reds hit an American outpost and nearby main line position just east of Jackson Heights about midnight.

In the air, Allied warplanes Friday marked up their third busiest single day of the Korean war. Jet and propeller-driven attackers smashed at the Communists with 1370 sorties (individual flights), turning Red ground targets into smoking ruins.

Sabre jets shot down one Communist MIG jet and damaged three more, the Air Force reported.

The battleship New Jersey pumped shells for eight hours Friday into the Red east coast city of Songjin. A Seventh Fleet communique called the raid perhaps "the most destructive of the war."

"The New Jersey's heavy guns knocked out three railway bridges, almost 400 yards of track, a tunnel facing, left two railway bridges unoperational and set off numerous secondary explosions in supply and ammunition storage areas," the communique said.

The Navy disclosed that three Marine enlisted men and one United States naval officer were wounded, probably by Red shell fire, on an island off Wonsan, Red east coast port city.

Three United States destroyers and a cruiser steamed to their rescue under heavy Red fire Thursday and evacuated one of the Marines. The others returned to duty. The warships apparently escaped without a scratch, a Navy spokesman said.

B-26 light bombers Friday night unloaded tons of high explosives and incendiary bombs on the Yonpo airfield near Hungnam, east coast city.

SOME CAPTIVE G.I.S TURNED INFORMER, FREED P.O.W. SAYS

TOKYO, April 25 (AP)—An American soldier freed Tuesday after almost two years in Communist prison camps said today some United States prisoners turned informer and "passed along to the Communists information on what other prisoners were talking about or planning."

"I guess some of them believed the Communist line. Some of them did it for the cigarettes. . . . They didn't care about their buddies," said Sgt. Orville R. Mullins of Covington, Ky.

He gave no names and did not say how many prisoners had turned informer.

"You had to watch your step. You had to be careful who you talked to and pick your friends," he added.

Mullins resting in an Army hospital here, said there were lots of Russians in North Korea—all riding in jeeps or other vehicles while the Chinese walked—and all dressed in snappy uniforms with epaulets and shiny boots.

SENATE'S ALL-NIGHT SESSION FIRST SINCE SEPTEMBER 1950

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—The marathon speech of Senator Morse (Ind.), Oregon, brought the first all-night session of the Senate since September 1950.

A fight over President Truman's veto of the Internal Security Act kept the Senate in session around the clock at that time. The Senate met at 11:30 a.m. Sept. 22 and did not recess until 5:23 p.m. the next day—29 hours and 53 minutes later.

Senator Langer (Rep.), Indiana, one of the Senators who unsuccessfully battled to uphold Truman's veto, collapsed during the 1950 session and was carried out on a stretcher.

REDS ADVANCING ON LAOS CAPITAL FROM TWO SIDES

Columns Moving From North and East—Battle Is Still to Be Joined in Plains.

By LARRY ALLEN.

HANOI, Indochina, April 25 (AP) — Communist-led Vietminh troops advancing across Laos aimed two invasion spearheads at the little kingdom's royal capital of Luang Prabang today.

One moved southward after crushing stubborn resistance from French and Laotian defenders at the mountain post of Muongngoi, in northern Laos, 60 miles from the capital.

The other force came from the east. It included rebel units that participated in the capture of Xiengkhouang, 90 miles southeast of Luang Prabang.

The French estimated an enemy column driving from the northwest was about five days from Luang Prabang. The distance is only 50 miles but progress is slow over the narrow mountain trails which pierce thick jungles and are cut by swift streams.

At the Jarres plain in the heart of Laos, enemy forces continued today to pump heavy mortar shells into French-Laotian defense positions. They have not yet attempted an infantry attack.

Third Invasion Column.

A third invasion column from the north, meanwhile, drew steadily closer to the plain, one of the chief French defensive positions. Their arrival might signal an assault on the French lines.

The movement of Vietminh troops westward from the plain sector, however, indicates their top objective is to capture Luang Prabang. The little town is the residence of 67-year-old King Sisavang Vong and is strategically located on the Mekong river.

The French and Laotians are rushing a buildup of the defenses of Luang Prabang and Vientiane, the administrative capital 140 miles farther south.

Capture of the two towns would give the Vietminh roughly all of Laos, one of the three Associated States of Indochina and a key region in the defense of the rest of southeast Asia against Communist aggression.

Two days of hammering by the Communist-led invaders finally broke the French resistance at Muongngoi. Reports said Muongngoi was "in flames" when the French gave it up to the rebels.

King Stays in Capital.

The French high command here denied reports that civilians were already pulling out of Luang Prabang. The King still was in the capital, having put off a trip to France for treatment of rheumatism when the Vietminh invaded his mountain kingdom from three sides.

French carrier-based planes and medium fighter - bombers continued to blast at enemy supply lines through cloudy skies and rain.

Capture of Luang Prabang would open the road for invasion of the kingdom of Cambodia, sister state of Laos and Viet Nam in the Associated States, and would threaten neighboring Thailand.

Conscious of this threat, the Thai Government announced it has decided to move 40,000 Indochinese residents of Thailand—most of whom are considered pro-Red—from the border area to the interior of the country. The authorities fear the Indochinese might become a fifth column aiding the Vietminh.

NICKEL PLATE STRIKE CALLED OFF, SECOND TIME IN MONTH

CLEVELAND, April 25 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today canceled a strike of 2300 members against the Nickel Plate Road and its Wheeling & Lake Erie division. It was the second time in a month the strike was called off.

Last midnight, six hours before the strike deadline, Common Pleas Judge Adrain D. Newcomb issued a temporary injunction restraining the walkout which would have made idle 16,000 employes of the 2200-mile rail system operating in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York.

A hearing on Judge Newcomb's order is scheduled Tuesday.

The Nickel Plate continued arrangements started earlier last night to divert freight to other lines. Its main business is in merchandise freight, much of it perishable foodstuff, and the W. & L.E., which it leases, hauls much coal.

No embargo was placed on shipments.

Mrs. Eisenhower Charms D.A.R.s By Thousands, a Few Go Away Mad

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a sore hand today after the biggest White House reception since the inauguration. She shook the hands of thousands of Daughters of the American Revolution yesterday.

About 4000 women turned up for the affair to honor the admission of Mrs. Eisenhower as a new member.

Just how many got a handshake from her is a touchy question. It seems Mrs. Eisenhower was so gracious about chatting with her guests there wasn't time for everybody to make it through the line.

Mrs. Eisenhower had said earlier that it would be "physically imposible" for her to greet everyone personally. But a few daughters who didn't get a handshake went away mad. And some others were disappointed to find that no refreshments are served at afternoon White House functions.

But the great majority were unanimous. To most of them Mrs. Eisenhower is "sweet" "precious," "charming," "darling" and "wonderful."

In the four hours it took D.A.R. members to file through the state dining room, nearly 20 women fainted outside and required first aid.

In a special resolution the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders' Union "deplored" Mrs. Eisenhower's action in "aligning herself to the D.A.R.," which it said opposed the President's policies.

Text of Eisenhower's Letter To Anderson on Tidelands

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP).

My Dear Senator Anderson:

I have received the letter signed by yourself and other Senators relative to S. J. Res. (Senate Joint Resolution) 13.

The Republican platform clearly stated, "we favor restoration to the states of their rights to all lands and resources beneath navigable inland and offshore waters within their historic boundaries."

During the past campaign on Oct. 13 I made the following statement:

"So let me be clear in my position on the tidelands and all submerged lands and resources beneath inland offshore waters which lie within historic state boundaries. As I have said before, my views are in line with my party's platform. I favor the recognition of clear legal title to these lands in each of the 48 states.

"This has been my position since 1948, long before I was persuaded to go into politics. . . .

"The Supreme Court has declared in very recent years that there are certain paramount federal rights in these areas. But the court expressly recognized the right of Congress to deal with matters of ownership and title.

Actions of Congress.

"Twice by substantial majorities, both houses of Congress have voted to recognize the traditional concept of state ownership of these submerged areas. Twice these acts of Congress have been vetoed by the President.

"I would approve such acts of Congress."

The next day, Oct. 14, I made specific reference to the state of Texas:

"Just 107 years ago, the United States Senate decided that the public lands of Texas were not worth ten million dollars . . . so the United States said to Texas: 'Keep your debts—and keep your lands. We don't want either.' And so the state of Texas paid off the ten million dollar debt of the Republic. It kept its 200,000,000 acres of lands—including the submerged area extending three marine leagues seaward into the Gulf of Mexico."

Position Same Today.

My position is the same today. It was further amplified by the Administration representatives in the hearings before the Senate and your committees considering the legislation.

I favor the prompt passage by the Senate of S.J. Res. 13 with any amendments the Senate may approve, not inimical to the principles which I have expressed. It has never been my belief that the several states should have any title to the lands beyond their historical boundaries on the continental shelf.

I hesitate to express an opinion on legislative procedure, but I am deeply concerned with the delay of the entire Administration program in the Senate of the United States.

However, let me make it clear that I am not criticizing the Senators who have views on this subject different from mine. I respect their sincerity and their right to vote as they think best.

Sincerely,

'PEACE DOVE' BACK HOME; HARVARD GAG LEFT RUSSIANS COLD

NEW YORK, April 25 (UP)—The Russian delegation to the United Nations yesterday gravely returned the 20-pound copper mascot of a Harvard humor magazine that the diplomats were duped into thinking was a "dove of peace" in a campus stunt.

eNither side thought there was anything funny about it.

The Harvard Lampoon's "sacred ibis" was presented to the Russians Monday by the Lampoon's campus rival, the Daily Crimson, as an American version of the famous Picasso peace dove. Lampoon representative John Goelet of Newport, R. I., spent half an hour explaining the situation yesterday to a Russian delegate to the U.N.

The ibis disappeared from its perch atop the roof last week. The Crimson, admitting nothing, arranged the solemn ceremony at United Nations headquarters to present the bird to the Russians. When Lampoon persident John Updike found out what had happened, he called the Russians and arranged the date for its return.

hit by Red anti-aircraft fire over northeast Korea Feb. 8, 1952, while he was flying from the carrier Valley Forge.

Everything was in readiness for the return of the top-level truce negotiators at 11 a.m. Sunday (8 p.m. Saturday, St. Louis time). Originally scheduled for Saturday, the meeting was postponed one day at the Communists' request.

Only one major issue stands in the way of an armistice. The U.N. Command refused to return some 50,000 Chinese and North Korean prisoners who have said they do not want to go home. The Communists have insisted on the return of all prisoners of war.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai proposed last month that prisoners who refuse repatriation be turned over to a neutral country pending a decision on their future. He made it clear, however, that the Communists expect all of them ultimately to return home.

No Change in Stand.

The U.N. Command, in agreeing to resume the truce talks, suggested Switzerland as the neutral, but re-emphasized that there can be no modification of its stand against forced repatriation. The talks were broken off last fall after failure to settle this point.

As the transfer of disabled prisoners continued Saturday, another 38 allied repatriates were flown from Korea to Japan for hospital treatment before returning to the United States.

Meanwhile, the U.N. Prisoner of War Command said Chinese prisoners on Cheju island have turned on Red agitators inside their stockades in recent days. Fifteen agitators were beaten so severely that three died later, the command said.

Pro-Communist and anti-Communist groups of prisoners have clashed frequently, but mostly Red strong-arm squads have had the upper hand.

For the third consecutive day South Koreans paraded the streets of Seoul and Pusan with banners protesting against any armistice before the Chinese are driven from Korea and North Korean Reds are disarmed.

Seoul walls and fences were plastered with crude signs reading:

"Don't be fooled by the Kremlin's peace offensive."

"Unification of all Korea or death."

"We will never stop fighting the Reds in Korea."

TWO BOMB BLASTS ROCK CLUB WHERE PERON WAS EARLIER

BUENOS AIRES, April 25 (UP)—Two bomb blasts early today damaged the big Circulo Militar army club where President Juan D. Peron earlier had attended the unveiling of a portrait of his late wife Eva.

The two powerful explosives went off two minutes apart about 2 a.m. in a garden outside the building in fashionable San Martin square. No one was believed to be in the club at the time, and there were no reports of casualties.

Peron narrowly missed death last March 2 when a bomb exploded as he walked through a railway station. Last week the swank Jockey Club was burned in pro - Peron demonstrations touched off by two bomb explosions at a political rally where Peron spoke.

Peron attended the unveiling ceremonies last night, accompanied by ministers of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

U.S. OIL PRODUCERS GROUP URGES LAW TO LIMIT IMPORTS

NEW ORLEANS, April 25 (AP) — Congressional legislation to limit imports of foreign oil was called for today by an oil association attorney.

Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said oil companies have failed to achieve co-operation in limiting imports and congressional action is needed.

The spokesman for 15,000 domestic oil producers told delegates to the spring meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission that foreign oil is ruining state conservation programs.

Oil production allowables were cut back recently in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Kansas at the same time oil imports were rising to record highs, Brown said.

COURT CLERKS FIND 1918 BANK SLIP; MAY BE WORTH DOUBLE

Spring cleaning of the vaults in the Circuit Clerk's office in the Civil Courts Building has turned up two profitable curiosities—a bank deposit slip which may have doubled in value since 1918, and a $50 World War I Liberty Bond.

Cashiers found the time deposit slip, apparently a remainder from distribution of an estate long settled, and turned it over to Circuit Clerk Phelim O'Toole.

Its value of $152.32 when deposited in the old National Bank of Commerce may have doubled with accrued interest, and O'Toole intends to get a court order to collect the amount due from the successor bank, the Mercantile Trust Co.

STRENGTH NEEDED IN RED DEALS, SAYS BEDELL SMITH

Won't Reject Chance Kremlin Now Acting in Good Faith, Under Secretary Asserts.

DURHAM, N. H., April 25 (AP)—Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith cautioned today that, regardless of Soviet peace overtures, Russia will live up to agreements only "if our negotiating position has solid strength behind it."

Smith, former Ambassador to Moscow, said that under other circumstances Soviet commitments are likely to be violated "before the ink is dry on the document."

He expressed belief that recent Soviet conciliatory moves were largely a reaction to the western defense buildup and said they represented the eighth time since 1919 that the Kremlin has reversed its attitude toward this country.

"But we certainly will not reject a chance that the Kremlin is now preparing to negotiate East-West differences in good faith," he added.

College Convocation.

Smith's speech was prepared for delivery at a convocation of the University of New Hampshire. It was written and given to newspaper men in advance of the latest Russian peace statement that the Soviets are willing to enter into "business like" talks with the west.

Smith said it is up to the Soviet leaders to grasp the open hand tendered in a sincere gesture for peace. But he said the United States also had "a fist clenched in readiness, because we are dealing with an extremely reactionary regime still wedded to an archaic concept of power."

Recently head of the Central Intelligence Agency and wartime chief of staff to President Eisenhower, Smith is a foremost administration adviser on relations with the Kremlin.

"In recent weeks we have witnessed what appears to be a reversal of the Soviet line," he said, adding:

"It is possible that the new Soviet directorate recognized the necessity of consolidating its power. It is equally possible that the Kremlin realizes it is overextended and is looking for a breathing spell.

Western Measures.

"But it seems to me certain the new regime is to some considerable degree reacting to the effectiveness of Western measures in the face of danger."

President Eisenhower's April 16 world peace program brought about a "dramatic change in the political climate," Smith declared.

Although reactions in Communist countries were little known, he said, the speech was taken seriously and where it was heard over the Voice of America in satellite countries "it was received with emotion—in some cases actually with tears."

FERGUSON BILL WOULD ADMIT 240,000 REFUGEES IN 2 YEARS

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, introduced in the Senate yesterday a bill to permit 240,000 European refugees to enter the United States in the next two years.

President Eisenhower has urged that Congress enact such a measure, temporarily increasing the present immigration quota of about 154,000 persons yearly.

Ferguson said that approval of the bill would "enable the United States to discharge its humanitarian responsibility to the homeless refugees of Europe."

EARLY DECISION BY COMMISSION LIKELY IN LACLEDE GAS RATE CASE

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 25—The application of Laclede Gas Co. of St. Louis for an immediate emergency rate increase of $5,175,000 a year, in order to pass on to its customers at once higher costs of natural gas, was under consideration today by the Missouri Public Service Commission.

Hearings on the Laclede plea for a forthwith order for an interim increase, pending an ultimate full investigation of reasonableness of Laclede rates, were completed late yesterday.

The closing hearing developed definite opposition, from commission staff testimony to Laclede's view that a pressing emergency existed, involving possible irreparable damage to Laclede.

Accountant's Testimony.

A highlight of the hearing yesterday was testimony of Homer L. Thorp, chief accountant for the commission, that an analysis of Laclede operations showed the company could absorb anticipated higher costs of natural gas this year from its supplier, Mississippi River Fuel Corp., without increasing present rates to Laclede customers, and still earn a return of 5.15 per cent in 1953.

Thorp estimated Laclede would have available for return this year $3,457,212, based on some adjustments of company testimony concerning operating revenues for 1953, and including $2,653,100 as the estimated increase in costs to Laclede for natural gas from the pipeline, from last April 16 to the end of this year. Adjustments included no allowance for any increase in present Laclede rates in St. Louis and St. Louis county.

Return of 5.15 Pct.

The chief accountant said this amount available for return was equivalent to a return of 5.15 per cent on an estimated ratemaking valuation of $67,128,500 for Laclede. Thorp said this would amount to earnings of 48 cents a share for Laclede's $4 par value common stock, after payment of preferred stock dividends.

Thorp's testimony gave support to the contention of intervening opponents of the Laclede proposal that no emergency existed warranting an immediate increase in rates for Laclede. Opponents have suggested a full inquiry should be made before any change is authorized.

Thomas A. Johnson, general counsel for the Public Service Commission, in an earlier hearing took the position Laclede had not established existence of an emergency and that the proceeding was "an ordinary rate case" that could be carried on for three or four months without financial harm to Laclede.

Intervenors in the case included St. Louis, the County Council of St. Louis county, and the county municipalities of University City, Richmond Heights and Shrewsbury.

Mississippi Fuel Rate Rise Under Bond Authorized.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Power Commission today authorized the Mississippi River Fuel Corp., St. Louis, to make effective under bond as of April 10 a proposed $6,500,000 wholesale natural gas rate increase.

The commission said a conference would start here May 14 on possible settlement of the rate matter. A public hearing will also convene here May 14, it said, and will be recessed from day to day pending conclusion of the conference.

Since the conference may result in a settlement, the commission said Mississippi would not be required for 60 days to post a $650,000 bond.

Under bond, any increases later disallowed would have to be refunded.

Leader of Holdup Gang; Scenes After Bank Robbery

FRED WILLIAM BOWERMAN who used the name of John W. Frederick.

Scene outside the Southwest Bank yesterday after police interrupted a holdup and shot it out with three robbers trapped inside. Crowds attracted by the crime drama created a traffic problem at Southwest avenue and Kingshighway. Photograph was made by John D. Roussin, 3114A Magnolia avenue.

received by police last week that four Chicago men were to come here to talk with one of the St. Louisans.

Those held are Ralph Calico, Anthony Giardano and Anthony Lopiparo, gangsters, and two of their associates, Onifrio Vitale and Michael Guzina.

Chief of Detectives James Chapman and Lt. John Doherty received a tip that four Chicagoans were to meet Giardano at Hotel Chase. They watched the hotel last Sunday and Monday, but were unable to spot any suspicious characters among the guests.

Giardano, when questioned about the tip, denied having a rendezvous with any Chicago men, but remarked that he had seen the officers at the hotel.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus, seeking the release of the five men, was filed in circuit court today by Attorney Morris A. Shenker. The petition was referred to Judge James F. Nangle for hearing.

Questioning of Scholl at the hospital by First Assistant Circuit Attorney Raymond A. Bruntrager revealed that the robbers assigned themselves fictitious given names, to be used during the holdup. Scholl was to be called "John," Bowerman "Joe," Vito and "Pete" and the missing robber was called "George." Scholl insisted that "George" is the only name by which he knows the man being sought.

Met in Tower Grove Park.

Scholl told Bruntrager the gang held meetings in Tower Grove Park, a short distance from the bank, to discuss the robbery. Bowerman, oldest of the group, was the leader.

Bruntrager quoted Scholl as follows:

"I met 'Pete' on Madison avenue, in Chicago, about 10 days ago. He asked me if I wanted to go to St. Louis. He said a 'wheelman' could get five grand for a robbery there. (A "wheelman" drives the get-away car.)

"We drove down from Chicago and we met in the park and decided that 'George' would serve as 'wheelman'."

"Bowerman cased the bank for a week. We met nearly every day in the park and decided to stay in different places. I moved to Chouteau avenue. I don't know where the others stayed.

"We were given assignments and I found out it was a bank near the park. 'Joe' had the sawed-off shotgun. I followed 'Pete' and 'Joe' into the bank and 'George' stayed outside as a lookout.

"When the shooting started we all ran toward the front door. Then 'Joe' was shot and I ran toward a side entrance. 'Pete' yelled he would shoot himself, and I told him, 'Don't be a fool.' He said, 'Somebody's already shot. We'll get 99 years.' Then he shot himself."

In a room at 3503 Park avenue, which Bowerman had rented, officers found a quantity of ammunition for shotguns, pistols, rifles and tear gas guns. There also was a .38-caliber revolver, four fountain pen type tear gas guns, four stolen Missouri license plates and some tools. A Chicago traffic violation ticket, served on Bowerman last month, indicated he owned a blue Hudson automobile. oPlice are searching for the machine, which they believe may have been driven here.

Patrolman Stein and Cpl. Heitz were the first to reach the bank after a holdup alarm sounded by a bank employe was relayed to their radio cruising patrol.

Stein Describes Shooting.

"As we pulled up in front of the bank Cpl. Heitz headed for the door opening on Southwest avenue. I went to the front door, which was open. I looked in and saw a man with a handkerchief mask in the bank with a shotgun in his hand. I saw him raise the shotgun and fire. That must have been the charge that struck Heitz. I fired three shots at the robber.

"Then the lead really started coming out at me. I ducked down and covered the front entrance. Other police began arriving then. Sgt. Adam Riek of our district ran up. I yelled at him to duck, that they were shooting. With that, Bowerman walked out with Miss Hamilton in front of him.

"He had his shotgun in her back. He said, 'Don't shoot or I'll kill her.' Holding the shotgun in front of him separated him a slight distance from the woman. Just as he cleared the door, I shot at him from the hip. I was about three feet away.

"He fell forward, knocking Miss Hamilton down. When he fell, he was still conscious and was grabbing for his belt. I jumped on top of him, pinning his arms down with my knees, and found a fully loaded .38 revolver in his belt."

Crawled on Broken Glass.

When Miss Hamilton fell she crawled over plate glass, which had been shattered by bullets. She had gone to the bank to get a cashier's check for her employers, the Dorothy Perkins Co., cosmetics manufacturers.

An alarm that the bank was being held up was sounded by Blase Mugavero, a teller, who pressed a button. Meanwhile, the bank's directors, meeting in a rear room, and a telephone repair man working in the bank, telephoned alarms to police headquarters.

Two savings tellers, Mrs. Betty Valenti, 4570 Gibson avenue, and Miss Alice Ruzicka, 1810 Lawrence street, said they were in their cages near the side entrance to the bank on Southwest avenue when two masked men came in, both carrying guns.

One of the men, they told the Post-Dispatch, jumped over the counter and the other jumped on the counter. They ordered everyone to lie on the floor. The tellers lay down under their counters.

The robber who jumped over the counter began removing money from cash drawers. He opened one lock with a screwdriver.

Miss Ruzicka added that she also set off a burglar alarm from a switch under the counter.

Twenty employes took refuge in the basement while more than 100 police shot it out with the trapped robbers. About 40 shots were fired in all. The robber who escaped apparently got nothing.

However, before they were interrupted by the police, the robbers had collected more than $141,000 from tellers' cages. All the money, which they had stuffed in a zippered bag, was recovered. They dropped the bag on the floor during the shooting.

"I got down and they shot him."

Two women employes of the bank were treated at City Hospital for shock. They were Miss Marilyn Miller, switchboard operator, 5216 Finkman street, and Miss Lois Sperber, 5167 Lindenwood avenue.

After the attempted robbery, police discovered a sign in chalk on the brick wall of the bank near the Southwest avenue entrance. It read: "Going to be rob." The sign had been noticed by passersby Thursday.

Policemen who went to the scene included all detectives and all officers manning cruising patrols in each of the 12 districts. Acting Chief of Police Joseph Casey, I. A. Long, chairman of the Police Board, and Detective Chief James Chapman were among those who went to the bank.

Arthur G. Zinselmeyer, cashier of the bank, said the first hint of a holdup was when a man strode in a side door, on Southwest avenue about 35 feet west of the corner, and leaped to the top of a counter near the door.

"He was wearing some sort of a tan mask—it looked like a handkerchief," Zinselmeyer said. "He stood astraddle of a rail running down the counter, commanding a view of the whole room.

Directors in Meeting.

R. Forder Buckley, attorney for the bank, said the holdup took place while a weekly directors' meeting was in progress on the first floor.

Carmen Smith, executive vice president, got up and opened the door when he heard the shooting. Buckley said Smith saw a masked man carrying a pistol and scooping up money from the tellers' cages.

Police Board Head Hails 'Magnificent' Action by Officers in Foiling Robbery

"Cool and efficient" work of more than 100 police officers in foiling a holdup of the Southwest Bank yesterday was praised today by I. A. Long, president of the Board of Police Commissioners.

Long, who reached the scene when bullets still were flying in the gun battle, said: "I watched the police in action and they were magnificent. They deserve great credit for getting three of the four robbers without shooting any civilians.

"I imagine a situation like this will be given a good deal of publicity in Chicago and other cities and will show that we have a police force that is pretty capable of taking care of anything like this."

Alertness of police, bank employes and bystanders, combined with high-speed communications and alarm devices, frustrated the carefully planned holdup.

Teller Kicks Alarm.

The first alarm was sounded by Mrs. Betty Valenti, 4570 Gibson avenue, a savings teller, who kicked a treadle alarm in her cage when the robbers entered the bank. Within a few seconds, a light went on and a bell rang at headquarters of the Potter Electric Signal & Manufacturing Co. in the Century building. Theodore Klix, veteran operator there, telephoned police on a direct line, and a police dispatcher had the first call on the air.

Patrolman Charles Schaan, the dispatcher, ordered scout cars 21 and 23 to the scene. But the white-painted cruising patrol of the Second District, which happened to be only two blocks away, reached the bank first, carrying Cpl. Robert Heitz, wounded in the gun battle, and his partner, Patrolman Melburn F. Stein.

A few seconds after Miss Valenti sounded the alarm, another teller, Blase Mugavero, 5046A Shaw avenue, pressed an alarm button in his cage.

Call From Phone Man.

Police headquarters got its first word direct from the bank at 10:21, when another dispatcher, Patrolman Rosen, got an excited call from Joseph Bauer, a Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. repairman who had been installing a new switchboard at the bank.

"I'm in a rear room at Southwest Bank," Bauer said. "I can see a holdup going on."

Rosen immediately broadcast the word to all other cars in the Second (Hampton avenue) District and all detectives and cruising patrols in other districts.

Acting Police Chief Joseph E. Casey burst into Long's office at 10:24 and told him the holdup was in progress. They raced to the scene in Casey's automobile.

They reached the bank shortly after the arrival of the first four police cars. Second pair of officers on the scene was Sgt. Walter Imhoff and Patrolman William Laub, of the Hampton Avenue District. Sgt. William Dunman and Sgt. Edward Schaaf and their partners arrived a few minutes later.

Cpl. James Broderick and Patrolman Walter Hummert, in the Magnolia Avenue District cruising patrol, pulled up at the bank just after the fourth gunman had fled by automobile.

"We parked next to a car in which a woman was crouched on the seat," Broderick said. "She handed me a slip of paper with the license number of the escape car on it. She gave me a description, too, and said it almost ran into her as it sped south on Kingshighway."

Broderick radioed the information to headquarters, and cars were dispatched seconds later to all bridges and to canvass the neighborhood in an effort to head off the fourth robber. The description of the automobile was on the air by 10:30.

Impressed by Dispatchers.

Joseph A. Glynn Jr., a member of the Board of Police Commissioners, said he was much impressed with the coolness of the men at the five-position console dispatcher station at Police Headquarters.

Long said he regretted that Chief of Police Jeremiah O'Connell, confined to his home by a foot injury, could not see his men in action.

"I am sure he would have derived a great deal of satisfaction in seeing the results of the training they have received under his guidance," Long said.

"Chief O'Connell told me on the telephone that he followed every move on the police radio and was tempted to go to the scene by ambulance."

POST-DISPATCH MAN TRAVELS 70 M.P.H. TO ROBBERY SCENE

Jack January, Post-Dispatch photographer who arrived at the scene of the Southwest Bank holdup yesterday while police officers and holdup men were still shooting at each other, made the trip from Twelfth and Olive streets to Southwest avenue and Kingshighway in record time by following a police squad car.

He said he saw the squad car as he was driving west in Market street at Leffingwell avenue. "He looked as if he was going to the holdup, so I followed," January said. "We went 70 miles an hour all the way."

January stood in the middle of deserted Kingshighway about 50 feet from the bank door and took action photographs immediately after the robber John W. Frederick was shot as he tried to escape from the bank behind a human shield.

He explained the pictures on the Sterling Harkins television news program last night at 6:45 o'clock over the Post-Dispatch Station KSD-TV. He appeared on the program with I. A. Long, president of the board of police commissioners; James Chapman, Chief of detectives, and Acting Chief of Police Joseph Casey, all of whom were at the scene.

LODGE SAYS U.N. HAS FIRED ALL WHO EVADED QUESTIONS

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief United States delegate to the United Nations, has testified that all American employes of the U.N. who refused to answer a Senate subcommittee's loyalty questions have been fired.

Lodge, a former Republican Senator from Massachusetts, testified yesterday before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that is studying a $991,000 allotment to the United States mission at the U.N.

4 KILLED IN COLLISION NEAR COLUMBIA, MO.

St. Louis Couple Among Victims in Head-on Crash—2 Other Persons Hurt.

Four persons were killed, two of them St. Louisans, and two were injured last night when the automobiles in which they were riding collided headon on Highway 40, 12 miles east of Columbia, Mo.

Those killed were Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. LaBrash, 4615 Delmar boulevard; Roland Taylor, 19 years old, Fulton, Mo., and Lloyd Wayne Bryant, 19, Millersburg, Mo.

Sammy Hafly and Donald Hamilton, both of Fulton, were injured and taken to Callaway County Hospital at Fulton.

The State Highway Patrol said the LaBrash auto was westbound in Highway 40 when the other machine in which the four youths were riding pulled out into their lane to pass a bus. The bus driver, Lawrence Westerberg of Kansas City, said the youths' auto was moving at a high rate of speed with its headlights out.

Mr. and Mrs. LaBrash were killed instantly in the crash. Taylor and Bryant died on the way to the hospital. Taylor, driver of the eastbound auto, had to be pried from the machine. LaBrash, a truck driver, and his wife are survived by three sons, George, 9; Charles, 6, and Richard, 2. Mrs. LaBrash was expecting a fourth child.

LaBrash's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Sullivan, died yesterday at Barnes Hospital. LaBrash and his wife were on their way to Kansas City to pick up his sister, then go to Salem, Mo., for the funeral.

ALVIN E. EVANS RESIGNS AS ST. LOUIS U. LAW DEAN

Alvin E. Evans, dean of the St. Louis University School of Law, has resigned, effective at the end of the semester, the Rev. Paul C. Reinert S.J., president of the university, announced yesterday. Frank H. Randall, professor at the law school, also has resigned.

Evans, 74 years old, will remain at the university as professor of law. He joined the law faculty in September 1949 and was appointed dean the following June. He is dean emertus of the University of Kentucky law school.

Randall, also dean emeritus at the University of Kentucky law school, resigned to write articles on law.

ARTS JUNIOR NAMED EDITOR OF ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY NEWS

Appointment of William F. Cento, junior in the college of arts and sciences at St. Louis University, as editor of the University News, student newspaper, was announced yesterday.

Cento, son of Mrs. Augusta Cento, 3140 Lafayette avenue, will assume his new duties next fall, succeeding Leo J. Fitzmaurice, a senior, who has been editor of the newspaper this semester.

Man Burned in Brush Fire Dies.

John Scharf, a 77-year-old St. Clair county farmer died yesterday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville, of burns suffered March 13 when his clothes ignited after he poured kerosene on burning brush.

MAYOR, COUNTY SUPERVISOR TALK OVER PROBLEMS

Discuss Traffic, Airports, Planning and Civil Defense in Hour's Meeting at Clayton.

Mutual problems of St. Louis and St. Louis county were discussed yesterday in a one-hour meeting between Mayor Raymond R. Tucker and St. Louis County Supervisor Luman F. Matthews.

Subjects taken up included coordination of traffic control measures, expressways, locations and zoning needs of airports, general city and county planning and zoning, and civil defense.

Tucker said after the meeting that he plans to make special efforts to promote an agreement between the city, county and State Highway Department on a route for a central expressway extending east from the Daniel Boone Parkway. At present different routes are indorsed by the city and county.

First Such Meeting in Years.

Matthews said the meeting, which was held in his office in the county courthouse, marked the first time in his many years of county service that a St. Louis mayor had come to the county for such a discussion. The place was suggested by Tucker after Matthews had proposed the meeting.

"I definitely believe the city and county cannot be independent," Tucker told reporters after the meeting. "Rather we are interdependent. The prosperity of the city and the county depends on each other."

Matthews said they had discussed "many fields of co-operation betwen the city and county."

Request by Matthews.

One concrete request was made by Matthews in the course of the talk. He asked that the city cooperate in seeking Federal Security Agency approval of the transfer of title to a building on the Jeferson Barracks site to the county.

The building, on the north side of the old parade ground, would be used for the care of neglected children, Matthews said. It is one of several buildings obtained by the city from the Federal Government several years ago, he said, and is at present vacant. The structure is brick, two stories high, and in need of rehabilitation, Matthews said.

Tucker promised to investigate the possible transfer. Neglected children are at present cared for in the county's Children's Building on the County Hospital grounds. The practice has been criticized in the past, since the building also is used for delinquent children.

Both Tucker and Matthews said they expect to have similar discussions in the future.

FUNERAL OF ALAN W. PRICE, FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN

Funeral services for Alan W. Price, former newspaper man and professional football player, were held today at the Albert H. Hoppe undertaking establishment, 4700 Washington avenue. Burial will be at Providence, Kentucky, his former home.

Mr. Price died yesterday of cancer of the throat at City Hospital. He had been ill about a year. He was 53 years old.

After graduating from Centre College, where he was a member of the football team, he played professional football in Detroit. He later became sports editor of the Evansville, Ind., Courier. From 1922 to 1934, he was on the news staff of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. In recent years he has been employed in the Aeronautical Chart Plant here. He lived at 4405 Forest Park boulevard. His widow, Mrs. Flossie A. Price, two brothers and a sister survive him.

JUDITH BETH SAUL MARRIED TO ERNEST W. STIX JR.

Ernest W. Stix Jr., son of the president of Rice Stix, Inc., and Miss Judith Bess Saul, granddaughter of Mrs. Robert Bass of Memphis, were married at the Stix home, 6470 Forsyth boulevard, 30 minutes after the formal announcement of their engagement last night.

Miss Saul and Stix, who is secretary of Rice-Stix, walked into his home last night and said, "There's going to be a wedding in the family, sooner than you think."

In 30 minutes the house was decorated with flowers, the wedding cake was brought in, champagne was chilled and Miss Saul and Stix were married by James Hornback, head of the St. Louis Ethical Society. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Stix Sr., Mr. and Mrs. William Stix, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and the William Stix's two children.

CREWLESS PLANE FLIES INTO ATOM CLOUD, CRASHES

Goes Out of Control After Penetrating 'Thermal Envelope' Seconds After Blast.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 25 (UP)—A remote-controlled drone plane crashed today in the first announced attempt to fly into the "thermal envelope"—heat around the atomic fireball—seconds after an atomic blast.

The Atomic Energy Commission said there were no casualties. Sixteen members of Congress and 2850 troops from all over the nation were on hand for the test.

The heat cloud of an atomic explosion rises before the familiar mushroom cloud begins to form. The plane which flew into it today carried no crew.

The powerful explosion hit scientists in the AEC control point with the hardest jolt they ever have experienced. It broke "several" light bulbs and shattered window panes in a number of guard stations and other buildigns on the proving ground, the AEC said.

Troops in Exercise.

Moments after the blast, two Army combat teams of 1200 men each climbed out of trenches two and one-third miles from the blast and advanced on foot toward "ground zero," what was left of the 300-foot tower from which the blast was set off. Included were troops from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. With the combat troops were 250 military observers.

In addition to the combat teams, eight volunteer officers withstood the explosion from a six-foot deep trench much nearer to the tower. The Department of Defense would not say how much closer.

Test manager Carroll L. Tyler, said in a statement summarizing the test: "A Navy AD-2 Skyraider propeller-driven drone aircraft penetrated the blast and thermal envelopes at an altitude of approximately one mile within seconds after the detonation.

"It was knocked out of control and crashed slightly northwest of the detonation, considerably beyond the troop obeservers stationed to the south of the firing area."

It was the first announced attempt to fly a plane so close to an atomic blast, although others have flown successfully through the mushrooming atomic cloud.

52 Planes in Test.

Fifty-two aircraft, including six B-47 Stratojets and six B-50s were in the air on various missions.

"Test organization personnel who observed the shot from the control point reported that the shock wave was quite strong breaking several electrical globes and breaking window panes in several guard stations and other buildings, Tyler's statement said. "They also reported that the rapidly mounting cloud formed a succession of ice caps resulting in a double collar of ice around the cloud."

The explosion, set off at 4:30 a.m. (6:30 a.m., St. Louis time) was seen brilliantly here but was hardly felt in the city. Motorists coming into town reported, however, that it hit with a tremendous jolt in areas east of Nellis Air Force Base.

Seen 600 Miles Away.

The flash was seen in San Francisco—600 miles away.

Today's test was the seventh in the current spring series at the Nevada A-bomb test site. It was the twenty-eighth atomic explosion set off in the United States.

Animals as sheep, rabbits and mice were used in various scientific tests in connection with the blast, and a number of Air Force planes participated as observers to check various scientific data.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Appraising Goals in Asia

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In the world power struggle with Russia, Europe is still the most significant area; therefore, it is the one most dangerous to leave weak. The major portion of our limited power should operate there. Asia is the next most important area, and the Middle East is third.

Recognizing that for the present Asia must play second fiddle to our interests in Europe, it follows that a peace in Korea which meets the minimum standards of our policy of opposition to Communist agression is a sufficient accomplishment.

What constitutes the minimum standard in this case? A division of Korea somewhere around the present battle line, and suitable arrangements for patrolling this area to prevent a re-occurrence of the events of June 1950 from either side is adequate.

We may attempt to obtain free elections for the unification of the whole country, but we cannot afford, in the light of our world commitments, to allow a point such as this to stand in the way of a settlement. In many ways, this attitude contradicts the implied goals of our "police action" under United Nations auspices.

* * *

However, to continue a war which weakens us with respect to the dangers about us would be more injurious to the interests of the free world than an undemocratic Korea.

Greater support of the French in Indochina would be available if some kind of agreement could be reached in Korea. Great Britain can handle Malaya satisfactorily, but if any other outbreaks take place in Southeast Asia, the United States must be ready to counter Communist pressure.

We must accept the fact that a settlement in Korea will stabilize the regime of Mao Tze-tung in China. It might mean such an increase in his independent strength in a few years, freed from pressure of a costly war, that a gradual defection from the dominating influence of Moscow might occur. If it should not occur, we will still be stronger by not having the cream of all our forces engaged in the wrong war at the wrong time.

Although keeping Formosa out of Communist hands is still important, we might as well recognize that as a nucleus of power great enough to challenge the Communist regime in China, Chiang and his followers are through. In Asia, the People's Republic of China is the entity we must deal with and adjust to.

We need to be less interested in righteous impulses with regard to this fact than in the necessity of facing it in order to protect our vital interests in the world at large.

* * *

Next, America must work for a rebirth of Japan's power in Asia. In many ways frightening, this prospect is the only one that holds hope of our ever getting a significant number of our Army, Navy and Air units out of complete embroilment in Asia.

It is admittedly dangerous to expect to keep Japanese expansionist aims within bounds this time, but a strong China was not opposed to her in her last excursion in empire building and this factor would work in our favor.

In sum, we can hope for a relatively secure situation in the Far East in the foreseeable future only through these quite bitter pills. But in realistic terms, perhaps we cannot expect to remake the world in the American image, and can only hope for a mutual adjustment of the forces in it.

A point has been reached where an understanding of the real situation in Asia and a firm enunciation of the policies necessary to handle it presents one of the best chances for a temporary settlement with Russian imperialism all over the world. Will our grand hopes blind us to that which is possible?

LAWRENCE M. POWERS.

Running Wild

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

What is all this talk about McCarthyism? If it hadn't been for McCarthy, the Reds would still be running wild in the State Department and all other departments. CARRIE CHRISTIANSEN.
East St. Louis.

Duplicating a Study

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Lyon Patrons Association is notifying the state legislators of our district that we are definitely opposed to the proposed Hawkins bill. It is an attempt to duplicate the study of the Missouri Citizens' Commission on Education and to undermine some of its best features.

The Citizens' Commission worked for over a year to prepare a complete report on how to give the students of Missouri's public schools a complete and thorough education. The Hawkins bill ought to be defeated. JAMES N. PATTON,
President, Lyon School Patrons Assn.

Wait on a Parking Lot

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Last Wednesday evening my wife and I attended an affair at Kiel Auditorium. We parked on a lot at Fifteenth and Clark, southwest corner. The fee was 75 cents. We had an appointment with our son at 10 o'clock, so we left the Auditorium at 9:15.

The parking lot was filled to capacity, and no aisles were left open. We waited until 9:55 before a sufficient number of cars moved on so that we could leave. We missed our 10 o'clock appointment.

This is simply another reminder that the parking-lot operators could and should give the public the accommodation they are entitled to, particularly when the fee runs 75 cents for an hour and a half. CHAS. J. MENNE.

Rhode Island's Example

It is the intent of this article to grant and confirm to the people of every city and town in this state the right of self-government in all local matters.

So reads the first section of a home-rule amendment adopted by the voters of Rhode Island on June 28, 1951. It was the result of the assertion of ever greater authority over local affairs by the Rhode Island Legislature in the last 150 years. City voters and taxpayers finally got tired of going to the State House hat in hand, and being turned down more often than not. They got tired of the Legislature playing off one community against another—just as the Missouri Legislature often plays Kansas City against St. Louis.

Then Dennis J. Roberts, who had been mayor of Providence and who knew city problems only too well, was elected Governor, and the stage was set for a change. With the help of such organizations as the Rhode Island Home Rule Association, the Citizens League, the Public Expenditures Council and the League of Women Voters, the home-rule amendment was pushed to adoption. Now Rhode Island cities are writing new charters according to their own needs.

Maybe St. Louis will yet be forced to move for an analogous reform in Missouri. This state's 1945 Constitution probably gives cities greater opportunity for charter revision than was available in Rhode Island. To the extent that the various troubles of St. Louis are due to the failure of St. Louis voters to adopt a new charter or to amend the present one, blame must be accepted here at home.

The new mayor, Raymond R. Tucker, is almost sure to have something to say on this in due time, since his chairmanship of the charter freeholders made him just about the one St. Louisan most thoroughly acquainted with the legal intricacies of city-state relations. We do not know whether he will urge adoption of the defeated charter in a second election, as the present charter was adopted, whether he will urge amendments to the old charter, or whether he will turn to the Legislature.

But action in one form or another seems essential. Just now the Legislature again has St. Louis over a financial barrel by holding up extension of the earnings tax, and by threatening—if it is re-authorized—to limit it to those living within the city limits. St. Louis also seems doomed to be balked again in its desire for unified control of its public schools. It is doubtful whether the city will be permitted to establish off-street parking facilities on a paying basis. It may be denied the authority to make its own decision on rent controls once federal authority lapses.

These are just the Legislature's current interferences in what are primarily local concerns. Other times, other issues. That is why the Rhode Island story is so appealing. The amendment there adopted did not end the Legislature's basic jurisdiction over the cities, but it went a long way toward making sure that this jurisdiction should not result in mere frustration.

For example, the Rhode Island law-makers may still adopt a special act for some city, but this does not become effective unless approved in a referendum of the voters of the community. Likewise the Rhode Island Legislature retains certain powers over borrowing and taxation, but here again acts passed under these powers must be approved by the local voters.

As a matter of fact, the Missouri Constitution of 1945 was not intended to have a controlling and restrictive effect. For example, Section 11 of Article X declares that "nothing in this Constitution shall prevent the enactment of any general law permitting any county or other political subdivision to levy taxes other than ad valorem taxes for its essential purposes."

The men in Jefferson City can act in the spirit of this constitutional provision. They can clear the way for St. Louis to solve its own financial problems. They can put a quick end to this conflict between the city and the Legislature. They should. But if they do not, then certainly St. Louis will have to cast about for ways of removing unwarranted check reins.

Air in a Gas Proposal?

Can Laclede Gas Co. absorb an increase in the wholesale price of natural gas it buys from Mississippi River Fuel Corp. without passing it on to the 300,000 gas users in the St. Louis area?

Laclede has answered with a resounding No, and is asking the Missouri Public Service Commission for permission to increase its retail rates by $5,175,000 a year. It alleges that a rate rise of this size is necessary "forthwith" to offset a price boost by Mississippi.

A somewhat different picture has now been drawn by the Public Service Commission's own staff. Homer L. Thorp, the commission's chief accountant, estimates that Laclede could absorb the higher wholesale charges without increasing rates to consumers by a single penny and still earn a return of 5.15 per cent this year.

Mr. Thorp estimates that if the commission permitted a rise of $1,250,000 a year, Laclede would earn 6 per cent. If the commission authorized a $2,271,200 increase, Laclede's earnings would jump to 7 per cent. The commission has rarely approved earnings of more than 6.5 per cent by any utility. Many earn less.

Another Blow at Slum Clearance

The House attack on public housing is not the only threat to the urban redevelopment plans of St. Louis and other cities. Mayor Tucker has moved with commendable alacrity to counter another which directly menaces the plaza project—the keystone of this city's program for rehabilitating the downtown area.

The newest monkey wrench to be thrown into the works is a proposal before the House Appropriations Committee to change the slum clearance rules in the middle of the game. Heretofore the law has provided that in qualifying for federal aid in redevelopment the city could put up its share in the form of public improvements as well as in cash. Now it is proposed to require cash contributions exclusively.

St. Louis has proceeded in good faith to develop the plaza project under the law as it now stands, and the city has a right to expect that the federal government shall honor the commitments on which planning has gone ahead. The proposed new rule would in effect require two contributions by the city instead of one—the cost of developing the park area between Aloe and Memorial plazas, plus the cost of a cash contribution.

If that is to be the slum clearance rule henceforth, it ought to be established by a frank and open change in the law, not by fiat of the Appropriations Committee, and it ought to apply only to future projects on which federal commitments have not yet been made.

Mayor Tucker's emissaries, Former Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann and Michael L. Galli of the land clearance commission, can be trusted to present the city's views forcefully in Washington. Meanwhile the city has been put on warning that the whole housing and redevelopment program is under severe and menacing attack at the national capital.

Pressure From the White House

President Eisenhower's intervention in the Senate debate on offshore oil, through his letter to Senator Anderson calling for prompt passage of the bill, is a tactical maneuver of Senator Taft's, designed to increase the pressure on the opposition.

Whether it has that result or not, the President's action will prove a disappointment to many of his admirers who had believed that his position on the oil giveaway was a result of unfortunate campaign commitments and incomplete awareness of the issues involved.

The President has met open or covert opposition to many parts of the program he presented to Congress at the beginning of the session. But only in behalf of the offshore oil giveaway has he gone to the lengths of demanding that Congress support his views. Had he given similar backing to other parts of the program—for example to a reduction of trade barriers for the strengthening of the free world—his present action on oil could be better accepted as the expression of Executive leadership.

Similarly the President is on record with several campaign promises in addition to that concerning the oil giveaway, but appears to show no such sense of urgency about fulfilling them as in this case. Were he as insistent upon immediate tax reduction as upon the offshore oil bill, for example, his present action could be better ascribed to a stern insistence upon literal fulfillment of pledges.

When the 25 Senators opposing the oil bill asked the President to state his views, they undoubtedly hoped that he would examine the important questions raised during the debate, attempt to reconcile the conflicting positions taken by the congressional backers of the bill, his State Department and his Department of Justice, and state a coherent, reasoned philosophy to justify whatever course he recommended.

His reply does none of these things. Without discussing the merits of the giveaway at all, he requests its passage strictly on the ground that the Republican platform calls for it. Many of his well wishers will regret that he did not choose a better cause in which to exert the great powers of his office.

Ask the Commission

Toll road fever seems to have died down in the Missouri Legislature, but there still is pressure for these privately-financed turnpikes. Meanwhile the best available advice on the subject has not even been heard.

It has not been heard because no member of the Missouri Highway Commission has been invited to present official testimony on toll roads before the Legislature. Is that not a strange situation?

The Highway Commission is a non-political agency, and a highly successful one. It has no partisan nor special interest in toll roads. And it does have at its command the road information and traffic data which would help to show better than anything else whether this state is unable to build good free roads and needs toll roads.

Today's Mirror of Public Opinion contains a most thoughtful analysis of the situation from The Unionville Republican. The editor of this newspaper, J. G. Morgan, is vice chairman of the Highway Commission. While his editorial does not speak for the commission, of course, it certainly speaks against rushing into toll road construction.

Is that why commission members have not been asked to testify on toll roads? Do the legislators and lobbyists pushing toll roads think sound advice ought to be avoided if it is contrary advice?

Before Missouri can consider toll roads at all, the state ought to know what its own Highway Department thinks about such plans. Until then the toll road propaganda will look suspect.

Deadline and Delay

Secretary of State Dulles at the Paris NATO meeting set a virtual deadline of June 30 for ratification of the European defense agreements. But continental politicians reacted as a child does to a spoonful of bitter medicine.

By a vote of 20 to 18 the Bundesrat, the upper chamber of the West German parliament, refused to ratify the pacts already approved by the lower chamber. Opponents said they would wait for a Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the rearmament plan. The court said it would not rule on the treaties unless they are ratified.

In Paris Foreign Minister Bidault recalled that the proposal for a European army had been originated by France, and insisted that this gave his government the right to warn against too much haste on the project. He said that reunification of Germany was of prime importance in the settlement of East-West issues; and this made him sound rather like the German Socialists who argue that reunification should come before ratification.

Thus there could be a dangerous stalemate on both sides of the Rhine. German Chancellor Adenauer, however, refuses to be tied up in a political and legal snarl. He said that the main sections of the agreements really do not need Bundesrat approval, and that he would present them to President Theodor Heuss for his signature early next week.

That will force the issue so far as his opponents and the Supreme Court are concerned. And for them, Dr. Adenauer had a warning: "If we don't join up with the West, we cannot sustain an economy to support our own people."

There does not seem to be a man of Dr. Adenauer's determination to push the matter in the French parliament. But the deputies may be impressed by Mr. Dulles's warning that without ratification by June 30, Congress probably will be inclined to make very deep cuts in European aid funds.

Whether by warning or by persuasion, it is the task of statesmanship to demonstrate the necessity for a solid Western front. A solid front is vital in case of attack. And it is equally important if there is to be a negotiated settlement with Moscow.

Toll Road: Stop, Look and Listen

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Two Missouri editors agree that this state should know whether it needs toll roads before authorizing their construction; one issue is whether traffic would support such projects in rural areas; another is what turnpikes would do to state's free road system.

The Unionville Republican

The editor of The Unionville Republican, in which the following editorial appeared, is J. G. Morgan, vice chairman of the Missouri Highway Commission, which itself has not entered the dispute about toll roads.

In the current discussion of the question of toll roads through Missouri the time has apparently come to look at the problem factually rather than hysterically.

That dreamy toll roads have been and are successful in and around New York, between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and the New Jersey Turnpike is clearly indicated. But because these roads have been successful there it does not necessarily follow that similar roads would be a success anywhere else.

Nevertheless, Missourians are being bombarded from every conceivable angle in this connection. It is time to consider some facts before they go off on an illusory tangent.

There are two possible routes across the state, according to present reckoning. One is between Kansas City and St. Louis, probably paralleling Highway 40, and the other is between St. Louis and Joplin to the Kansas state line, paralleling Highway 66.

78 Years to Pay Off Bonds

The estimated cost of building such a highway is around a million dollars per mile. This means that the No. 40 route would cost approximately $250,000,000. This, according to the announced plans, is to be paid by levying a toll on the traffic there, and tolls average on such highways already in operation about 1 per cent per mile.

Now let us see how this would work out on this particular route. The average daily traffic on Highway 40, according to the 1952 traffic survey by the State Highway Department, and the latest one, is approximately 3500 on its entire length. That many vehicles per day paying 1 per cent per mile for the privilege of traveling over the highway would bring in a daily revenue of $8750, which would add to $3,193,750 per year.

Now if all this money were to be paid toward retiring the construction bonds it would require more than 78 years to pay off the bonds.

Now let us look at the No. 66 proposition. Estimating the cost of construction of this route at $330,000,000, the time required to pay the face of the bonds issued would be about 47 years.

State's Four-Lane Highways

It is generally regarded that highways amortize, or pay for themselves, in about 20 years. But in the case of these two proposed roads, there is no allowance for interest on the bonds, depreciation of the roads, management of the business of the roads, nor for ordinary maintenance. These things, if figured in, probably would double the time required.

It will be correctly argued that no allowance has been made for increase in travel. But, on the other hand, the above figures are based on the assumption that all the travel now on 40 and 66 will leave the freeways and go to the toll roads, which is likely far from the truth.

We are not opposed to toll roads, but feel they are needed only and when the state fails or refuses to provide adequate facilities for the free thoroughfares where the travel requires it. But we do not believe, on the face of what appears to be the facts, that this is in any degree true in Missouri.

The state is now pretty far along toward completing a four-lane highway on 66, and has made a good start on a four-lane highway on 40. Both these will be completed within a very few years, and it looks as if these will provide adequate freeways for several years to come.

To complicate the highway problem in Missouri by building toll roads to compete with adequate freeways does not make horse sense at this time, but it does look like either somebody is carried away by hysterical enthusiasm, or there is a sinister determination somewhere to capitalize the present popularity of toll roads for profit to themselves—not to the traveling public.

The Nevada Daily Mail

Reminiscent of the publicity that used to precede the promotion of railroads is this editorial from the Arkansas City, Kans., Traveler, which comments on the new Turner Turnpike in Oklahoma.

"Oklahoma," says the paper, "is completing a new toll highway between Tulsa and Oklahoma City. The bill just passed by the House approves another that would run north from Oklahoma City to the Kansas line. Two other roads are also proposed."

Two toll roads have been proposed for Missouri. But so far, the Missouri Assembly has moved with admirable caution in authorizing the construction of such roads.

Even though Missourians would not be taxed for the construction of a toll road, they need to know several things about these super highways before they are permitted to be built: Is there a need for them—are present highways incapable of carrying the traffic? Are they safe? Do they serve the various communities along their route? What expense is involved in connecting state highways with the private roadway? And so on.

Oklahoma's $38,000,000 Road

Toll roads are designed to be safe. The Pennsylvania Turnpike eliminated cross roads, traffic lights, steep grades, curves and hill crests.

Yet the Pennsylvania toll road is now termed one of the most dangerous roads in the country. The very absence of things-to-look-for has proved hypnotic, and drivers sometimes go to sleep or into a stupor.

The $38,000,000 cost of the Turner Turnpike in Oklahoma was financed, as we have said, by private capital. But the State Highway Department has spent approximately $12,000,000 from gas tax revenues in building access entrances to the toll road.

"This money," says the Shawnee, Okla., News-Star, "was originally intended to be used for the maintenance of highways all over Oklahoma."

The Oklahoma turnpike is only slightly more than 100 miles long. A toll road connecting St. Louis and Joplin would cost more than twice as much as was spent in Oklahoma.

The Shawnee paper also points out that interest on the Turner Turnpike bonds is $4000 a day. "Can the highway earn enough above its operating costs," it asks, "to pay that interest and maintain the bond payment schedule?"

Missouri can afford to bide its time in authorizing the construction of toll roads. It can afford to wait and see how other such projects work and pay out.

An Editor Speaks His Piece

From The Pleasant Hill (Mo.) Times

It sometimes seems to us that this (editorial) column is the most expensive space in the paper. It is costly in time, because it seems to require a great lot of dilly-dallying to get it written. It costs criticism because what we say does not always please everyone. It even costs us advertising, because we are not a "good" little paper to be rewarded. It would not be true to say that we do not give a hoot, since we attach value to all these things, but we do not give enough of a hoot to quit speaking our piece, however poorly. A newspaper that never spoke its own mind would not be, to our notion, much satisfaction to publish or read.

Between Book Ends

A Brain Child Born too Soon

Garland Ashcraft in The Guild Reporter.

If it may be written without implying discredit as to its essential merit, this book seems to have come off the press as a sort of literary curiosity.

Here is a book about Marxism, the Communist movement in general, and Russian Communism in particular, written in 1937 in the heyday of the "united front" for "collective security against war and fascism," launched by the Seventh World Congress of the Communist International. It was submitted, says the Philosophical Library, to a dozen or more leading American publishers, and given rejection slips as "implausible" or "crackpottish." Published 15 years later in the environment of the "cold war" of five or six years duration, it adds little to the now accepted literature on the fallacies and frauds and failures of Marxism as applied in U.S.S.R. and elsewhere. In fairness, it should be put down that subsequent exposures of Communism have been substantial documentations of the shrewd appraisal of this author of 15 years ago.

Dagobert D. Runes

One newsworthy aspect of this book is that the author then detected tendencies towards anti-Semitism in the Communist movement and traced them from Marx, the Jew-turned-Gentile, down to the Stalinist regime in 1937!

Numerous writers have published very thorough expose jobs about Russia since Dr. Runes failed to get a publisher. Nevertheless, Dr. Runes in 1937 had a 1953 grasp of the subject, based on evidences then available, and particularly on an almost uncanny understanding of the meanness and malice, envy and avarice, cowardice and cruelty of the human animal in the authoritarian leader-follower relationship.

The book publishers of 1937-38 deserve some defense. Dr. Runes wrote in the rip-saw style of a crusading tract. His book reeks subjectivity in every page.

The author seems to have written rapidly—too rapidly—after his timely flight from Hitler in 1935, and at white heat. The documentation was not so detailed as publishers in the market for this kind of book may have desired.

They probably judged wisely that the book would then have been dismissed as Trotskyite, a piece of propaganda by an obscure Intro-Communist party feudist, hardly worthy of offering a "discriminating" American reading public.

But the fact remains that Dr. Runes's legitimate brain child was born at least 10 years too soon.

Thoreau Had Easier Problems

This personal narrative by the author of "We Took to the Woods" tells humorously and engagingly of a modern family's adjustments to backwoods life.

Mrs. Rich is a native of Massachusetts, where she was educated and taught English for several years. After her marriage to Ralph Rich, they went to live at his Maine woods lodge.

There her son Rufus (named after a pet parrot) was born unattended; and when Dinah was expected, Mrs. Rich returned temporarily to civilization. In their rural environment, the parents had to use all their ingenuity, as well as a book on dog care, in feeding and rearing their young.

"Only Parent" continues the author's experiences since the sudden death of her husband. It shows her increased responsibilities as a parent and describes, in minute detail, incidents of a summer by the sea, an exciting trip to New York and the family's numerous and unusual pets.

Of her children, ages 10 and 15, Mrs. Rich says, "I don't know what the neighbors say about them, probably nothing too good—but I like them." So, no doubt, will many other readers who enjoy very light fare. ESTHER GUENTHER.

Sunday Services and Special Events in Churches of the St. Louis Area

BILLY GRAHAM MEETINGS ENTER SECOND WEEK

'Hour of Decision' Broadcast at 2:30 P.M. Tomorrow Will Open to Public.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Evangelist Billy Graham will start the second week of his crusade at Kiel Auditorium at 3 p.m. tomorrow when his sermon subject will be "The End of the World." Services will be held daily, except Monday, at 7:30 p.m., and Sundays at 3 p.m., through May 17.

The Rev. Dr. Graham's weekly broadcast will be made at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Kiel Auditorium, and it will be open to the public. His radio program, "Hour of Decision," is broadcast over 336 stations in the United States and 29 stations in Canada by the American Broadcasting Co. It is also carried to many other countries.

Protestant churches of New Orleans have invited the Rev. Dr. Graham to hold a crusade there at an early date, Graham headquarters announced here this week. The invitation will be brought to the evangelist here on Tuesday by the Rev. Dr. J. D. Grey of New Orleans, president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The Rev. Grady Wilson, associate evangelist with the Billy Graham party, will preach tomorrow at 11 a.m. at First Church of the Nazarene, St. Louis and Warne avenues, and at 7:45 p.m. at Lafayette Park Baptist Church, Lafayette and Mississippi avenues.

Like the Rev. Dr. Graham, the Rev. Mr. Wilson is a native of Charlotte, N.C. His brother, the Rev. Dr. T. W. Wilson, is also an evangelist. The Rev. Mr. Wilson is in charge of personal counseling at the Graham meetings.

Cottage prayer meetings of the Graham crusade are being held from 10 to 10:45 a.m., Tuesdays through Fridays. They are opened with a 15-minute radio broadcast by a member of the Graham staff over Radio Station KSTL.

Institute on Judaism Planned.

The St. Louis Rabbinical Association will sponsor its annual Institute of Jewish Learning every Monday at 8:15 p.m. through May 18 at United Hebrew Temple, 225 South Skinker boulevard. The first lecture will be given next Monday by Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman of Temple Israel.

New Minister

THE REV. J. RAY TROTTER

METHODIST CHURCH ANNOUNCES CHANGE IN PASTORATES

The Rev. J. Ray Trotter this week became pastor of Bowman Methodist Church, Carter and Athlone avenues. He had been pastor for four years of Salem Methodist Church, Ballwin, Mo. His new appointment was made by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt.

At Bowman Church, the Rev. Mr. Trotter succeeded the Rev. Earle G. Hamilton, who resigned because of ill health.

The Rev. Mr. Trotter is a native of Unionville, Mo. He is married and has two daughters. He served in the Army for 45 months in World War II. He holds degrees from Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, and Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves.

METHODIST CHURCHES REPORT 1953 NEW MEMBERS IN YEAR

The 40 Methodist churches of the St. Louis district received 1953 new members in the last 12 months, it was reported at the district conference this week.

More than 300 pastors and lay members attended the dinner conference Tuesday at Christy Memorial Methodist Church, 4601 Morganford road. The principal speaker was the Rev. Dr. Walter Towner of Nashville, Tenn., director of the Department of General Church-School Work, Methodist Church.

The St. Louis district churches reported a total Sunday school enrollment of 14,000. The largest Sunday school in the district is at Ferguson Methodist Church, which has 945 pupils enrolled and an average attendance of 526. The Rev. Joseph H. Jones is the Ferguson pastor.

KINGSLAND CHURCH BUILDING $135,000 EDUCATION UNIT

The cornerstone of the new educational building of Kingsland Memorial Presbyterian Church, Pagedale, will be laid at 5 p.m. tomorrow. The new building will connect with the church at the corner of Page boulevard and Woodruff avenue. It will accommodate a church school of 500 pupils.

The brick structure, two stories and a full basement, will cost about $135,000. Froese, Maack and Becker are the architects.

The Rev. Howard L. Bourner is in his thirty-sixth year as pastor of Kingsland Church, longest pastorate in the St. Louis Presbytery.

The church now has 400 members and a Sunday school enrollment of 500. It is named for the Kingsland family, pioneer landowners in north St. Louis county. Heirs of the family donated the ground for the church.

Kingsland Church was established in 1915 as a mission of West Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. William B. Lampe, pastor of West Church, will be the speaker at the cornerstone-laying ceremony.

SUNSHINE MISSION FOUNDED 50 YEARS AGO; 49,653 MEN ATTENDED SERVICES IN 1952

FIFTY years ago today the late Edward A. Card founded City Rescue Mission (Sunshine Mission) at 916 Morgan street (Delmar). It now is located at 310 Market street.

Mr. Card died in 1933 at the age of 80. William L. Buschart has been superintendent of Sunshine Mission for 15 years. Fred M. Williams of Webster Groves is president of the board.

Celebration of the fiftieth anniversary has been postponed till next fall, because the mission is co-operating in the Billy Graham meetings now in progress, Buschart said.

"There has never been a day in the past 50 years when at least one service was not conducted at Sunshine Mission," Williams said. "From 35,000 to 45,000 men attend the mission and receive free meals every year. During the depression, the yearly average was 100,000. In 1952, 49,653 men attended the services, and 645 were converted to the Christian faith."

Missouri Valley Synod Urges Protection of Civil Liberties

Annual Conference of 122 Churches Supports Federal Ownership of Tidelands Oil.

Support of United Nations, "protection of civil liberties," and opposition to the surrender of tidelands oil to the states, were expressed in resolutions adopted here this week by the Missouri Valley Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The fifteenth annual conference of the Synod was held, Monday through Wednesday, at St. John Evangelical and Reformed Church, Manchester. There were 204 delegates, about evenly divided between clergy and laity. The president of the Synod, the Rev. Paul R. Stock of Trinity Church, St. Louis, presided.

One resolution said, "We commend the Commission on Christian Social Action on its previous work, and urge it to speak courageously for us on behalf of the following:

"The development of a better basis of understanding between nations, including the give and take of criticism and assistance, that shall move the nations toward a just and durable peace.

Support for U.N.

"Support of the United Nations, and support of measures toward its improvement.

"The development of a spirit of sharing, especially in the economic life of the world, in which the largest part of the sharing must be done by our country, because we have so much. This specifically means lowering of trade and traffic barriers.

"Protection of the natural resources of the United States for all the people, and not just a favored few. We believe particularly that tidelands oil should remain under federal ownership and jurisdiction.

"Protection of civil liberties against the inroads of those who would substitute some supposed security for the hard-won protection of the rights of freedom of speech, inquiry, press and worship.

"Protection of the rights of conscience, both in relation to the military service, and to the political life of people in responsible positions in state, church, educational institutions, and others."

Another resolution stated that "Missouri Valley Synod believes that schools should include, rather than exclude, controversial subjects, including that of religion, in the curriculum, understanding the greatness of America to depend in large part on the freedom of dissent and the accommodation of differences . . . ."

Forming of Young Adult Groups.

The Synod suggested that local churches consider "forming young adult groups and providing a special ministry to the aged."

Delegates were elected to the General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church to meet at Tiffin, O., June 17-24. Clerical delegates chosen were: The Rev. Mr. Stock, the Rev. Erwin H. Bode, the Rev. Dr. Elmer H. Hoefer, the Rev. John L. Schmidt, the Rev. Dr. Allen G. Wehrli, the Rev. Paul A. Wobus, and the Rev. Raymond Frankenfeld.

Lay delegates were: Carl Bade Jr., Herman A. Behle, Carl Bender, Mrs. Purd E. Deitz, Prof. Harold A. Pflug, Stanley Wilke and Miss Verna Niehaus.

LUTHERAN HOUR SETS RECORD

The Lutheran Hour received 27,000 pieces of mail from March 24 to March 27, a record in recent years, it was reported by the program's headquarters, 3558 South Jefferson avenue. On April 6, 11,000 pieces of mail were received in one day. The radio broadcast, which is sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, reaches more than 100 countries and is heard over stations in 58 countries. It is in its twenty-first season.

Don't Be Late to Church.

All Sunday schools and church services in St. Louis tomorrow will be on daylight saving time, or an hour earlier than last Sunday.

ST. MARY'S WILL HOLD NOVENA OF ST. JUDE

Catholic Church 110 Years Old Faces Third Street Superhighway.

No old Catholic parish in the riverfront area has been more deeply affected by the industrialization of its territory, and the consequent loss of families, than St. Mary of Victories, 744 South Third street. Founded in 18[illegible], it is the second oldest parish in the city, only the Old Cathedral at Third and Walnut streets being older.

St. Mary's fine old brick building was erected in 1843, and still keeps its beauty and charm. But there are virtually no families left in the old parish.

Now the new Third Street superhighway is being laid right in front of the church. But there has been no interference with the services, it was pointed out by the pastor, the Rev. Jerome F. Schutzbach.

The annual solemn novena in honor of St. Jude Thaddeus will be held at St. Mary's beginning Monday, Father Schutzbach announced. The nine days of prayer will be conducted by the Rev. Matthias Coen, C.P., of Chicago. Services will be held daily after the 8 a.m. mass, and at 12:10, 5:30 and 7:45 p.m. Solemn closing will take place on Tuesday, May 5.

St. Mary's may be reached by the Broadway streetcar or Manchester bus to Gratiot street. Automobiles may enter Gratiot street from Fourth or Second streets. Gratiot is the only east-west street near the church that is open; it is on the south side of the church. During the novena services, parking will be permitted on Third street. A parking lot in the rear of the church may be used during the last two services each day and all day on Saturdays and Sundays.

THE REV. WILLIAM G. POLLARD

CHILDREN TO OFFER MITE BOXES AT EPISCOPAL SERVICE

Children from all Episcopal churches of the Missouri diocese will make their annual mite box offering tomorrow at a special service at Christ Church Cathedral at 4 p.m.

During Lent the children deposited earnings and sacrificial gifts in their mite boxes, and this offering will be used in the general missions of the church.

The speaker at the service tomorrow will be Mrs. Kathryn Nelson, former director of religious education in Haiti. A pageant showing the work of missionaries will be presented by children dressed in the costumes of foreign countries where the Episcopal Church has missions. Irvin Mattick will be the reader.

OAK RIDGE DIRECTOR TO PREACH FLOWER SERMON SUNDAY

The annual Flower Sermon will be preached at Christ Church Cathedral, Thirteenth and Locust streets, at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The preacher will be the Rev. William G. Pollard, director of the Institute of Nuclear Studies at Oak Ridge, Tenn. He was in St. Louis today to conduct a retreat for laymen of the Missouri diocese of the Episcopal Church.

The Flower Service was provided for in the will of Henry Shaw, who gave the Missouri Botanical Gardens (Shaw's Garden) to the city. Every year at the Flower Service the Cathedral is turned into a garden with flowers and plants sent by the director and trustees of Shaw's Garden.

The Rev. Dr. Pollard decided to enter the Episcopal Church ministry after he had helped to establish a new parish in the Oak Ridge community. He was ordained a deacon last December. He is 41 years old, married, and has four sons.

He holds the following degrees: A.B., University of Tennessee, Knoxville; A.M. and Ph.D., Rice Institute, Houston, Tex.; Sc.D., Ripon College, Ripon, Wis., and D.Sc., University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. Dr. Pollard was professor of physics at the University of Tennessee before becoming director of the institute at Oak Ridge in 1947.

Collins's Savage Beating Protested by Fans Throughout Nation

Challenger Is Floored Ten Times by Carter Before Bout Is Halted

BOSTON, April 25 (UP)—The Massachusetts Boxing Commission met in special session today to investigate the much-criticized Jimmy Carter-Tommy Collins world lightweight title bout—described by one sports writer as "another Boston massacre."

The meeting was called at the request of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts.

Many visiting experts were sharply critical of the handling of the bout, in which Carter floored Collins 10 times before referee Tommy Rawson stopped the fight in the fourth round.

'Another Boston massacre" was what Al Buck of the New York Post termed it. Jimmy Cannon of the same paper wrote that it was "filthy and wicked." Jim Jennings of the New York Mirror saw the fight as "boxing in its most sadistic form." Lewis Burton of the New York Journal-American said the referee gave boxing 'a black eye."

In a sports page editorial, the Chicago Tribune described the fight as "one of the most revolting spectacles ever presented under the name of sport" and said "the glamour attending the Carter victory was "lost in the unbelievable incompetence of Referee Tommy Rawson." The paper urged the Massachusetts governor demand a thorough house cleaning of the state boxing commission.

Collins insisted today he was only slightly hurt. He had a puffed left eye and a cut over the left eyebrow that required three stitches. But otherwise he was chipper.

"Why, after the fight," he said, "I met my wife in a night club and we danced together. I was feeling pretty good. I just couldn't get started last night."

BOSTON, April 25 (AP)—Millions in the nation's televised boxing audiance continued seething with indignation today over the manner in which Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter was permitted to dispose of Boston's Tommy Collins, an amazingly courageous and astoundingly rash challenger.

After Carter knocked down Collins 10 times in 11 minutes 28 seconds to gain a four-round technical knockout victory in their scheduled 15-round bout last night at the Boston Garden, outraged protests were heard almost everywhere television reaches. Only Boston was blacked out in the nation.

The direct target of the public fury was Referee Tommy Rawson, a highly competent lightweight battler in his own right about 20 years ago and now a successful Cambridge contractor. The two members of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission at ringside also drew sharp criticism from widely spread TV viewers.

Collins Defends Rawson.

The victim of the most savage battle ever televised, Collins, himself, supported Rawson's officiating with the very first words he uttered reaching his dressing room.

"Of course I don't think Rawson should have stopped the fight earlier," Collins said through puffed lips. "It was for the world championship. Why should they have stopped it?"

The consensus of the Rawson critics was that Rawson erred in permitting Collins to suffer so many knockdowns.

"It was the worst exhibition of boxing officiating I have seen in 50 years," Barton said. "I can't understand why the referee permitted Collins to take such a beating. The bout should have been stopped after he had been knocked down for the third or fourth time in the third round."

"No blow that knocked Collins down was a flush punch," Rawson explained. "He was knocked down every time by 'feel-out' punches.

"I never felt at any time that Collins was in danger of being hurt. While wiping off his gloves after the first nine knockdowns, I yelled in his ear, 'Can you continue?' Each time he replied, 'Yes, I'm fine.'"

Rawson finally stopped the uneven contest when one of Collins's seconds, "Coogie" McFarland, brother of Boxing Commissioner Tommy McFarland, rushed into the ring after the challenger toppled for the tenth time.

Less than five minutes after Collins was guided from the ring he took a shower without assistance and was able to discuss the wrecking of his championship hopes in lucid fashion. But his face was battered and his left eye almost closed.

Neither of the state boxing commissioners in attendance, newly appointed Chairman Henry Lamar, himself a former boxer, and McFarland, also an oldtime boxer, would comment about the one-sided battle.

Angry KSD-TV Fans Call One-Sided Bout 'Murder,' 'Slaughter'

KSD-TV viewers joined radio and ringside fans last night in protests against the failure of the referee to stop the Carter-Collins bout earlier. The Post-Dispatch station received 14 telephone calls, more than the usual number for a telecast event.

One angry fan called the prolonged fight "murder" and another referred to it as "slaughter." A third said, "If we want to see a bull fight, we'll go to Spain."

Several wanted to know where they could send telegrams to the sponsor of the program.

'Worst Exhibition of Refereeing I Have Seen in 50 Years'---Barton

Words such as "murder," "slaughter," "atrocious," "pitiful," "disgusting," "brutal" and "gruesome" were used freely by TV watchers who swamped newspapers and television stations across the country with telephone calls.

"Everything we've done to make boxing a clean, competitive sport they've thrown to the wind," declared Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"Where were the doctors? Why didn't they stop it quicker?" said Christenberry after viewing the bout on television in New York. "Milions of people witnessed this black eye to boxing and it will take a long time for boxing to make up for it."

Barton Criticizes Refree.

"It was the worst exhibition of boxing officiating I have seen in 50 years," said George Barton, president of the National Boxing Association, at ringside. "The fight was so hopelessly one-sided that I think it should have been stopped after Collins had been knocked down for the third or fourth time in the third round."

N.B.A. Commissioner Abe J. Greene said at his home in Paterson, N.J., that "it seemed the fight went far beyond the time it should have been stopped."

Collins readily backed Rawson's action in allowing the fight to continue despite the many knockdowns. The Carter camp heaped tribute on Collins for his courage and almost superhuman endurance.

"He was a faster puncher than I thought," said Carter. "He stunned me a bit in that first round with a right hand. He's a great fighter."

Willie Ketchum, Carter's manager, said: "Rawson should have stepped in after Collins was knocked down seven times in the third round. I told Rawson 'what do you want to do, get him killed.'" But Ketchum quoted Rawson as replying: "I know what I'm doing."

Switchboards Flooded.

Irate boxing writers, those who paid to see the fight and the millions of TV fans were unable to take that viewpoint.

Switchboards of newspapers in Boston, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, San Francisco, New Haven, Dallas, Memphis, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Denver, Cincinnati and scores of other cities throughout the United States were swamped by calls. Many newspapers had to shut off calls to their sports departments.

A Pittsburgh fan told the Post-Gazette: "That fight sets boxing back 400 years."

"My wife and kids were crying and I couldn't stand it any longer, so I shut off my television set," a man told the San Francisco Examiner.

"It was murder and slaughter" and "that referee should have his license revoked," declared several Chicago fans.

New England fans who saw the fight outside the blacked out Boston area were equally bitter.

Boston City Councilor Frederick C. Hailer Jr., said the fight was "a show of barbarism. The boxing commission should be made to answer for this. It could have been a tragedy."

Other Boston fans predicted an end to boxing in the city. "It's finished—but good," said one.

Barney Ross, one-time world welterweight champion and a Marine hero of World War II, said in Los Angeles he "never saw such a brutal affair in a ring in all my life."

Telegrams as well as phone calls flooded Boston newspapers. One telegram even was sent to Boston police headquarters by John W. Lawrence of Portsmouth, Va.

"The referee in the Collins fight should be charged with attempted homicide," Lawrence said in his telegram.

Carter Far Superior.

Although the ill-fated Collins ruled as Boston's current fistic idol, his most rabid supporters agreed he had to deliver an early knockout to dethrone the highly competent Carter. Carter weighed 134½ and Collins 133¾.

As a result, the champion was a top-heavy 2-1 favorite when he entered the ring before a 12,477 crowd. And, from the very first fistic exchange, Carter demonstrated his superiority in decisive fashion.

The battlers spent the first round feeling each other out and, apparently, Carter learned all he wanted to know during the first three minutes.

As soon as the second session opened, Carter lacerated Collins with his two-fisted attack to the head and body. He put the Bostonian down seven times in the third round and three times more before Rawson intervened at 2:28 in the fourth.

The bout's first financial report, subject to revision, assured Collins of his richest purse, 22½ per cent of both the net receipts of $123,577 and the $50,000 television fee. Carter's was 37½ per cent—the champion's customary share—of the combined revenue.

Stanky Refuses to Be Drawn Into Oral Row With Hornsby

By Bob Broeg
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

CHICAGO, April 25—Eddie Stanky, once willing to bat sulphuric adjectives back and forth with the best of 'em, today refused to be drawn into an oral battle with blunt Rogers Hornsby.

The outspoken Hornsby, who lives here, spent an off-day Thursday watching the Cubs beat Milwaukee at Wrigley Field, where the Cardinals and Chicago Nationals will try to open their series again today.

The Rajah, who takes a dim view of the Redbirds as a ball club, expressed belief the Cubs could finish ahead of the Cardinals this season, according to Jim Enright of the Chicago American, and was quoted as saying:

"It's strictly a four player team. After you consider Musial, Slaughter, Schoendienst and Del Rice, who have they got? Not much."

The Cincinnati manager was asked by the Chicago reporter what he thought about Solly Hemus.

"He's a good team man, I guess" was Hornsby's answer, "but he can't cover enough ground for a good shortstop in my book, but why talk about Hemus? Everybody knows Musial, Slaughter and Schoendienst, but nobody gives that Rice fellow a tumble.

"Rice is an excellent catcher, does everything well. Just let something happen to him and that little time-killing popoff who manages the club will really be in the soup."

Stanky chuckled at the Rajah's uncomplimentary reference to him, observed wryly that he thought he had expressed appreciation for Rice all along and said, smiling, "maybe Rog got up here and found that the janitor of the apartment building he owns had quit, or something. No I'm not going to get into any rhubarb with him—he's a pretty good old guy."

The Redbird manager just had come back in the rain from Wrigley Field, where he escorted August A. Busch Jr., president of the Cardinals on a tour of the bright and cheerful Cub's Park, the cleanest and most attractive in the National League.

Busch was here for the day with John L. Wilson, executive vice president of the Red Birds; vice president Bill Walsingham, and Tony Buford, a member of the Cardinals board of directors. Busch's schedule would permit only a one day stay, though he plans to make the eastern swing with the Cardinals next week. When yesterday's game was rained out, he still insisted on seeing Wrigley Field.

Busch was impressed with Wrigley Field, and Stanky was impressed with the big boss's thoroughness after the Redbird president and his party had boarded a private railroad car for the return trip to St. Louis late yesterday afternoon.

Special Rates To Firms for Open Tickets

By Robert Morrison

An additional ticket-selling campaign, intended to assure an "in-the-black" promotion of the Western Open golf championship here, was announced last night by the St. Louis District Golf Association.

The plan is to offer some 600 business firms an opportunity to purchase $60 worth of $2 daily tickets for the price of $50, it was announced by John Fritsch, president of the district association.

With a net of about $19,198 in hand from the ticket-selling operations of the 200 Club, the additional drive is designed to reach a budget goal of $28,000. This means that about 215 of the industrial ticket books at a net after taxes of $40.98, will have to be sold to make the difference. Some of the difference may be made up, however, from television, parking and concession income.

Announcing the new plan at a meeting of the 200 Club at Greenbriar Hills, Fritsch said that the District Golf Association believed the additional ticket-selling effort would be necessary.

"There have been excellent strides taken in the ticket selling," he said, "and we don't want to unnecessarily burden anybody with the job.

President Lou Langhi of the 200 Club announced that membership of that ticket-selling group had reached 230. Each member has put up $102 for 17 tickets. The total amount represented is $23,460 and after taxes the net is $19,180.

Langhi said membership in the 200 Club will remain open until May 1.

The Western Open, being held in St. Louis for the second consecutive year, is scheduled to be played at Bellerive May 28-31.

Hermann Hurls DeAndreis Into League Lead

Clarence Hermann pitched four-hit shutout baseball as De Andreis defeated St. Mary's, 10-0, and took over first place in the Prep League yesterday. At the same time, Principia Academy made its first ABC League start and lost to Country Day, 6-3, at Taylor Field.

And, to confound followers of prep activity, Central finally broke into the victory column of the Public High League, beating Beaumont, 4-3, behind the steady pitching of Lester Bushmann.

Wet grounds prevented two league games from being played—McBride vs. C.B.C. at Sherman Park and John Burroughs at Western.

Bascom Boxes Harrison at Winter Garden

By W. J. McGoogan

Wesbury Bascom of East St. Louis and Tommy Harrison, Los Angeles, meet in a return bout of 10 rounds at the Winter Garden, 520 DeBaliviere avenue, tonight in the main event of a five-bout card under the direction of Promoter Hans Bernstein which will be televised nationally with this area blacked out. The feature contest starts promptly at 8 o'clock because of the telecast.

For Bascom it is almost a do or die effort against Harrison because Wes has little to show for his recent efforts in the ring and if he wants to continue as a headline fighter he'll have to come up with a victory. They each weighed in at 180 pounds at the official weigh-in.

Among the other contests on the program, all of which follow the main event, one is of more than usual importance. That is the final event in which Allan Moody of Chicago tackles Billy Sudduth of Wichita, Kan. Moody is the new find of Manager Sam Piano, who handled, among others, Barney Ross and Tony Zale in their championship days.

Sudduth has moved along nicely in his bouts and has established a good reputation.

Bobby Bickle, also of Wichita, who has showed to advantage here will oppose Bob Singleton of Chicago in 8 rounds.

Winter Garden Card

Billikens Lose To Titans, 3-1

Coach Lou McKenna's Billikens must take both ends of today's doubleheader if St. Louis University is to qualify for the right to defend its Missouri Valley Conference baseball title this year.

The Bills, early inning leaders over the University of Detroit yesterday, found the wind and Titan pitcher Howard Hughes too much and dropped a 3-1 decision in the initial game of their series.

The teams are scheduled to meet on the St. Louis U. High diamond at 4970 Oakland at 1 p.m. this afternoon to settle the championship of the Northern Division and the right to play the Southern winner for the crown later this spring.

Roosevelt's Scheffels Wins Shotput Event

By Harold Tuthill

Ken Scheffels of Roosevelt won the shotput final to highlight a strong early bid by the Rough Riders in the Maplewood Relays being held today. Scheffels' distance was 47 feet, 1 inch. There was a strong wind blowing against the shotputters.

Meiners of C.B.C. was second, Weisel of St. Mary's, and Don Dunard of Beaumont, tied for third and fourth, and Greenwald of University City was fifth.

Three Roosevelt boys were among the 12 who qualified for the finals in the high hurdles and 100-yard dash, to be held later in the day.

HIGH HURDLES.

Charles Batch, C.B.C. (best time of :15.9); Hicks, Kirkwood; Bommarito, Normandy; Behlman, McBride; Frank, Roosevelt; Yarnell, Wood River.

100-YARD DASH.

Pete Van Dam, Kirkwood; Rosenberg, University City; Voight, Roosevelt (first three tied for best time, :10.7); Rush, C.B.C.; Dagnan, St. Louis U. High; McNeill, Roosevelt.

Byrne to Face Former Brownie Mates Today

Trucks Loses to White Sox

By Dent McSkimming

Beaten by a couple of ex-Brownies last night, Marty Marion's team faced the possibility of a repeat performance at Busch Stadium this afternoon. Tommy Byrne will try to duplicate the shutout feat of Gene Bearden who stopped the Brownies on three hits to win, 3-0. Former Brownie Jim Rivera drove in two of Chicago's runs.

But the Browns have a rather sharp hurler going for them, too, Duane Pillette, when he worked against Detroit last Saturday, pitched to only 18 batters in six innings. Coming back off that effort, he should square the series here.

Game time is 2 p.m. The same teams will play a doubleheader tomorrow.

Bearden's achievement was remarkable. Coming into the game in the first inning after Lou Kretlow had filled the bases with walks, big Gene forced Bob Elliott to hit into a double play to end the inning. Then he put together eight more scoreless innings in which the only hits were singles by Clint Courtney, Roy Sievers and Billy Hunter. He had a two-hitter until the ninth. Bearden gave up three walks and was rarely "behind" the hitter.

Bearden Won 7 in '52.

Last season, as a member of the Browns, Bearden was credited with seven victories and was charged with eight defeats. He hurled 151 innings and allowed 158 hits and 78 walks and had an earned run average of 4.29. He went to the Browns spring training camp and was considered a regular member of the staff until he was sold to the White Sox, about a month before the season started.

Frank Lane, astute general manager of the White Sox, watching the game from the press box, was very happy about Bearden's accomplishment in defeating Virgil Trucks.

"Lots of nerve in the clutch. He doesn't have the 'stuff' he used to win with, but he knows how and he's got the nerve."

Kretlow, the Chicago pitcher who started, showed a million dollars' worth of physical equipment—a strong arm, speed and curves—but he couldn't get the ball over the plate. Bearden, the "has been," had control and an assortment of pitches—everything but a real fast ball.

Some very messy fielding contributed to the downfall of Trucks. In the first inning, with one out, Ferris Fain singled and was forced by Orestes Minoso. When Trucks tried to pick Minoso off first base, his throw got through Roy Sievers's glove for an error, Minoso streaking to third. Sam Mele drew a pass and Jim Rivera singled, scoring Minoso. When Rocco Krsnich also singled, Mele scored.

Trucks, cutting off the threw from the outfield, tried to catch Krsnich trying for second. His throw went into center field and Rivera wound up on third and Krsnich second. Trucks then fanned Chico Carrasquel to end a bad inning.

Trucks's Error Hurts.

The other Chicago run came in the third inning, with the aid of an error by Trucks. With one out, Minoso singled, his second of three hits. He went to third when Trucks threw wild trying to pick Minnie off first. Rivera's single scored him.

Chicago's threat of speed on the base paths contributed to the Browns' discomfort. It was Minoso's big lead off first that twice induced Trucks to try to pick him off and both attempts resulted disastrously. Again, Rivera was a threat. True, he was nailed by Clint Courtney's perfect throw in the third inning, but he got away with his steal in the sixth.

Nellie Fox, too, tried some spectacular sprinting. He tried to stretch his fifth-inning double into a triple, but was out on perfect throws by Vic Wertz and Bobby Young. When Minoso was out stealing in the same inning, he came up ranting and raving at Umpire Art Passarella's decision, for which he gained the ill feeling of the left-field bleacherites. But the Sox were runningX for sure.

The crowd of 6947 was treated to an after-game fireworks display. . . Don Larsen pitched the last two innings, giving up one hit. . . Vern Stephens, having trouble getting his base hits, was given a rest by Manager Richards. . . The defeat dropped the Browns to third place. . . It was their second straight defeat.

Birk's Long Drive Gives Cathedral 5-4 League Win

By John J. Archibald

A tremendous smash by Belleville Cathedral's big Paul Birk broke up the ball game against St. Francis de Sales yesterday, and moved the Illinoisans higher up in the Catholic League baseball race. The drive came in the seventh inning, with one man on and the score tied at 3-3 in the game at Cherokee Park.

Birk hit the ball far over the head of deep-playing centerfielder Bob Longo, and it hit a building there on one bounce. Because the ball rebounded so hard Birk was held to a triple. Joe Orlet scored Birk with a grounder, however, and Cathedral had a 5-3 lead.

The battling St. Francis team came back with a run on a hit and an error in its half of the seventh, but that was all, and Cathedral had its fourth victory in league play, 5 to 4.

Chaminade defeated St. John, 9 to 2, to remain a half-game ahead of Cathedral with a 4 and 1 record. Ed Stemac pitched a three-hitter for Chaminade as he recorded his fifth victory of the season. Bob O'Brien hit a home run for Chaminade.

Marquette defeated St. Peter's, 9 to 5, in a third Catholic League contest.

Belleville Cathedral had to come from behind in its game. Starting pitcher Joe Orlet didn't have his usual control, and Coach Ed Auer's club used three walks and two singles to tally twice in the first inning. A walk and a triple by Bob Fedak brought St. Francis its third run in the second frame, and Vinny Koehr relieved Orlet on the mound.

Orlet, a consistent hitter, moved to first base. The move proved a wise one for Brother Lloyd Misho, the Cathedral coach, for Koehr quickly retired the side, and Orlet later batted in three runs.

During his six full innings on the mound Koehr struck out eight batters and allowed two hits. Jim Hoff, the St. Francis hurler, permitted Cathedral only six hits while going the route, but that big one, by Birk, was one too many.

In a state tournament elimination game, St. Charles had more trouble than it bargained for with Laboure, but finally won with a five-run outburst in the eighth inning, 9 to 4. Bob Cannon knocked in three runs for St. Charles with his two doubles.

Cochran Blows Lead and Loses Pinehurst Duel

PINEHURST, N.C., April 25 (UP)—Mal Galetta of St. Albans, N.Y., the 1944 titleholder, came from behind to win the last two holes yesterday and defeat Bob Cochran of St. Louis, 1 up, to enter the final of the North and South amateur golf tournament along with William Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.

Campbell, the 1950 North-South champion, easily defeated William Hyndman of Abington, Pa., 4 and 3, in the other semi-final match.

Galetta was one down going to the tee for the short seventeenth and appeared doomed to defeat when his drive landed on the sixteenth fairway with trees between it and the green. But Cochran landed in a trap with his tee shot. Galetta pitched over the trees onto the green, 30 feet from the cup, while Cochran decided to play it safe and played his trap shot away from the pin to avoid a trap on the other side.

His approach hit the edge of the green, 60 feet from the pin. Galetta two-putted for a 4 on the par 3 hole but Cochran needed three putts and the match was even.

On No. 18, Galetta's second shot was 14 feet from the cup while Cochran's second was 20 feet off the edge of the green. Electing to use his putter, Cochran stroked the ball seven feet past the cup and then missed the putt coming back, winding up with a 5 while Galetta two-putted for victory.

Cochran earlier had a 2-up lead by shooting a par 3 on the sixth and dropping a three-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the seventh.

Campbell piled up an early lead and never was in danger. Shooting three strokes under par for the first five holes, Campbell took a 3-up lead and Hyndman never was able to close the gap. Campbell closed out the match on No. 14, when he chipped in from the edge of the green for a birdie 2.

Jeffries Wins Second Title In YMCA Swim

Wally Jeffries of St. Louis's Downtown Y gained his second title and three records were bettered on the exciting second day's program in the National Y.M.C.A. swimming and diving championships at Washington University. Jeffries, winner Thursday night of the 1500-meter race, came back last night to win the 200-yard free style event with a time of 2 minutes and 14.3 seconds.

Keith Peterson of Gary, Ind., a Northwestern U. Big 10 champion swimming from Chicago, broke the 50-yard free style mark with a 22.8 time in the preliminaries and then won the event last night with a 23.4. Don Brown of Colorado Springs, Colo., had a 2:16.8 in the 200-yard backstroke and the Wilson Avenue Y of Chicago registered 3:41.3 in the 400-yard free style relay for the other new marks.

Preliminaries will be held today and finals at 8:30 tonight in the 100-yard back, 100-yard breast, 100-yard free, 440-yard free, 150-yard individual medley, three-meter diving and 300-yard medley relay events.

Billikens' Lillis Goes to Celtics

BOSTON, April 25 (AP)—Five basketball stars from Kansas and two from Missouri were among those chosen yesterday as the National Basketball Association opened its annual draft of collegiate players.

St. Louis University's Tom Lillis went to Boston, while Forrest Hamilton of Southwest Missouri State at Springfield was chosen by the New York Knickerbockers.

Jack Carby of Kansas State was drafted by Baltimore, while teammate Bob Roussey went to Milwaukee. Kansas University's Dean Kelly went to Fort Wayne and Gil Reich was picked by the Boston Celtics.

Dick Knostman, 6-foot 6-inch Kansas State star, went to Syracuse.

Concordia Nine Wins.

M'ARTHUR PLAN TO COW REDS HAS FEW U.S. BACKERS

Coolness in Washington Toward Proposal Indicates to Some It Will Be Shelved.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur so far had few takers today for his plan to induce Russia to settle the Korean war by threatening to destroy Red China's industry and its supply link with the Soviet Union.

The White House, State Department and Defense Department all declined to comment on his proposals. Congressmen, some of them MacArthur's admirers, cautiously avoided indorsing the plan while the United States and its Allies appear to be making some progress toward negotiating an end to the Korean hostilities.

The MacArthur plan was received sourly by Britain, one of many United States allies that have feared dramatic American action in the Far East which might broaden the Korean war and touch off a third world war.

Shelving of Idea Likely.

The coolness with which the general's proposals were received indicated to some experts they would be shelved. If negotiations with the Communists break down completely, strategists could bring them out for new consideration.

MacArthur's threaten-China idea, made public yesterday, included a bitter denunciation of the Truman Administration's handling of the Korean war as well as a defense of his previously stated idea of hitting directly at Red China.

Harry S. Truman, vacationing in Hawaii, said he had "no comment."

While the White House and State Department declined comment, informed sources said the Eisenhower Administration for the present intends to make no change in United States policy.

Officials are especially anxious not to take any new steps as truce talks are beginning.

Support for MacArthur's plan came from Korean Ambassador Y. C. Yang who said the General's plan for "putting heavy pressure" on the Chinese Communists "sounds good to me."

Some Upset by Timing.

Some Senators said privately that they were upset about the timing of the MacArthur letter.

Others, like Senator Bridges (Rep.), New Hampshire, said if the United Nations fail to get a settlement through negotiations it might then be wise to "consider the MacArthur proposal."

Senator George (Dem.), Georgia, a ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, cautioned against any steps that might throw away present progress toward a truce. But he credited such a step as the General's as possibly helping persuade the Communists to come to terms.

Senator Gillette (Dem.), Iowa, said: "We should disabuse our minds of any thought that we can wave a club over the Soviet Union and frighten them."

Senator Russell (Dem.), Georgia, former chairman of the Armed Services Committee, declared: "I agree we need a new approach on the Korean war but I'm not willing to go that far."

Representative Van Zandt (Rep.), Pennsylvania, a member of the House Armed Services and Joint Atomic Energy Committee, declared, however, MacArthur "is absolutely right" and called for atomic bombing of strategic targets on the Chinese mainland.

VOLUNTARY HOSPITAL-FEDERAL CO-OPERATION IS ADVISED

A co-operative working arrangement between voluntary hospitals and government health agencies will keep private hospitals independent, less expensive and more efficient than government controlled ones, Dr. Albert W. Snoke, director of Grace-New Haven (Conn.) Community Hospital, said last night.

He spoke at the evening meeting of the Washington University School of Nursing Institute at the medical center, Scott and Euclid avenues. The two-day institute will end tonight with a dinner dance at Chase Hotel.

Miss Marion J. Wright of Detroit, associate director of Harper Hospital, said yesterday at the institute, proper use of graduate nurses would ease the nursing shortage somewhat. Nurses' aids, who get 80 hours' training, could relieve them of non-professional duties, thereby giving the graduate nurse more time to tend patients, she asserted.

U.S. OFFICER QUITS AS HEAD OF U.N. PALESTINE BOARD

Riley has been in Palestine since 1948. No reason was disclosed by the U.N. for his resignation; associates said he had been anxious for some time to quit.

GEN. BRADLEY ASKS NEW JOINT CHIEFS BE CHOSEN PROMPTLY

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has proposed that successors for himself and two of the other three members of the top military planning group be named promptly.

Bradley said last night he has suggested to Secretary of Defense Wilson that the new members be appointed before expiration of the incumbents' terms so they could start studying staff problems.

The joint chiefs chairman spoke from Paris in an interview with NBC Commentator Richard Harkness in Washington.

Bradley's term and that of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, expire Aug. 1. The term of Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force Chief of Staff, ends June 30. The remaining member, Adm. William Fechteler, Chief of Naval Operations, has a term running two more years.

EX-ST. LOUISAN, WIFE PLEAD GUILTY TO FEDERAL CHARGES

Robert S. Wotring, formerly of St. Louis, who authorities said had obtained about $100,000 by passing worthless checks in four years, and his wife, Willadena, pleaded guilty today at Indianapolis to diverse charges. United States District Judge William E. Steckler deferred sentencing them pending a probation investigation.

Wotring, charged with transporting forged checks, stolen property and stolen automobiles across state lines, faced maximum fines of $75,000 and 75 years in prison. His wife, charged with two counts of interstate transportation of stolen property, could be sentenced to 20 years and fined $20,000.

FOURTH OF W. L. IGOE ESTATE LEFT TO DE PAUL SOCIETY

One-fourth of the estate of William L. Igoe, former attorney and Democratic Congressman, after specific bequests totaling $7700, will go to the St. Vincent de Paul Society, his will filed in probate court showed yesterday.

Value of the estate was not estimated. Igoe, a bachelor, was a former head of the Police Board and a Papal Knight of St. Gregory. He died last Monday.

Included in specific bequests was $4000 to the Franciscan Missionary Brothers of the Sacred Heart at Eureka, for two memorial rooms. Of the remainder of the estate, 17½ per cent is to go to Mrs. Frank H. Schless, a niece, and a like amount to Mrs. Michael J. Banahan, also a niece; 15 per cent each to Mrs. Marie Concannon and Miss Catherine Dillon, nieces, and 10 per cent to Mrs. Peter M. Igoe, widow of a deceased brother.

ROAD CHIEF SAYS THIRD ST. HIGHWAY WILL 'MELT' DOUBTS

Public apathy and misunderstanding about the merits of the state's urban highways program will "melt like the fog before the sun" when the Third Street Interregional Highway here is completed, the Missouri Highway Engineers' Association was told yesterday.

H. D. Rodgers, chairman of the Missouri State Highway Commission, outlined the state's highway modernization and expansion program in a talk read for him at the association's annual meeting at Hotel Statler.

Increasing the state's total of highway miles from the present 20,000 miles to 32,000 miles, as envisioned in the 10-year program, will give Missouri a highway system comparable to those of larger and more populous states, speakers told the group.

HUSBAND OF INDIA EDWARDS QUITS U.S. INFORMATION JOB

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Hebert T. Edwards has resigned as director of the motion picture service in the State Department's Overseas Information program.

He is the husband of India Edwards, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee. In a letter to Robert L. Johnson, new head of the International Information Administration, Edwards said he was leaving "for personal reasons."

TWO PLANES FALL ON EXPERIMENTAL FLIGHT, 6 KILLED

Superfort and Thunderjet Apparently Collide High Above Long Island—No Survivors.

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y., April 25 (AP)—A secret experimental flight by a B-29 Superfort and an F-84 Thunderjet ended in disaster yesterday, with the two craft carrying all their six crewmen to death.

The planes, flying together when they suddenly burst into flames high above Long Island, apparently collided. However, investigators said no one on the ground actually saw them come into contact.

Air Force spokesmen said the flight was of a "classified nature." The service denied an earlier report that the bomber was refueling the fighter in flight at the time of the crash. However, no other details of the mission were disclosed.

The pilot of the jet and the five men aboard the Superfort were from the Wright Air Development Center at Dayton, O.

Both planes took off from a field at the Republic Aircraft Corp. in Farmingdale, N.Y., and flew eastward about 50 miles until they were over great Peconic Bay, an arm of Long Island Sound cutting into the island about 100 miles from New York.

It was while over the bay that they crashed, about an hour after their takeoff.

Witnesses on the ground said there was a ripping sound, a burst of flames, and then the plunges by the two planes, trailing smoke and flame behind them.

B-29 Falls Into Bay.

The B-29 hit the waters of the bay near the southern shore and sank, leaving only an oil slick. The jet fell into a wood on the south shore, a short distance inland, and burned on the ground.

None of the bodies of the bomber crew have been recovered. The jet pilot was thrown clear of his plane.

The Air Force identified the jet pilot as Maj. John Davis, 32 years old, Dayton, O., a test pilot from the Wright Center. He was on temporary assignment with the Republic Corp., which owned the jet.

Crewmen on the bomber, which was on detached service from Wright, were identified as: Capt. J. J. Vapenick, about 30, the pilot, Cleveland; Capt. H. C. McClanahan, 30, the co-pilot, Dayton; Tech. Sgt. John R. Clarkson, 31, Austin, Tex., and Master Sgts. Claude Chemp, 34, Martins Ferry, O. and D. D. Shaffer, 34, Dayton.

BALKY RED INQUIRY WITNESS LOSES CHEMICAL SOCIETY JOB

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Robert Norton of New York has been discharged by the American Chemical Society News Service for refusing to say whether he was a Communist party member in the past.

Norton was questioned yesterday by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He swore he is not now a Communist, but refused to say whether he was one in 1947.

Norton was named by another witness, Miss Anne Stommel, as being associated with a special course for New York school teachers in 1947. Miss Stommel said material was taught there which she termed "detrimental to the best interests of the United States."

Col. McCormick Cuts Lip in Fall.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Washington Times-Herald and Chicago Tribune, was treated at Georgetown hospital yesterday for a cut lip. Three stitches were taken. He suffered the injury in a fall after arising early in the morning. He apparently slipped on a rug near his bed.

TWO G.I.S REPORT DEATHS OF 2300 FELLOW CAPTIVES

Wounded Sergeant Tells of Winter March in Which He Rode Part Way on Cow.

By ROBERT EUNSON

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, April 25 (AP)—Two American soldiers who endured more than two years of misery as prisoners of the Communists said today that more than 2300 of their comrades died of exhaustion, hunger and wounds in two North Korean stockades.

Master Sgt. Gilbert Christie, 42 years old, of Montezuma, Ind., said "much over 50 per cent" of 3000 prisoners in his camp died during the winter of 1950-51.

Cpl. John L. Watters Jr. of Beckley, W.Va., said 800 out of 1500 United Nations captives died in Camp No. 5 at Pyoktong between April 1, 1951, and August 1952.

G.I. Throws Crutches Away.

Most of the 17 Americans, four British and four Turks released by the Reds today looked fairly strong. A few walked haltingly. One Yank saw the sign "Freedom Village" here and hurled his crutches away in joy.

Christie described a bitter march as a captive in the winter of 1950:

"I was one of the fortunate ones. I collapsed and passed out and rode the rest of the day on a cow. I had two wounds—a fragment in the chest and a broken arm—and I needed help from one of the fellows who kept me balanced on top of the cow."

Christie praised two sergeants who "kept up our morale, the two men who stuck out."

He named them as Master Sgt. Robert Ashbole of the Second Division from Albert Lea, Minn., and Sgt. Kenneth J. Tuskey of Milwaukee.

Christie said both are in good condition.

'Kept Up Our Morale.'

"They kept up our morale, helping the sick and mothering everybody. Both were outstanding athletes and stood it better."

Cpl. Watters said treatment of prisoners did not improve "until the last three months."

He was wounded in the leg, hip and stomach near Kunu Nov. 26, 1950, and was taken to a Korean hut 50 miles north of the city.

"They started bringing in more wounded until there were 24 altogether within two weeks," he related. "Many of the wounded died. In fact, out of the 24, only three are living."

Allied planes strafed the area, he said, since there were no markings to show that U.N. captives were held there.

ONLY 80 WALK OUT OF 'DEATH VALLEY'

TOKYO, April 25 (AP)—Three hundred and fifty bedraggled American prisoners staggered into the little North Korean valley. Five and one-half months later 70 to 80 walked out. The rest were dead.

This was "Death valley," the clearing station where some of the Americans swept up by the Reds in fighting around Changjin reservoir were kept through the winter of 1950-51.

The cold was unbelievable, Sgt. First Class Robert A. Lee of Falco, Ala., recalled today. "A guard told us one night the temperature was 40 degrees below. The snow was deep all around."

Lee, a veteran of the reservoir battles, spent 29 months as a prisoner of the Reds. His left arm is stiff from a wound and he lost eight toes from frostbite. He was repatriated earlier this week at Panmunjom and is recuperating in an Army hospital.

"Death valley" was about 30 miles north of the reservoir, in the mountains just south of the Manchurian border.

"The majority died in the valley," Lee said. "There were 350 Americans—so far as I know all members of the United States Seventh Division. I know of only 70 or 80 that left.

"The others died of starvation and the lack of medical treatment. The cold helped, too. The cold and sickness."

The prisoners slept on dirt floors of tiny huts. They had no blankets except those they had managed to bring with them.

"We were awfully hungry. Some men were punished for stealing potatoes," Lee said.

Moscow Radio Says Atrocity Reports Are U. S. Cover-up.

LONDON, April 25 (AP)—The Moscow radio charged today that the American press has spread tales of Communist atrocities in Korea either to complicate the present prisoner exchange or cover up United States massacres of Red prisoners.

Quoting a dispatch from the Soviet news agency Tass, the radio said the first stories about released prisoners "testified to the good treatment they received from the Chinese."

Later, it said, "Atrocity tales suddenly began to arrive from Panmunjon, allegedly on the basis of interviews with the second group of prisoners released."

British Commander Discounts Death March Reports.

FREEDOM VILLAGE, April 25 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Henry Wells, commander in chief of British Commonwealth forces in Korea, issued this statement today:

"From our interviews with repatriated prisoners of war we have gained no knowledge of any death march or similar ill treatment."

Eisenhower Golfing Again.

Taking Cover in Mock A-Bomb Attack

TWO WOMEN'S GROUP AT ODDS ON U.N.

Voters' League and D.A.R. Start Grass Roots Drives in Opposite Directions.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Two powerful women's organizations threw their support today behind grass roots campaigns to influence public opinion regarding the United Nations—but in opposite directions.

The Daughters of the American Revolution want to curtail United States participation in U.N. affairs.

The League of Women Voters seeks to combat "unfounded attacks" on the U.N.

Both organizations ended national meetings here yesterday at which the U.N. was a major topic of policy discussion. Delegates were instructed to go home and mobilize community support for the two groups' contrasting views.

Mrs. John G. Lee, Farmington, Conn., league president, expressed concern over the "widespread campaign to undermine progress the U.N. is making."

"Without its vigilance and painstaking effort to ease the world's political, social and economic tensions, we might already be engulfed in, even destroyed by, World War III," she said.

At its convention, the D.A.R. passed 10 resolutions criticizing the United Nations, member agencies and their activities. UNESCO, the covenant for human rights and the genocide convention drew the sharpest criticism.

ALASKA-ST. LOUIS TOWBOAT CARGO IS DIVERTED ON WAY

A shipment of army supplies which was to reach St. Louis when the first towboat from Alaska docks here early next week has been diverted to Memphis, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

The tow, which opens monthly traffic between the Port of St. Louis and Alaska, will thus arrive without a cargo, it was said.

The shipment, consisting of diverse Engineer Corps materials from Ladd Air Force Base, Alaska, was to have been re-shipped from St. Louis to an Army depot at Columbus, O., marking St. Louis's beginning as a freight transfer point from deep-draft vessels to land and air transport facilities. The tow will be loaded here for return to Alaska.

The Army's general depot at Memphis, Tenn., is to receive and store the materials instead of the Columbus depot, on orders from the office of Chief of Engineers at Washington, it was learned.

Capt. Charles T. Pearson, assistant transportation officer at Memphis, said such changes of orders are "routine and subject to convenience."

ARTIST WALTER PERSHALL WINS $25 U.S. BOND AWARD

Walter Pershall, Granite City artist, has won first prize, a $25 United States Government bond, in the current exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists of St. Louis at the Central Public Library, it was announced today. "Yot Broker" is the title of his winning picture.

Tied for second were Ruth Menendez and Victor Joseph Kunz, each of whom will also receive a $25 bond. Awards were determined by vote of the membership of the society.

Honorable mentions were given Melvina Calvert Schworm, Leona Chappell and Mary Creamer. The show will continue through Wednesday.

TUCKER AUTO SUIT AGAINST THREE MAGAZINES DISMISSED

HAMMOND, Ind., April 25 (AP)—A $4,000,000 libel suit brought for the Tucker Corp. against Esquire, Collier's and Reader's Digest magazines was dismissed in United States district court yesterday.

The Tucker firm, which never reached production with plans for a rear-engine passenger auto, accused the three magazines of making libelous statements about the car.

Judge Luther M. Swygert ruled that his court did not have jurisdiction in the case because none of the defendants does business in Indiana. Tucker patents now are controled by Jay Darlington, Hammond attorney.

RUSSIA READY TO CONFER WITH WEST ON PROBLEMS

tives to true peace endeavors were: at worst "atomic war," at best, "a life of perpetual fear and tension."

The Soviet statement fully agreed with Eisenhower's plea for a lessening of tension and building peace but it accused him of not being very consistent in his remarks.

"In his address," it declared, "the President of the United States for some reason considered it possible to connect his proposals of peace with a whole series of preliminary conditions presented by him to the Soviet Union, although these claims are not reinforced by corresponding obligations from the side of the United States."

Russians Have Claims.

Making it perfectly clear that they did not subscribe to or agree to many of these "conditions," the Soviet statement pointed out that Russia, too, has claims and ideas about what should be done.

The statement also took up Eisenhower on his remark that deeds, not words, are needed today by saying it is impossible not to agree with the President. In other words, the Soviets say they want some deeds in addition to words from the United States to show it wants peace.

"Those who wish to see in the Eisenhower address a 'real striving for peace,'" the statement declared, "cannot but ask why it was necessary for the President in a speech calling for peace to threaten in language capable of only one interpretation — atomic war?"

The Pravda statement noted that Eisenhower asked: "What is the Soviet Union prepared to undertake or do?"

"It is well known," the statement continued, "that the Soviet Union always manifests readiness to discuss and solve in a friendly manner international questions on condition that proposals on the solution of these questions, no matter who shall make them, are in some degree acceptable and are not counterposed either to the basic interests of the Soviet people and the interests of other peace-loving peoples."

"We do not intend to enter into a discussion with the President on his rather strange declaration about some sort of an end of a definite era in Soviet policy," the statement declared.

"But we cannot accept without surprise his conclusion that alleged the Soviet Government must renounce its heritage of foreign policy, the correctness of which is proven by the entire course of international development."

Eisenhower had said recent statements and gestures of the new Soviet leaders brought into power following the death of Joseph Stalin "give some evidence that they may recognize this critical moment" in the history of the world.

Comment on Dulles.

Referring to Secretary Dulles, the statement declared:

"We cannot pass by in silence the claim of Dulles that the alleged call of Soviet leaders for peaceful settlements was made under the pressure of the so-called firm policy of the United States.

"It is, however, known to the entire world that Soviet leaders determine their actions not by consideration of the 'firmness' or 'softness' of the policy of one or another country toward the U.S.S.R. but based on the interests of the Soviet people and world security."

On Eisenhower's disarmament proposals, the statement said the Soviet Union could agree to these items but found them too general. At the same time, it claimed, it is the Soviet Union and not the United States which has all along stood for a reduction of arms.

Foreign diplomats here attached major importance to the statement and to the unprecedented front page spread it received in the morning newspapers. Some envoys said it revealed an unquestioned desire on the part of Russia to sit down with the West and try to work out peace.

It was the first time the President's text has appeared here, although shortly after he spoke Soviet newspapers carried a 361-word item that included several of his points.

Spokesman Says Dulles Will Make No Comment on Statement.

PARIS, April 25 (AP) — A spokesman for John Foster Dulles said today the Secretary of State would make no comment on the Pravda statement.

Dulles brushed past reporters as he entered the last session of the NATO ministers meeting.

The spokesman said "we have normal diplomatic channels and there is no reason to comment on something in the newspapers."

George Bidault, French foreign minister, said the Pravda article was "very interesting, but I don't want to comment at this stage."

—A spokesman for Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Van Zeeland said publication of President Eisenhower's speech in Pravda was a "step in the right direction." He declined to comment on Pravda's statement.

The French foreign office refused comment.

At Bonn, West German Government sources said Moscow's reply to Eisenhower's peace challenge is disappointing because it "fails to offer any evidence that Russia is willing to ease world tension with concrete deeds."

"One would have thought," a spokesman said, "that the Russians would have made at least a small gesture — for instance on the question of a peace treaty for Austria. But they didn't even do that."

CARL TOLMAN TO HEAD WASHINGTON U. STAFF

Appointed Vice Chancellor and Dean of Faculties.

Carl Tolman, dean of the Washington University graduate school of arts and sciences, has been appointed vice chancellor and dean of faculties of the university, it was announced today.

He succeeds Leslie J. Buchan, who has resumed teaching duties as a professor in the School of Business and Public Administration.

Tolman, whose appointment is effective June 10, will continue as dean of the graduate school and as chairman of the department of geology. He also is professor of geology.

As Dean of faculties, a position recently combined with that of vice chancellor, Tolman will have general supervision of the teaching staff, a university spokesman explained. Thomas E. Blackwell will continue as vice chancellor in charge of the university's financial operations.

Lewis E. Hahn, chairman of the department of philosophy, has been appointed to assist Tolman in direction of the graduate school, as assistant dean.

Tolman, a consulting mining geologist and engineer, has conducted geologic investigations under auspices of the United States Geological Survey and other American and Canadian geologic agencies. From 1942 to 1945 he was on leave from the university to work with the Foreign Economic Administration in Washington, D.C.

A native of Alberta, Canada, he was educated at the University of British Columbia and at Yale University, from which he received a doctor of philosophy degree in 1927. He has been a member of the university faculty since that time. He has been in charge of the geology department since 1945 and dean of the graduate school since 1946.

Tolman, who is married and his two daughters, lives at 7373 Kingsbury place, University City.

RESIDENTS ORGANIZE TO LIMIT KIRKWOOD INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

An organization of Kirkwood home owners was formed last night for the purpose of keeping that suburb essentially a residential community. A survey will be made to determine what plans are under way for industrial expansion there and to what extent residential streets are used by trucks serving industries.

About 45 residents, meeting at the home of Frank B. Waddock, 415 Scott avenue, organized the South Woodlawn Improvement Association. John J. Raleigh, 217 South Woodlawn avenue, was elected chairman, and George McCue, 32 South Woodlawn, executive secretary. The meeting was the outgrowth of protests against a proposal to use the old Peter Seltzer property, site of "Studio Gardens," at 302 Leffingwell avenue, for industrial purposes.

FUNERAL FOR MRS. H. L. HUNT

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Hunt, widow of Henry L. Hunt, associate dean of the School of Commerce and Finance of St. Louis University until his death in 1944, will be Monday at 9 a.m. at St. Matthew's Church, Sarah street and Kennerly avenue. Burial will be at Portage Des Sioux, Mo.

Mrs. Hunt, 67 years old, died yesterday at St. Mary's Hospital, where she was under treatment for kidney and liver ailments. She had been ill for several years and had been in the hospital for about a month. Surviving is a son, John C. Hunt with whom she made her home at 3934 Ashland avenue.

RECORD BUSINESS REPORTED THIS YEAR

Bank Forum Speaker Says Purchases Are Highest in U.S. History.

Business activity in the United States in recent months "has been the highest in our history," Alan H. Temple, executive vice president of National City Bank of New York, declared here yesterday.

He addressed a financial and business forum sponsored by First National Bank of St. Louis at the Park Plaza Hotel.

"Most segments of the economy have been moving forward together, and the volume of consumer purchases recently has broken all records," Temple said. "Whether measured in physical or dollar terms, business activity has been the highest in our history."

Some reduction in industrial output, "particularly of automobiles and other durable goods," is expected in the second half of this year, the banker said.

The reduction, he added, probably will be necessitated by "the building up of inventories of various types of goods and the satisfaction of consumer needs, which have reached a point that suggests caution."

Temple warned that the present volume of business activity "may be at the expense of the future." Sale of some consumer goods, he said, "is being financed by the expansion of installment credit which probably, within the near future, will run into the natural limitations of the supply of money available for this purpose."

However, he added, "despite the growth of debt during the long inflationary rise of the past 13 years, the country is still in good financial condition."

About 400 persons attended the forum, which is sponsored annually by First National Bank.

MORSE MAKES RECORD 22-HOUR SENATE SPEECH

but generally he had been credited with more of an endurance feat than LaFollette.

The technicalities could be swept aside in chalking up a new record for the 51-year-old Morse.

There were no quorum calls to give him a lift, although he was helped along from time to time by questions asked by other Senators fighting the submerged lands bill.

Despite obvious fatigue, leg cramps, and a tendency to stumble over words occasionally, Morse appeared fit after finishing his record-buster. He sat down, shook hands with a few Senators who walked to his desk, and a few minutes later strode jauntily from the Senate chamber.

Shortly after 9:15 this morning he perked up the ears of his hearers by saying "in conclusion . . ." but instead of concluding he opened a new box of cough drops and carried on.

Receives a Red Rose.

Early in his long speech he said he was refreshed by the fragrance of a red rose in his lapel sent to him by Mrs. Cecil Oliver of the AFL Teachers' Union of Portland, Ore., with a note: "This sweetheart rose is from the children of Oregon for whom you are pleading."

Through the morning hours Morse kept pounding on the point that the transfer of the submerged lands to state control would deprive schools, colleges and universities of sorely needed revenues for educational purposes.

He argued for the proposal advanced by Senator Lister Hill (Dem.), Alabama, that parts of the so-called tidelands oil revenues be turned over for education purposes, in much the same manner as revenue from the sale of Government lands to the railroads in the last century was used for support and establishment of land-grant colleges.

Unless such an approach is taken, he said, the fiscal strain on the Federal Government will become continually greater.

Morse conceded that his record-setting talk had "the characteristics of the filibuster." But he insisted he was not interested in records or even in delaying a Senate vote on the measure to hand title of the tidelands to coastal states. His sole purpose, he said, was to dramatize what he called a multi-billion-dollar "giveaway."

Although Morse and other opponents of the bill have been talking against it for many days, its long solo effort was not likely to delay a vote much more than it would have been delayed anyway.

Senator Taft already had decided to let Senators talk some more yesterday and today, before pressing Monday for a test vote on the bill.

There appeared little doubt that Morse and the other Senators, mostly Democrats, who have been talking against the bill, ultimately would be defeated.

No Effort to Force Vote.

The Republican leadership never has had the slightest doubt about being able to pass the measure—when they can get it to a vote. This they hope to do next week. There had been no intention of trying to force a vote last night or today.

Morse, who broke with the Republicans in last fall's election campaign to become an independent, sipped orange juice, tea, coffee and boullion to keep up his strength during his long speech. He also nibbled on crackers and gulped some tomato soup.

Senator Taft, who has vowed to break the filibuster he has charged to opponents of the bill, left the floor at midnight. Shortly before, he had sent out for the newspapers and worked a crossword puzzle.

Earlier in the evening, Taft had stretched out for a few minutes on a sofa in the rear of the Senate chamber in full view of spectators.

Senator Purtell (Rep.), Connecticut, who took over the leader's chair after Taft's exit, had a pot of coffee placed on his desk and poured himself cups as time wore on.

Morse, who discussed filibusters, politics, conservation, education and other matters, did not start on his prepared speech on the submerged lands bill until after midnight and frequently digressed once he had.

Shortly before 4 a.m., he said he was only on page 16 of his 60-page speech. And after he finished that, he told the Senate, he had another speech of about 80 pages on the Rural Electrification Administration. He started on that at 6:45 a.m.

He was being kept strictly to the rules. About 7 a.m. when Morse put his foot on the chair pulled up beside him, Senator Purtell pointed out that rules require that a speaker keep both feet on the floor. Morse complied, saying "I will proceed in order."

As he talked on through the night and through the dawn of the eighteenth day of debate on the bill, the number of Senators had dwindled to a mere handful.

After ending his long stint, Morse thanked Senator Carlson, who responded that his own 14-hour continuous session as presiding officer had been "a pleasure and a privilege."

Comments on Press Support.

Morse at one point contended that "the big press of the country is lined up" with proponents of state ownership and that only after the long-talk tactics began did the debate get much coverage.

But Senator Douglas (Dem.), Illinois, helping Morse out with questions, suggested editors may not have thought stories about the submerged lands were newsworthy.

Morse said that "with some exceptions, objectivity permeates Washington correspondents." He agreed with Douglas that working newspaper men in Washington "with certain exceptions observe a very high degree of journalistic ethics."

Douglas declared that the St. Louis Post-Dispatch had given support for federal ownership without which "this fight would have been almost hopeless." Morse asserted that there is "not a single paper greater than the St. Louis Post-Dispatch" in the country.

Morse said there are "many great speeches" remaining to be delivered in the Senate.

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Senator Anderson (Dem.), New Mexico, who, with 24 other Senators, had asked his position on boundary claims by the states beyond the traditional three-mile limit.

President Eisenhower said his views "are in line with my party's platform," which he quoted as favoring "restoration to the states of their rights to all lands and resources beneath navigable inland and offshore waters within historic boundaries."

Senator Daniel (Dem.), Texas, hailed the President's letter as specific recognition of the 10½ mile boundary claimed by Texas in the Gulf of Mexico.

On the other side of the issue, Anderson said in a statement that the President's letter "does not make clear what attitude his Administration will take if claims are made by the states to boundaries wider than those claimed by the nation."

Anderson called for return of the bill to the Senate Interior Committee to resolve "the uncertainty" or adoption of amendments to "correct the confusion."

FOR SALE!

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLINOIS

2-story and basement building; downtown section; extra fine and durable construction; with about 20,000 usable sq. ft.; air-conditioned throughout; next door all transportation; parking space available. Suitable for either, or both mercantile or office purposes, and constructed so it can be readily divided for that purpose. Excellent for wholesalers, distributors, and large concerns with use for office building. Approximately half occupied restaurant-night club. Remainder with about 8000 sq. ft. never occupied, ideal for concern with need for large office space. East St. Louis and environs is a thriving Illinois community with over 100,000 population, 10 minutes to downtown St. Louis, Mo., easy access to populous towns of St. Clair and Madison counties and to all southern Illinois; all territory which has been and is making remarkable growth in population, business and wealth. Can be bought for much less than cost of construction 5 years ago. Commission usual in East St. Louis to buyer finder. Premises may be inspected any day of the week. If interested, call or write Mrs. Christine Bowman, BRidge 7557, Main at Broadway, East St. Louis, Illinois.

Europe's Lighter Side

French Cowboy Club Takes It Seriously

By Art Buchwald

PARIS.

WE were invited to attend a real far west French barbecue in the Bois de Boulogne the other day and naturally we turned up as requested. The barbecue was held by members of the Club Hippique du Lasso, sometimes known as the Riders of the Purple Seine, a group of cowboy-loving Frenchmen who meet about once a month to ride horses western style and promote the great traditions of the American cowboy in France.

ART BUCHWALD

The club was founded in 1908 by French artist and writer Joe Hamman, the only member of the group who has been farther west than Le Havre. In 1904 "Colonel" Hamman spent six months in the wild west and was befriended by Buffalo Bill. When he returned to France he wrote a book "Sur La Piste Des Bisons" ("On the Buffalo Trail") and also started making horse operas in Europe under the screen name of Arizona Bill. The pictures, all silent ones, played in the United States until the beginning of World War I.

THE FIRST CLUB disbanded and it was rechartered in 1948 with "Colonel" Hamman as president and restaurant owner Andre Desvignes as sheriff. The members were made up of French business men who had a true interest in the west and in riding and lassoing.

The most important requisite for membership in the club is the possession of authentic western riding equipment, including western saddles, 10-gallon hats, jeans, high-heeled boots and spurs.

WHEN WE ARRIVED at the corral in the Jardin d'Acclimation we found 15 cowboys in full garb and the barbecue in progress. The cowboys were eating jambon de la prairie, agneau barbecue comme du Far-West, fromage a la Texas, orange a la California and a red eye called Chateau Saint-Georges-Macquin 1949. The lunch was followed up with Nescafe and Eau de Feu or VSOP Cognac. It was a very typical cowboy meal and we enjoyed it very much.

After the barbecue while two of the members sang "Home On the Range," a famous Place Vendome hatmaker named Gelot corralled us and told us a little more about the organization.

Gelot said: "We are trying to live up to the glorious traditions of the grand epoque heroique of America. It is a small group, only 20 cowboys, but we are very serious. A member must know how to ride western style and he must conduct himself like the great chevaliers of the west."

"WHAT ABOUT gunplay?" we asked.

"Our organization doesn't insist much on the gun problem. We don't like to emphasize the barroom aspects of cowboy life. We put more emphasis on riding the western way and the chivalry of the cowboy toward women and children. As a matter of fact we have expelled members who tried to be tough guys and didn't behave the way cowboys should. We don't accept people who dress up as cowboys and know how to square dance. They have to prove themselves on a horse and with a lasso. Even movie stars like Fernand Gravet, who is a member, is a good rider. We didn't accept him just because he was a movie star. The club doesn't like the show aspect of riding and we don't want any stars. We just like to ride for the fun of it."

At first Gelot told us the French horsemen frowned on their activities, but now many well known riders are honorary members of the club and consider western style riding as a skilled form of horsemanship.

WE ASKED HIM where the club members got their information on cowboy ways.

"Errol Flynn, Gary Cooper, Alan Ladd, Gene Autry and Hopalong Cassidy. We like to study the very correct cowboys, especially how they ride and throw a rope."

The highlight of the barbecue was the presentation of a plaque by Charles Belden, a real American cowboy and a friend of the club, in the name of the Governor of Wyoming. All members of the club according to the plaque had been made honorary citizens of the great Equality State.

Gelot also told us that although there are 20 members in the club, they only own six horses and have to rent the rest when they go out on rides.

"For a while we tried to get a man into the slaughterhouses at Vaugerard to grab the good saddle horses before they were killed.

"But we had trouble with customs. France imports many horses and they enter the country as horsemeat so the customs won't let them be taken away as saddle horses. But I am proud to say that all members of the organization refuse to eat horse meat. As French cowboys it's the least we can do."

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

TWO Texas oil millionaires were whooping it up in a bar when one suddenly passed out cold. The other gazed at his prostrate companion and allowed, "That's what I like about my friend here. He always knows when to stop."

★ ★ ★

MY UNCLE AL likes fishing in Wisconsin, and is still boasting about the prize muskegon he caught back in 1893 or 1894. "I'll tell you how big that fish was," he's fond of saying on little or no provocation. "The guide took a picture of it for me, and the picture alone weighed 16 pounds!"

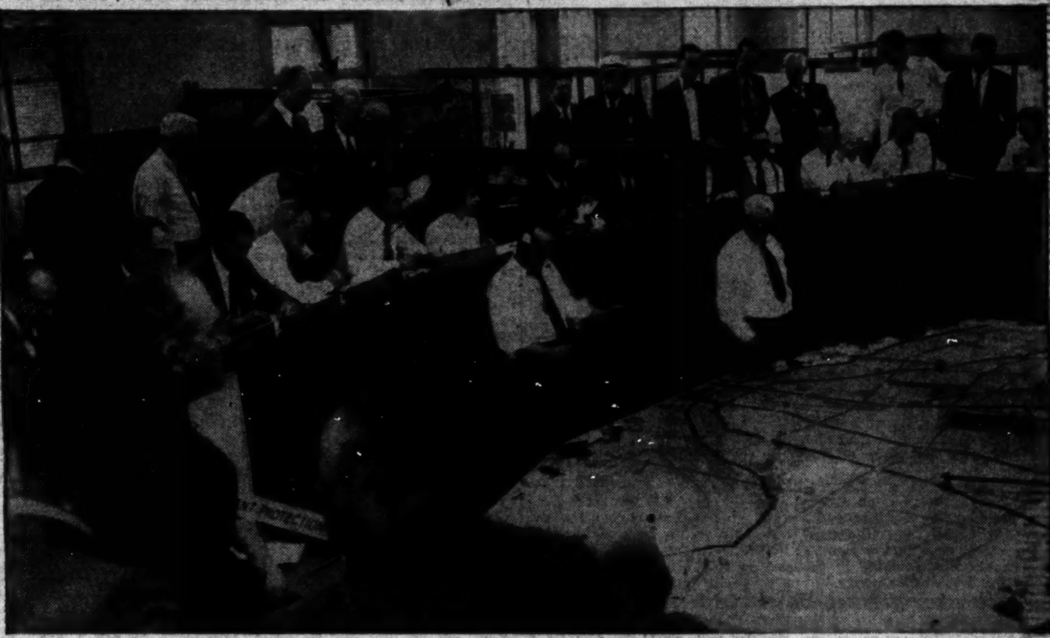
Civil Defense A-Bombing Test

Civil defense agencies, moving swiftly after a make-believe atomic bomb was dropped over St. Louis yesterday afternoon, successfully executed "Operation Wake-Up" as part of an 11-state exercise. Public participation was limited to affected agencies and public and parochial school children after the bomb "exploded" over Jefferson avenue and Olive street. Here, Beaumont High School students, simulating "victims," receive treatment in Fairgrounds Park, across from school, from first aid teams of the Mallinckrodt Chemical Co. Student in foreground is Jack Joeur and first aid men (from left) are: Harry Roeseler, Fred Remstedt, Justin Wehrenbrecht and Charles Adams.



General view of control room at Civil Defense Headquarters in old mounted police station in Forest Park during the attack. Staff includes representatives of the 13 operating agencies set up under the St. Louis master civil defense plan. Mayor Raymond R. Tucker (arrow), whose announcement that the bomb had struck sent police, fire and defense squads into action, watches operation. Standing beside him is I. A. Long, president of the Board of Police Commissioners. Tucker formerly headed the civil defense program. The acting director, Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway, said the test disclosed some rough spots which will be analyzed at a critique to be held next Friday.

Lending reality to the test, a Red Cross ambulance and a "spotter" plane stand by for orders near Civil Defense Headquarters (in background). Spotter craft, equipped with two-way radios and radiological equipment, were used to assess extent of "radioactivity" and to report on damage and direct rescue crews. First-aid drills were held in various parts of the city and air raid drills were held in schools.

GOLDOVSKY CONDUCTS OPERA 'FALSTAFF'

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

A company of St. Louis singers of mixed status, reinforced at critical points by professionals from the New England Opera Co. presented Verdi's opera, "Falstaff" at the American Theater last night. The project was sponsored by the Washington University Opera Theater, whose professional staff prepared its production, in association with the St. Louis Grand Opera Guild. Boris Goldovsky supplied the final touches and conducted the first showing. The opera will be repeated tonight.

The name role was sung and acted by James Joyce, a 250-pound baritone who was generously equipped for the role of the fat knight in more ways than the obvious one. He used a warm and resonant voice with great intelligence, offering not only gratification for the ear but a character portrayal that was both broad and subtle. And his enunciation of the English text was perfect. Beverly Wolff threw the role of Dame Quickly into sharp relief by telling comedy strokes and by supporting it all with a clear, firm contralto voice of excellent quality. Irene Joyce sang the soprano role of Alice Ford. Here, too, was a good, incisively employed voice and an authoritative manner.

These were the three professionals who carried the show. Because of them, the extraordinary volatility and inventiveness of this masterpiece was partly conveyed. The remainder of the cast with the exception of the singer who played the role of Anne, could not seem to grasp firmly what they were doing.

Scenery lent by the Juilliard School helped to give the production a professional atmosphere as did Boris Goldovsky's close control of the small orchestra drawn from the personnel of the St. Louis Symphony. With such a reduced string choir it was not possible to give the music its shimmer and feathery texture. But the orchestra performed well in the circumstances. The opera was in English. The audience could, therefore follow the action with ease and its responsiveness showed that it was doing so.

'JUST AVERAGE STUDENT,' SAYS EISENHOWER'S OLD TEACHER

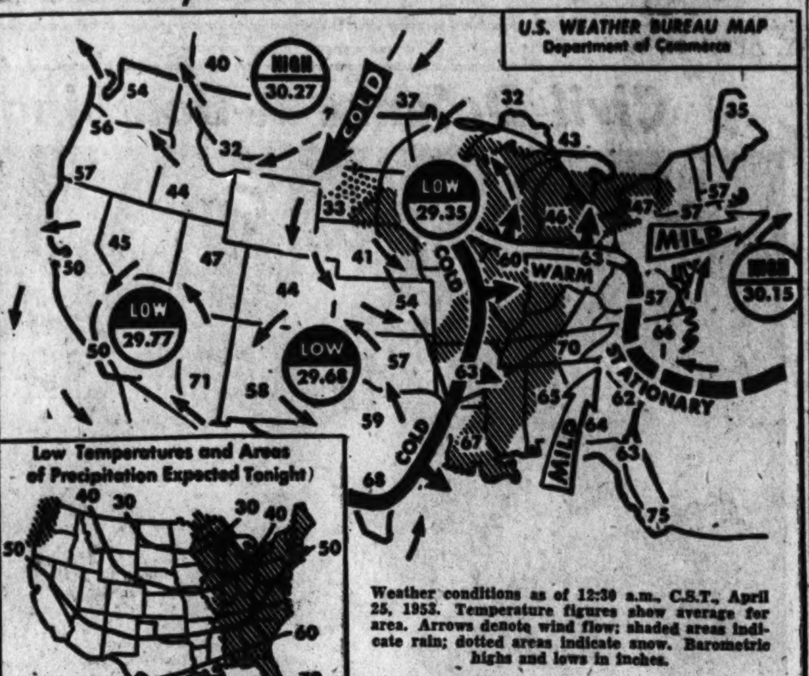
"He was just an average student," McCormick said on a Mutual Broadcasting System radio show last night, "and like most of the other boys in his class, I once caught him smoking in the barn behind the schoolhouse."

Cloudy, Cooler Weather Indicated



Weather conditions as of 12:30 a.m., C.S.T., April 25, 1953. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows denote wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain; dotted areas indicate snow. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Cloudy weather and cooler temperatures tonight and tomorrow in the St. Louis area with a low in the morning of about 40 and an afternoon high near 60 were forecast by the St. Louis Weather Bureau.

The low-pressure area, shown over the Texas panhandle, has moved to Iowa and is expected over eastern Wisconsin tomorrow. It brought thunderstorms and showers in the Mississippi Valley, Gulf states and Lakes region over a 24-hour period ended today.

A total of 4.35 inches of rain fell in New Orleans, 5.08 inches at Lake Charles, La., and 2.64 at Sioux City, Ia. Falls of around two inches were reported in sections of Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Texas. A trace fell in St. Louis last night and .08 in the conuty.

Snow measuring up to 18 inches at Milton, N.D., fell during the last 24 hours ending this morning. Other areas in the Dakotas reported snow. Tornadoes in the Southwest last night killed two persons.

Lowest over the nation this morning was 20 at Leadville, Colo. Over Missouri temperatures ranged from 42 at St. Joseph to 58 at Malden. Yesterday's high was 96 at Brownsville, Tex., and temperatures yesterday were in the 70s as far north as Boston.

Flashes of Life

Had Enough.

BALTIMORE (UP)—Passengers on a streetcar said the motorman drove to the end of the line without stopping, drove into the carbarn, turned in his equipment and announced: "I quit."

Invulnerable.

NEW YORK (UP) — Joseph Schmidt was waiting for a subway train when he became dizzy and fell from the station platform onto the tracks. Horrified spectators watched a seven-car train pass by. Then, amazed, they saw Schmidt get up, climb back onto the platform and brush off his clothes. He had landed in a trough between the tracks and he suffered only a slight scratch on the left knee.

Cart Before Horse.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Some 20 years ago the State Legislature passed a law requiring all automobiles to have windshield wipers. Friday, the House approved a bill requiring all automobiles to have windshields.

FIVE TEXAS COTTON MEN RELEASED BY ARGENTINE POLICE

BUENOS AIRES, April 25 (AP)—Five Texas business men arrested Monday in northern Argentina on suspicion of violating national security laws have been released without charges, police announced last night.

The five, all in the cotton business, were flown here yesterday at the request of United States Ambassador Albert Nufer. Embassy officials arranged for the release with high officials of the interior ministry which controls the police.

They had spent 24 hours in jail and three days under police guard, but said they never were told the basis for their detention and questioning.

Four of the men are connected with the Houston firm of Anderson, Clayton & Co., cotton brokers. They were James A. Griffin Jr., of Las Cruces, N.M., local chief engineer of the company; Jesse A. Root, Argentine manager; E. R. Connally of La Porte, Tex., and Edwin Turbeville, both from the company's Houston office.

The fifth man was Walter Stindt of Houston, also in the cotton business.

FILES J. P. ELECTION CONTEST

Justice of the eace Xavier F. Bertelsman of Belleville, defeated for re-election April 7, filed suit to contest the election in circuit court there yesterday.

Bertelsman alleged that if the votes had been counted correctly he would have won by 350 instead of losing by 257 votes. He finished sixth in a field of 10 candidates, the frist five winning office. Previously George Glakemeier Jr., the defeated candidate for mayor, filed an election contest.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Dear Martha:

I AM a girl in my teens. My husband is 38. I have been married just one month and am very much in love with him. But he has a very foolish way. He does not want me to go anywhere or have any of my girl friends over. I have one friend I like especially. Her husband is in the service and she goes out to shows with her sister and friend. But when I discussed having her at my house, my husband objected. My mother said if he didn't want her to come here, she would have her at her home. I told my husband and he was very angry and said my mother was meddling in our lives. I love my husband and I love my mother. He is a very good man and treats me wonderfully, but as far as my friends go he doesn't understand. UPSET.

Martha Carr

Of course, you should have friends, and your husband should realize that you cannot be happy without seeing them occasionally. Don't permit him to keep you apart from the rest of the world. Make it plain to him that you have the right to some companionship and at least should be permitted to be with your friends during the day when he is not at home.

* * *

Dear Martha:

WE ARE FOUR WOMEN IN our sixties and we like to play cards. We have agreed that we would like to have some men join us but we do not know of anyone who could introduce us to them? And how would we be able to know what their reputations are? We have been to church groups but have not been successful in meeting others. A.B.

It wouldn't be a very smart idea to invite men to join your group unless you have met them under the auspices of some group such as a church or Y. club or unless a friend introduces you. It seems to me that it would be far better to continue going to groups sponsored by these organizations. Among them are the Live Longer and Like It Club, at both the Downtown and North Side Y.M.C.A.; the Golden Age Club, which meets at 3 p.m. Wednesday at Second Presbyterian Church, and the Y. Club which meets at 8 p.m. the third Saturday of each month at the Y.W.C.A.

* * *

IN ANSWER TO Just Me: I agree that you should go out occasionally instead of staying at home every morning and afternoon. Surely your husband wouldn't object if you went out for awhile when he is at work, making sure that you were always at home in time to prepare a good lunch and dinner for him. Try to make him understand that you have to get out for a short time each day, if only for a breath of fresh air and a walk around the block.

Are you planning a baby shower for a mother-to-be? Martha Carr's leaflet will give you some good suggestions on invitations, entertainment and refreshments. Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Loving Service

By Angelo Patri

EVEN when all the teaching rules have been kept, something unforeseen crops up that makes a great deal of difference. One teacher tells a child what to do, how and when to do it, but she gets nowhere. Another teacher tells the pupil the same thing and he does it successfully, and, what is important, happily. Why? What was it in the teacher's voice and manner that reached the child's mind and heart and caused him to do cheerfully what he refused to do for the first teacher?

One mother scrubs and polishes a child until he fairly shines; feeds him the approved diet, in the proper way, follows all the rules, and has a whining, spindling youngster for her pains. Another mother keeps the child clean, feeds him wholesome food, gives him just enough care to get by and the youngster blooms. Why did the first mother fail? And what was it that contributed to the second mother's success?

* * *

YOU CAN SEE this happening in every phase of life. The rules are kept, but the result is a failure or at best, an empty result. Just what power moves the human spirit is not always known to us, but the power is there waiting for love to release it. Love does release the power that makes children grow, makes them bloom and keeps them good. It is a spiritual quality in the person concerned, a certain faith, a certain inexplicable feeling for life that puts tenderness in her voice, gentleness in her eyes, understanding in her action.

How to acquire it is the problem of another who wants to be loved and loving, helpful and successful.

* * *

PEOPLE WHO WORK with children but whose minds are centered on other matters, usually personal, lack the essential requirements needed to reach the child. Something that speaks to the heart and mind of the youngsters. If a child is trained merely because of what the neighbors might say; if he is being taught for the honor and glory of his parents, the results may be disappointing. It is only when the child is taught in the spirit of loving service that his growth will be satisfactory.

The quality that is essential to success in any phase of human life is a spiritual one. With it, all is possible; without it, nothing is possible.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A NOT unusual situation is described as follows: "We have moved to a large city and many of our friends find our house a convenient stopping-off place whenever they come to the city to shop or go to the theater. Last month we had overnight guests 10 days out of the month. Our house is beginning to seem like Grand Hotel, and our budget just can't take it. What can we do without being rude?"

Turn your spare bedroom into a study, or whatever you and your husband would use, with a large desk instead of a bed, and be frank in saying that you have no room for overnight guests.

* * *

DEAR MRS. POST: Please settle an argument for me. I believe husbands and wives should never be referred to as Mr. and Mrs. except when speaking to those in their employ and that a husband or wife should be referred to by first name when speaking to friends and as "my husband," or "my wife" when speaking to casual acquaintances. My sister says I am wrong and that you always refer to your mate as Mr. or Mrs., except when speaking to friends who know both.

Answer: When speaking to strangers or to persons in your employ, you quite properly say Mr. or Mrs., to social acquaintances you say "my husband" or "my wife." To friends you say "Mary" or "John," whether they call them that or not.

My Day

Pleasant Trip From the West To New York

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

THE trip back from San Francisco to New York was uneventful but very pleasant. I changed planes in Los Angeles and had a little while there during which my son, Elliott, and his wife came out to the airport and we had a cup of tea together. Then I was off for the night. Coming this way it always seems shorter because you put your watch ahead three hours.

One little incident of the trip amused me greatly, and I wanted to take my hat off to the stewardess for handling it so well.

* * *

TWO MEN across the aisle from me had boarded the plane after very evidently having imbibed a considerable amount of liquor. Then when I noticed one man taking a long drink out of a bottle he had brought along, I thought to myself, "Well, we may have a little noise and disturbance on this trip." But I was wrong. Even though the men protested they did not want to eat early and the stewardess seemed to pay special attention to their likes and dislikes, she managed to feed them in half an hour and they calmed down.

Time wore on and as the liquor in the bottle transferred itself to the men, the stewardess bestirred herself to get them to climb the little ladder into their upper berths. It took some time and persuasion but finally they and the bottle or two were ensconced for the night and we heard no more of them until morning.

* * *

WE ARRIVED in New York on time and the mountain of mail I had expected awaited me. At least I got all the letters signed before leaving at noon for West Point where I spoke to the officers' wives who had been studying the United Nations and international relations through the winter.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

NEXT Friday, May 1, is the twenty-fifth anniversary of Child Health day. The theme this year is "Emotional Good Health."

The health and well-being of our nation's children is an inseparable part of any modern public health program and a matter of daily concern to us all, but it is well to set aside a day each year to analyze past results and plan future benefits.

While much remains to be done to improve the health of our children, great strides have been made in overcoming some of the severe physical hazards of growing up.

* * *

A BABY born in St. Louis today has five times greater chance of reaching his first birthday than he did 50 years ago.

Protecting a child against communicable diseases is one of the ways of keeping him from becoming handicapped. Many cases of heart disease in adults can be traced to a case of diphtheria or other contagious disease contracted in childhood. There were over 1500 reported cases of diphtheria in St. Louis in 1930, and only nine cases reported in 1952. This is progress brought about by educating parents that their babies can and should be protected against such diseases as diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox in the first few months of life.

School health programs that provide regular physical examinations often uncover defects in sight, hearing, heart or teeth that can be corrected before they become permanent disabilities.

THE FIELD of emotional health is relatively new. Authorities in this field now recognize the importance of finding and treating the early manifestations of emotional disorder in very young children.

Those who focus their attention on infant care realize that efforts at prevention and correction of difficulties must be largely directed toward parents. In mental disorder as in physical disease the parent is usually the first diagnostician, the one who decides whether the child is sick enough for the doctor to be called in.

One of the determining factors in the campaign for early treatment is to encourage parents to seek psychiatric assistance as soon as the child shows any signs of emotional disorder.

Because of the stigma which still clings to the idea of emotional illness mothers refuse to acknowledge that their children are in need of psychiatric attention. Yet they should realize that it is no more extraordinary for a child to develop quirks in emotional life than it is for their teeth to come in crooked. Until they do realize this fact efforts toward the early detection of psychiatric disorder will not be completely successful.

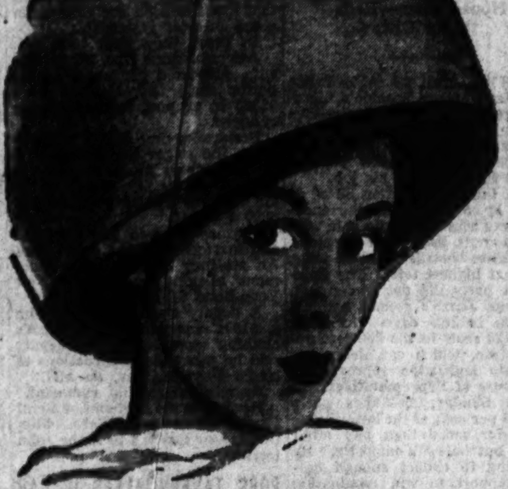
Secrets of Charm

Hair Problems Answered



HAIR PROBLEMS ARE IN THE LIMELIGHT TODAY.

IT TAKES a smart girl to ask smart questions. Look over the following and you'll see the evidence.

Question. I'm tired of my "little boy" hair cut. Isn't there some way to keep my hair attractive during the growing out period?

Answer. Decidedly. Any short style should be tidied by professional scissors at the first sign of shagginess. Follow this up by a home or salon permanent and plenty of pin-curl, hair-brush and pomade persuasion.

In transition periods, models sweep their hair back from the face on the diagonal in as smooth a line as possible, turning ends up in a casual windswept fashion. Try this and see how it keeps hair looking neat until it is ready for a genuine restyling, needed the moment that ends are long enough to droop. Hair should be simple to manage from this point on. If more length is desired, a final styling will usually be necessary.

* * *

QUESTION. Should lasses with glasses wear bangs?

Answer. For the forehead that is a mark of beauty, slick hair is a better choice. If the brow or hairline calls for screening, by all means make use of bangs. This goes for both those with and without glasses.

* * *

Question. Do electric hair dryers make hair brittle and dry?

Answer. No more than do sun and wind. With unusually dry scalp, apply a little scalp ointment before going under the dryer and regulate the heat to low or medium.

* * *

Question. During the play suit and swim suit season, is it advisable to remove fuzz on thighs by shaving?

Answer. A delipatory—Wax or cream — will give a smoother, longer-lasting result.

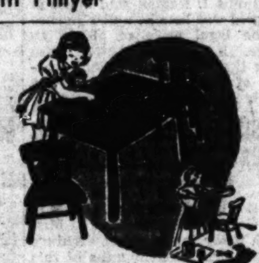
Quickie answers: (1) To stimulate the scalp and encourage a prettier hairline, change your hair-part frequently. (2) Liquid or fluid foundations and rouges can be thinned by adding a drop or two of cold water with an eye dropper and then shaking well.

"Figured for You" gives detailed instructions and illustrates how to select foundation garments that provide comeliness, control and healthful comfort for your individual type of figure. Send 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of the Post-Dispatch for "Figured for You."

Designing Woman

Children's Furniture

By Elizabeth Hillyer



WHEN the children's little table and chairs suffer past their reasonable quota of battle scars, banish the beat-up look with a new finish in plastic.

Find a small pattern, cross bars or checks on medium or heavier weight plastic film, which has no threads to fray out and needs no hemming.

Sandpaper smooth scars and repaint the furniture if you want to, and remember the children love bright colors.

Cut the plastic to fit the table top and the chair parts exactly. Set the cut pieces into wet varnish or glue them on.

That's all there is to redecorating the furniture, giving it new color and covering up damage at the same time, and the new plastic surfaces are especially easy to keep clean and scar-resisting.

They might be matched by the same pattern for plastic curtains.

Brain Game

1. "Nor brighter was his eye, nor moister than a too-long opened oyster."
2. "But four young Oysters hurried up, all eager for the treat . . ."
4. "Sweet Auburn, loveliest village of the plain."
5. "Take thy beak from out my heart, and take thy form from off my door!"
6. "The stag at eve had drunk his fill."
7. "In truth, fair Montague, I am too fond."
8. 'Ay, tear her tattered ensign down!'

ANSWERS.

1. "The Pied Piper" (Browning). 2. "Alice in Wonderland." (Carroll). 3. "Pirates of Penzance" (Sullivan). 4. "The Deserted Village" (Goldsmith). 5. "The Raven" (Poe). 6. "Lady of the Lake." (Scott). 7. "Romeo and Juliet" (Shakespeare). 8. "Old Ironsides." (Holmes).

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

I HAVE said on a great many occasions that there is nothing wrong about making light opening bids—and I stick to this assertion. However, there is this to be added: do not open the bidding on slender values if that action is going to scare you into calamitous silence on a later round. In short, don't be the sort of player North was in this deal.

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠Q10542

♣AJ86

WEST
♠63
♥AKJ9764
♦AJ

♠AKJ9
♥83
♦7532
♣1032

SOUTH
♠87
♥Q105
♦10864
♣KQ94

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1N.T.	D'ble
Pass	Pass	Pass

What happened to South was almost too horrible to relate. West opened the heart king, and on East's play of the trey, shifted to a spade. East won and returned the heart eight. West ran the entire seven-card suit, cashed the diamond ace, then led his last spade. Thus, East-West collected 12 tricks and a penalty of 1700 points—this, on a contract of one-odd.

A catastrophe of this sort can happen only when one of the partners (or both) is wooden to the point of unconsciousness. In this case it was North. Discussing the unhappy affair, he was horrified at the suggestion that he should have bid two clubs on the second round, instead of passing to West's double. "Why, my opening was an irreducible minny," he said. "How could I make another bid, especially when South's one no-trump announced weakness, and we were vulnerable."

This is the sort of reasoning that drives experts to the point of frenzy. Of course, North should have made another bid—not because he had a good hand, but because he had a very bad hand for a no-trump contract. His singleton heart shrieked a warning. South, with a balanced hand, had no way of sensing what he was up against, but North should have run to two clubs like a frightened fawn.

Self-Rating Test on Teens' Co-operation

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

SMALL children have to be dependent on their parents, but by the time they reach their teens they should be partners in the family, not parasites.

"You have written several times," he reminds me, "that young people should take a cooperative part in the home and family, and I certainly wouldn't want to do anything else, but I'm not quite clear as to what I ought to do. I'm still in high school, and can't very well help to support or manage the family. Will you tell us in more detail how we ought to try to be real co-operators?"

* * *

PERHAPS the simplest way, Warren, is to offer you a simple little self-rating scale, by which you can measure the extent to which you are practicing co-operation at home:

I make it a point to express appreciation for the good qualities of my family and for the things they do for me. 0 1 2

I am considerate of the rights and wishes of others, in using the telephone, radio, TV or car. 0 1 2

I am careful to hang up my belongings and to leave my room neat and clean. 0 1 2

I offer to do some extra work when father or mother appears to be particularly busy or tired. 0 1 2

I see that the house is "tidied up" after I entertain friends at home. 0 1 2

I come to meals on time. 0 1 2

I do my regular jobs or chores without having to be reminded or prodded. 0 1 2

I introduce my friends to all the members of the family. 0 1 2

I leave the wash basin and bath tub clean after using them. 0 1 2

I discuss my plans with my parents and am willing to fit them into the plans and needs of the whole family. 0 1 2

* * *

SCORE YOURSELF: 0 for "never" or "rarely"; 1 for "an average amount," "about as often as not"; and 2 for "regularly" or "always."

You will hardly expect to run up a perfect score of 20, but you ought to do considerably better than 10. A good passing score would be 15, corresponding to a grade of 75 per cent in your studies at school—and in this case you can afford to work for a better grade than that, because your failure in any of these respects is likely to make family life more complicated or to put an extra burden on other members.

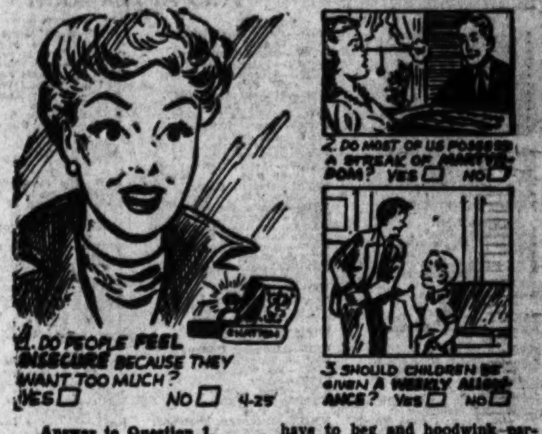
If you are in doubt, score yourself and ask each of the other members of the family to score you; then average the scores. After that, use your own judgment.

Dripping Faucets

Watch out for dripping hot water faucets. If you let them go long enough before the worn washer is replaced the enamel coating on the fixture at the point of the drip will be worn away and beyond repair.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam



1. DO PEOPLE FEEL INSECURE BECAUSE THEY WANT TOO MUCH? YES ☐ NO ☐
4-25
2. DO MOST OF US POSSESS A STREAK OF MARTYRDOM? YES ☐ NO ☐
3. SHOULD CHILDREN BE GIVEN A WEEKLY ALLOWANCE? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question 1.

YES. Kathleen Norris says, (paraphrased): "as children we never heard of insecurity or security. We went ahead wanting simple things—peace, play, books, friends, long walks and talks, nourishing food—and life was happy. We were in a shocking state of insecurity but didn't know it." It's wanting the "unnecessities of life" that causes much insecurity.

Answer to Question 2.

Yes. As related by a psychologist, little Jimmy held up his frozen fingers and said, "Daddy, see what you did by not buying me a pair of mittens." Jimmy could have warmed his hands in his pockets, but he wanted to gain power over his father. Wives, (also husbands) feign sickness to gain sympathy, or fur coats, or some sort of power over the other. We all have a little of this ornery streak.

Answer to Question 3.

Yes, according to a child specialist, provided the parents suggest tactfully how to plan the spending of the allowance. If only a nickel or a dime a week, it teaches the child something about the value of money and how to use it. Children shouldn't have to beg and hoodwink parents for money, nor should parents deprive children of their allowance as a punishment.

New and extraordinary sidelights on matrimony and ways to insure happiness are explained in the booklet, "Your Success in Marriage." For a copy, send 15 cents (coin only), plus self-addressed envelope (give name of city and state), to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of Post-Dispatch.

YOSHIDA'S PARTY GAINS IN JAPANESE VOTING

Liberals, Allies Win 63 Upper House Seats—Reds Shut Out.

TOKYO, April 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party rolled up an impressive triumph in Friday's House of Councillors election, possibly strengthening Yoshida's position in his fight to keep his job.

The Liberals had won 38 of 97 seats by 5 p.m., and the independents who frequently vote with the Liberals had taken 25 more. The leftist Socialists had 11 seats, the next highest total. The Communist party did not win a seat.

It was Japan's second national election in five days. At stake were 128 seats in the 250-seat upper house, which can delay but not veto legislation approved by the House of Representatives.

Last Sunday, Yoshida's party won 43 per cent of the lower house seats—far more than any other party, but below a majority. He is trying to collect enough outside support to win nomination as Prime Minister again when the lower house meets soon.

The voting ran about as expected in most districts, although the Liberals added some seats that most observers predicted would be won by left-wing candidates.

Half of the upper house is elected every three years. The Liberals had 47 seats among the holdovers, which might give them more than 100 seats in the new house. They had 82 in the last upper house.

22 INDICTED BY U.S. IN GOLD, DIAMOND SMUGGLING RACKET

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—Twenty-two persons were indicted yesterday in what the Federal Government described as a back-breaking blow at a $25,000,000-a-year gold and diamond smuggling racket.

A Secret Service agent, Edward F. Sweeney, was credited with cracking the case after 26 months of investigation. His work led to 63 earlier indictments. The Government said 10 of these persons already have been convicted or pleaded guilty.

One of those indicted yesterday was Richard Thomas McGrath, an investigator for the United States Assay Office. He allegedly took bribes to wink at black-market gold dealings.

Assistant United States Attorney Louis I. Kaplan said much of the gold was bought under license at the legal price of $35.16 an ounce. It sold at better than twice that price in the black markets of India, France, Italy and South America.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER FUEL CORP. REPORTS DECLINE IN EARNINGS

Mississippi River Fuel Corp., supplier of natural gas to Laclede Gas Co. and other utilities in Missouri, today reported net earnings for the first three months of this year were $611,391, a decrease of $514,143 from the first quarter earnings of 1952.

William G. Marbury, president, attributed the lower earnings to the company's "inability to procure a much needed rate increase from the Federal Power Commission for gas sold to utility customers for resale." He expressed the opinion that virtually all of the operating profit for the quarter resulted from sales to industrial customers.

Since the report was prepared, the company has filed a higher rate schedule with the FPC under a compromise agreed on with the commission and utility customers.

46 MIDWEST NEWMAN CLUBS HOLD ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

Representatives of 46 Newman Clubs in five Midwestern states were participating today in the annual conference of the Central States Province of the National Newman Club Federation at the Sheraton Hotel.

The clubs, composed of Catholic students at non-denominational colleges, promote religious, intellectual and social needs of members. Delegates from campuses in Missouri, Nebraska, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas are attending. They will attend mass and receive communion at St. Louis Cathedral tomorrow, before a final breakfast session.

The Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder, auxiliary bishop of Lafayette, La., will speak at the mass. The breakfast meeting will be addressed by the Rev. Paul Hallinan, national chaplain. Thomas A. Brady, vice president of the University of Missouri, will speak at a dinner tonight.

BROWN SHOE CO. ANNOUNCES DIXON (MO.) FIRM PURCHASE

Purchase of the Kaut, Lauman & Winter Shoe Co., of Dixon, Mo., was announced yesterday by the Brown Shoe Co.

At the same time the St. Louis firm announced it is completing purchase of the O'Donnell Shoe Corp., Humboldt, Tenn. Clark R. Gamble, Brown company president, said the two plants will produce a total of 8000 pairs of children's shoes a day when full production is attained.

BOHLEN PAYS COURTESY CALLS

MOSCOW, April 25 (AP) — United States Ambassador Charles Bohlen today paid visits to Soviet Deputy Foreign Ministers Jacob Malik, G. M. Pushkin and B. F. Podserob.

The visits, purely courtesy calls, each lasted 10 minutes.

BRITISH COURT MOURNING ENDS

LONDON, April 25 (UP)—Court mourning for the late Queen Mary ended today, signaling the start of London's gay coronation season.

DICK HAYMES SINGS BLUES AS EX-WIFE GETS $800 A MONTH

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 25 (AP)—Dick Haymes is under court orders to pay his former wife $2000 at once—but that's only the start of creditor woes that descended on the crooner in a few minutes yesterday.

In order they went like this:

Besides paying $2000 immediately, the singer was directed by Judge Stanley Mosk to pay another $1500 by May 5 and to begin making regular payments of $800 a month.

Haymes mopped his forehead and started from the courtroom. An attorney handed him a summons alleging he owes a New York hotel $1279.

A deputy marshal handed him a $1071 complaint for a man's clothing store bill. The deputy said he was under instructions to attach Haymes's car, an MG.

He is now the husband of Errol Flynn's former wife, Nora. Miss Dru is now married to Actor John Ireland.

ROBS TAVERN, FLEES IN CAB

Robert McKinney, proprietor, told police that a young man entered the tavern, and, after ordering a beer, produced a pistol and forced him to turn over the cash which had been kept in a cigar box beneath the counter. Three customers in the tavern were not disturbed.

WEEK'S HOG TOP OF $24.50 HIGHEST SINCE AUGUST 1950

Slightly increased supplies of cattle and calves were received the past week as compared with marketings of the previous week, with much larger supplies than were offered the corresponding period last year. Rather small numbers of cows were included while the proportion of steers was liberal, including a large number of weights above 1100-lb. average. Prices showed uneven gains in the Monday session, with subsequent declines erasing advances on steers, heifers and cows and closing deals Friday mostly steady with the previous Friday. Bulls and vealers went unchanged throughout the period, with small numbers of replacement steers finding erratic demand and showing irregular losses in price.

High choice and prime 1215-lb. steers cashed at $23 with 1015-lb. yearling steers $22.75. A small lot of 1080-lb. mixed steers and heifers claimed $22.25 and a few 773-lb. heifers $22. Most good and choice steers and heifers cleared at $19.25-$22.50. A few commercial cows reached $15.75 and $16 with most utility and commercial offerings $13-$15.50.

Salable supplies of hogs were nearly one third less than similar week last year and, with wholesale pork substantially higher, hog prices rose to the highest level since August 1950. Compared with close of last week, weights 180 lbs. up finished $1.50 to $1.75 higher, lighter weights $1.50 to $2 higher and sows $1 to $1.25 higher. Top for the week was $24.50 paid Friday for moderate numbers of choice 1 and 2 lean or meat type, 190 to 230 lb. weights. Low day for the week was Tuesday when the top was $23. For the week, bulk of choice 180 to 230 lbs. sold at $23 to $24.25; 240 to 270 lbs. $22.25 to $23.75; 270 to 320 lbs. $21.50 to $23.25; 150 to 170 lbs. $21.50 to $24 and 120 to 140 lbs. $18.50 to $21.75. Most sows scaling up to 400 lbs. brought $20.50 to $22, heavier sows $18.50 to $21.

Compared with last Friday, old crop lambs were mostly 50c higher; spring lambs virtually lacking; aged sheep steady, spots higher on shorn slaughter ewes; week's receipts somewhat heavier than week before but second smallest since May 1951; few cull to prime spring lambs $20-$26; old crop woolskins mainly cleanups majority of which too heavy or mixed quality to sell to best advantage; bulk $24-$24.75; top $25, very sparingly but readily quotable for right weight and quality; small lots 114-140 lbs. woolskins $20-$23.50; over 75 per cent of week's receipts were shorn lambs, largely choice and choice to prime No. 1 skins from $22.50-$23.50; one deck mostly prime $24; slaughter ewes $6-$8.50 in fleece, and $5-$7 for shorn pelts.

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE, April 25—Only 60 head of hogs arrived today and these were carried over until Monday No cattle, calves or sheep.

Stock Exchange Earns More.

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange reported net income of $162,719 for the first quarter, compared with $72,775 in the first three months of 1952. The increase was due primarily to the operation of the nationwide ticker system on a leased-line basis. In the first quarter of 1952, the ticker service was being furnished through the Western Union Telegraph Co.

METROPOLITAN OPERA OFFERS TRAINING TO EX-ST. LOUISAN

Robert McFerrin, 32-year-old baritone who began his singing career in St. Louis public schools, is the first Negro to be invited into the Kathryn Long courses, the six weeks of voice training restricted to junior members of the Metropolitan Opera, it was announced yesterday.

John Gutman, assistant to Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan, said yesterday that if the baritone proved promising, he probably would be asked to enter the fall course, another six weeks of schooling to begin Sept. 14.

Gutman said McFerrin is not to be taught singing. He will be coached in operatic roles, taught stage business and given additional work in languages, including English. Gutman remarked that Americans need to learn to sing in English "more than foreigners do."

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR JAMES D. M'SPADDEN

HOG AND PORK PRICES SOAR TO BEST LEVELS SINCE 1950

CHICAGO, April 25 (INS)—Hog and pork prices continued to soar at Midwest markets the past week and reached the best level since 1950.

Hogs generally outsold cattle on a pound for pound basis. This is contrary to the usual relationship between cattle and hog prices and has not occurred in several years. However, it happened a few times before World War II, the Department of Agriculture reported.

Top prices as well as average costs of hogs were above those of slaughter steers at most markets, Chicago's extreme top of $25.50 a hundred pounds on prime steers as against its peak of $24.50 on hogs was about the only exception.

Hog prices advanced from $1.50 to $2.25 and showed even more gain before dropping off somewhat at a few points late in the week. At Chicago, a seven-day upswing beginning April 15 lifted prices $2.75 to $3. It was one of the largest upturns on record. Closing top prices on hogs at Midwest markets ranged from $24.25 to $25.

The chief stimulant to live hog prices, in addition to light receipts, has been the big upturn in wholesale pork markets. Supplies of pork were small the past week and some major cuts advanced from 9 to 17 cents a pound at Chicago. Pork loins reached 65 cents a pound in the wholesale trade at Chicago, the highest since July, 1950. Philadelphia reported the highest prices on pork loins in 10 years.

While the top on prime fed steers was $25.50 early in the week at Chicago, the closing peak was $25. The latter price was lowest since October 1946 when OPA had a ceiling of $20.25 on steers at Chicago. Top prices on steers, grading mostly choice to prime, were from $22.75 to $23.25 at most markets outside of Chicago.

At the close of the week, most 180 to 270-pound hogs sold from $23 to $24.50 at Midwest markets and generally were at the best level since August, 1950.

Along with the spectacular upturn in hogs, slaughter lambs advanced $1 to $2 at Chicago and around 50 cents at most other points. The higher trend reflected sharp gains in wholesale prices of dressed lamb. Prices were 3 to 6 cents a pound higher in the wholesale market at Chicago.

Highest prices for slaughter lambs went to some choice to prime spring lambs which brought $26.25 at some Missouri river markets. Chicago had some prime old crop wooled lambs up to $25.50, the highest since last October.

INDUSTRIAL STOCKS OFF SHARPLY IN WEEK

Gains on Monday and Friday Help Offset Wednesday and Thursday Losses.

NEW YORK, April 25 (UP)—Stocks met support this week at a level that just about wiped out the post-election rise. A small recovery Friday added to a substantial rally Monday helped offset sharp declines Wednesday and Thursday. Prices eased on Tuesday. The net result for the week was a loss of 3.15 points (Dow-Jones) in the industrial average, 1.59 points in rails and 99 cents in utilities. Sales rose to a daily average of 1,572,642 shares against 1,418,626 shares daily last week.

The further declines hurt in many instances. It sent 520 issues to new lows for the year and longer. A total of 1015 issues declined out of a total of 1423 traded. There were 288 advances on the week and 180 issues held unchanged.

No News to Hurt Market.

There was nothing in the news to hurt the market. Its new decline reflected conditions within the market produced by the break which began on March 30. Accounts had to be brought into line. There were few excesses and no forced selling to speak of, market men said.

Adjustments were made in many groups that brought them into line with other prices, this notably in textiles which had been considered too high. Some further adjustments are considered necessary but they could be made on a selective basis in a rising market, it is held.

On the basis of this week's market behavior, some brokerage experts predicted an early end of the selling and a recovery of technical proportions. They looked for a highly selective market through the remainder of the year.

The news that did develop during the week was favorable in most instances. Corporation heads spoke optimistically of their company's prospects. Secretary of Commerce George M. Humphrey said the United States is "not headed for depression whether there is a truce in Kore.. or even a real peace."

Corporate Reports.

The wider losses of the week centered on oils, metals, some rails and special issues. Steels lost small fractions. General Motors lost more than a point but Chrysler held steady in the motors.

In the rails, New York Central, Nickel Plate, Great Northern, and Louisville & Nashville closed the week slightly higher. Atlantic Coast Line was down 3 points and Texas & Pacific, down 8 points.

The utilities had a few wide losers, most of them in natural gas issues where Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line fell three points.

M-K-T MARCH INCOME

Missouri-Kansas-Texas March net income after adjustment bond interest was $633,000 compared with $765,000 in March, 1952. Last month's gross revenues were $7,727,000 against $7,474,000 in the like month a year ago. For the three months of the current year net income was $1,726,000 and gross revenues $21,703,000 compared with net of $1,,788,000 and gross revenues of $21,159,000 in the corresponding 1952 period.

STEEL 'EXTRAS' PRICE LIFTS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 25 (AP)—Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the nation's fourth largest steel producer, announced price adjustments which it indicated may be the forerunner of other price hikes.

The company adjusted the prices of some "extras" on major products. Affected products are cold finished carbon steel, hot rolled carbon steel bars and hot rolled and cold rolled carbon steel sheets.

"Extras" are charges on top of the base price, which was not changed. The "extras" on steel are paid by customers for various kinds of work on the steel produces they order, such as gauge, size, special chemical analysis and special metallurgical composition.

Some of the J. & L. adjustments on certain types of "extras" were downward. The average over-all increase in hot and cold rolled carbon steel sheets were from 1-20 to 1-10 of a cent per pound, however. Average increases in "extras" for hot rolled carbon steel bars were slightly more than ¼ of a cent a pound.

DARK SCANDAL

... by Vida Hurst ...

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE.

SUSAN was calling the Pierce residence and it was Betty who answered. To Sunsan's dismay Betty, who had always been friendly, sounded cold. When Susan asked for Stan Betty replied, "Stan isn't here."

"Will you ask him to call me when he comes in?" Susan requested.

"He told me not to wait up for him as he might be quite late."

What in the world was the matter with her, Susan thought, but she insisted. "Can't you leave a note for him? Ask him to call me no matter how late it is. Tell him it's important."

Considering that she would see Stan at his office the following day this request must have seemed ridiculous. But Betty said lightly, "Righto," and hung up as if Susan were a stranger.

Susan sighed. Was she to lose Betty, too? She had prized her friendship so highly. It was her only consolation for the loss of Dot. Perhaps Susan had counted on it more than she should have; accepted too much or depended too much on Betty's generosity.

And where was Stan? Had someone else become important to him during the past week while Susan had foolishly pretended to be making up her mind? Stan had told her to take all the time she needed. It hadn't seemed right to her to jump from one engagement to another so soon but there had been no doubt in Susan's heart that she loved Stanford Pierce, more than she had ever loved Ron.

* * *

DECIDING not to go to bed until he called, Susan sat by the telephone drooping with fatigue but stubbornly refusing to close her eyes, too upset to read. After what seemed hours the telephone rang. Susan could have wept with relief, when she heard Stan's voice.

"You wanted to speak to me, Susan?"

"I've been out," he explained, "but Betty left a note telling me to call you. She said it was important."

He waited but Susan found herself too embarrased to say what she had planned.

"I don't know how to tell you," she began uncertainly.

"Maybe I can help you. Ron told me he was going to call on you tonight."

"He did?" Susan asked in surprise. "I didn't know it myself."

"He also told me you were going to be married, before he goes to Europe. May I be the first to offer congratulations!"

Susan laughed hysterically as she cried, "Oh Stan, is that what's been the matter with you? You actually thought I'd accept?"

"I don't see anything funny about it," Stan said stiffly. "After all you had planned to marry him until he broke your engagement."

"But that was before I knew him very well or you either."

"What does that have to do with it?"

"Everything," Susan cried recklessly. "Or have you changed your mind about being in love with me?"

There was an instant's silence as if Stan were shocked by her statement, then he cried, "Do you mean that, Susan? Do I matter to you at all?"

"You matter to me so much that I've been trying to tell you so for days but you have seemed so indifferent lately."

"Indifferent?" he repeated. "Have you forgotten you asked for time?"

"Well, I've had it," she assured him. "And even if you don't want to marry me I still wouldn't marry Ron. I told him so tonight."

Stan said, "Have you gone to bed yet?"

"No but it's after 12 and tomorrow is a working day for both of us," she reminded him.

"I'll be there in 20 minutes," he informed her, and hung up before she could object.

* * *

NEW life swept into Susan's veins, wiping out all traces of fatigue. She had never felt so alive as she waited for the downstairs buzzer which announced his arrival. When it came she released the outer door and opened the one leading to her apartment, listening for the approach of the elevator. When she saw him coming toward her it was as if they had been separated for years. Smiling tenderly, Stan closed the door behind him and took her in his arms.

"I thought I had lost you," she whispered.

"You should have known better. I don't ask a girl to marry me and then change my mind."

"Even Betty seemed cold over the telephone when I tried to call you," Susan said.

"Betty is loyal to me," Stan reminded her. "She too, believed you were going to marry Ron."

"Let's never mention his name again," Susan suggested. "From now on it's going to be you and Betty and I, and just as soon as possible we'll find a husband for Betty. She's too sweet to be an old maid."

"Righto," Susan said brightly as Betty had done earlier in the evening and reached for the telephone.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

A READER has paid me a visit to talk about the Ice Ages. After learning where to locate me (something hard to do, since I travel a great deal), D. E. Hooker drove 25 miles to my present home, and we spent an hour going over the subject.

With him Hooker brought a letter which he had composed to present his viewpoint.

* * *

HERE is the substance of the letter:

"During each glacial period, ice enveloped the polar regions and extended several thousand miles toward the equator. There were millions of cubic miles of ice.

"The moisture which made the ice must have existed in the upper reaches of the air. Terrific heat would be needed to raise enough moisture from the ocean to supply the water for an ice sheet, and such heat would have destroyed life on earth.

"We know, however, that there was life before each glacial period, and this should make it clear that the water vapor was primordial. The water vapor must have been suspended above the earth for millions of years. When som of it fell as snow, it made th glaciers. Farther south it mus have fallen as rain, making flood such as Noah's. . . . A volum would be needed to expound th subject and answer the man questions which arise."

* * *

I AGREED with part of wha Hooker had to say, but suggeste that the rise of each glacial shee probably took several thousan years.

We have a constant rain-and snow system on this earth. Mi lions of tons of water vapor ris from the ocean each day. Late this vapor falls as rain or snow.

If more snow falls in winte than melts the next summer, a given place, and if this goes o for centuries, a glacier will ris at last.

With the snow packing dow into ice, and with an average ga of only six inches of ice each wi ter, the mound of ice would ris to a height of about half a mi in 5000 years.
